In the House of Representatives, February 25, 1935.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby directed to have printed, as a legislative document, three thousand copies of the First Class Township Law of June 24th, 1931, (P. Referred to the Committee on Boroughs and Townships.

By Mr. POWERS. RESOLUTION No. 69.

In the House of Representatives, February 25, 1935.

Whereas, The citizenry of Pennsylvania, while in no sense militaristic, have consistently believed sound and adequate National defense to be the best method of preventing war; and

Whereas, Large sums have been expended and are being expended by this Commonwealth for the maintenance and equipment of the National Guard; and

Whereas, Military training, compulsory and optional, has been introduced in many of our institutions of learning; and

Whereas, Organized and active pacific campaigns are being conducted in many Colleges and Universities directly antagonistic to the century old practice and belief by Pennsylvanians in preparedness; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly view with approval the adoption and continuance of military training in the Colleges and Universities within this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That this body urge upon such institutions the suppression of pacifistic teachings and propaganda within their halls of learning.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. SHUGARTS. RESOLUTION No. 70.

In the House of Representatives, February 25, 1935.

Whereas, The Honorable Gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary, made a statement in this House, stating why he was not going home over the week-end, and

Whereas, Later a resolution was introduced in this House by the Honorable Gentleman from Montour, Mr. Welliver, asking that the House work the full six days per week, and

Whereas, the press has been more or less panning the Members of this House ever since — several articles appearing in the newspapers relative to the above mentioned resolution, and

Whereas, The majority of the Members of this House realize the necessity of spending sometime with their respective families and constituents, and

Whereas, it costs considerable more to live in Harrisburg than it does at home, and

Whereas, We feel that probably those who would stay here all week are actuated more by other motives than by the legislation to be enacted.

Therefore, be it resolved, if the Members of this House agree, that the Speaker of the House appoint a special secret committee of three members, whose duty it shall be to watch over and report to this House the actions of those Members who are so desirous of staying in Harrisburg the full week.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, my colleague, Mr. Reising, and myself having voted with the majority on the vote taken by this House on House Bill No. 255 and having voted under a misapprehension and a misunderstanding, I offer the following motion and ask for its immediate consideration.

I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 255, Printer's No. 75, entitled:

An Act to prevent fraud and deception in the shipping, marketing and sale of anthracite coal; providing standards for anthracite coal; and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentlemen vote?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the majority.

Mr. REISING. I voted with the majority, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REISING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Beaver state what is the purpose of the reconsideration of the vote by which this bill was defeated on final passage?

Mr. REISING. Yes. The purpose of the motion to reconsider, Mr. Speaker, is to bring out clearly and distinctly whether or not there is a difference in the quality of the stripped coal and the coal that is not known as stripped coal.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman that if the reconsideration of this bill is granted, there is any intent to amend the bill to his knowledge?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, not to my knowledge.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Beaver state whether or not the bill would then be reconsidered in its original form as it was defeated yesterday?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, as far as I am concerned, yes.

Mr. MASON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I rise to oppose the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was defeated.

I simply wish to call your attention to the fact that last week, after I had spoken against the bill in question, it was placed upon the postponed calendar, that yesterday, subsequent to debate, the bill was defeated by a vote of eighty-six in favor as against one hundred and five in opposition to the bill, that there is no intent, according to the remarks of the gentleman from Beaver, to amend the bill so that it can be placed in proper form, and that, therefore, we are simply cluttering up the functions of this House by needless debate and needless argument upon a bill which has already been considered in the form in which it would again be reconsidered.

I, therefore, ask you to vote against the motion to reconsider.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. NAGLE and Mr. STARK and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 442, entitled:

An Act to permit certain cooperative associations to give chattel mortgages on rotating stocks of goods or inventories to secure loans from banks for cooperatives organized under the Farm Credit Act of 1933 or from Federal Intermediate credit banks organized under the Agricultural Credits Act of 1923

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the Act of March 2, 1933, enabling legislation was passed to permit the farmers and stock raisers of Pennsylvania to avail themselves of the Federal credit corporations, under the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Today we are offering House Bill No. 442 to expand the field of these credit corporations to apply to cooperative organizations of farmers and agriculturists. We are asking in the expansion of this field that farmers may band themselves together for the purchase of farm supplies and likewise for the marketing of farm products. It applies very much in the purchase of feeds, the purchase of fertilizers and in the marketing of potatoes and apples and several of the farm crops, but in addition it has a very potential field in the dairy industry. It permits cooperative dairy organizations over a flush period of milk production to pile up cream and butter in cold storage and from the fund borrowed on chattel mortgages to be able to pay the farmers for those products,

We are asking that the farmers of Pennsylvania be placed in the same category as the farmers of the other states in this credit field, namely Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, so that the benefits may accrue to those cooperative organizations operating for the benefit of these farmers in Pennsylvania as well as in the other states.

We of the agricultural group ask you to help in the passage on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 266, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending, and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing counties to appropriate moneys for the support of the Boy Scouts of America.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am heartily in sympathy with this great American movement. I have great admiration for the oath of the Boy Scouts and the activities they take in this line. I firmly believe that in fostering this Boy Scout movement we are building up the finest American citizens that is possible. We have here before us this morning a bill for our consideration, House Bill No. 266, which would make it possible for our county commissioners to allocate money to this wonderful movement, but there are things that we must consider in casting our vote on this bill.

Many of our counties are in poor straits owing to their inability to collect sufficient funds to carry on the activities of the county government. We have been sent here for the purpose of alleviating this situation. This movement of the Boy Scouts, you will understand, is very well taken care of. The Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club and community organizations are doing this job in a magnificent manner and I really believe that the Boy Scouts are not coming to us today holding their hands out and asking charity from our various counties.

Futhermore, in this Bill No. 266 there is no limitation whatever placed upon the amount that our county commissioners can give to this movement. Then there is another serious feature about this. There is great sympathy for the Boy Scout movement, and when the county commissioners are pressed for this they are put on the spot and politics will enter into it, and they will feel obliged to appropriate money which they do not have to spare from the county treasury for this movement, and which this movement does not need, but they will do so very often in order that they may secure votes for reelection or for some other political purpose.

Therefore, I ask you members of the House, not to penalize the Boy Scouts but to protect our county commissioners and not put them on the spot, but rather place ourselves on the spot as representatives and vote against this bill.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the remarks that were first, are thoroughly endorsed.

The Boy Scout movement need not be discussed upon the floor of this House, nor the needs for the scouting movement. I think that everyone is in accord. This bill does not in any way make it mandatory upon the Board of County Commissioners in any county to give or to appropriate funds for the Boy Scouts. It has been the policy in the past of some boards of county commissioners to make such contributions, and it has been the attitude of other boards of county commissioners to refrain from making such contributions, because there was no authority.

This bill does not purpose to do something for the Boy Scouts just at this time but this bill does allow the boards of county commissioners of this Commonwealth to so endorse and to so help the Boy Scout movement, when and where they may see fit.

The Boy Scout movement is not political. The Boy Scout movement never puts anyone on the spot, and the Boy Scout movement deserves approbation by a vote of this House for this bill. It in no way jeopardizes the financial condition of any county, and any board of county commissioners at any time can make such an appropriation or refrain from the same according to their own dictates, and according to the conditions as they see fit as would relate to their finances.

So, Mr. Speaker, I feel that this is a broad bill, that this bill does not in any way inflict upon the boards of county commissioners anything that would be derogatory or anything that should embarrass them in their position, and, gentlemen, I appeal to each and every one of you to vote "aye" on this bill as a bill that is worthy of your very serious consideration because of the very fact of what the Boy Scouts mean to this country. So, gentleman I ask you to vote "yes" to this bill.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my objections to this bill are twofold. I concur in the objection raised by the gentleman from Beaver and my further objection is that we should be slow in appropriating or passing legislation that will allow the public funds to be used by private organizations.

The Boy Scouts of America is a laudable organization. Its preamble and its constitution are worthy of all consideration, but organizations are controlled by men and not by the laws which they are sometimes supposed to represent.

In Allegheny County the Boy Scouts, through their executive officers, have not seen fit to treat all citizens alike and all boys alike, and I am opposed to any legislation that will allow the public funds to be used by organizations regardless of what the constitution of the organization may be that may make discrimination because of race, creed or color, and for that reason and in addition to reasons presented by the gentleman from Beaver County I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that today when people are starving is no time for us to appropriate money for a movement of this kind. We are merely passing the buck. We are passing the buck to the county commissioners and asking them to appropriate money, and you all know that pressure will be brought to bear upon those county commissioners by the powers that be to appropriate large sums for this movement. I think that we should not pass the buck to the county commissioners; therefore, we should vote down this bill in the House. We have people to feed. It is time to keep that money to feed the poor people and not help to send the buck back to the county commissioners to appropriate money in another way.

I ask every member to vote against this bill.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Boy Scouts of America are strong for the same reason that the Salvation Army is strong and that the Volunteer Firemen of this Commonwealth are strong. They are strong because they have been able to stand upon their own feet and support themselves as patriotic organizations. The moment that we patronize them, the moment that those organizations are given the opportunity to feed at the public crib, that moment they deteriorate to the point of becoming mercernary. We ruin the very cause that we try to uphold in this bill by the passage of anything that would permit the Boy Scouts or any of these humanitarian organizations to be supported from public funds.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in rising to further the remarks of my colleague from Bucks, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that we have shown the greatest liberality in appropriating moneys from time to time for various organizations of veterans of wars and for the support of members of military organizations. We have shown the greatest liberality in appropriating moneys to assist lawyers to investigate other lawyers. We have not been panicky about economy on many a measure which has come before this House. We are passing a lot of legislation at the present time which is going to hinder the employment of young people in the pursuit of commercial enterprizes. Here is a movement which offers a training to young people who are not permitted to be employed. The expense is not mandatory; it is optional to the counties whether they appropriate this money or not. I ask the members of this House to vote for this measure to allow, where necessary, the appropriation of money for these young soldiers of peace who may yet profit by that appropriation.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Should the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I again refer to the act of March 2, 1933, with the statement that when this act was passed it was obviously the intention of the legislative body of this Commonwealth and likewise the Governor that it should be inclusive of all farm crops. It did not state specifically that apples and fruit crops would be included in the provisions of this act. Since Cumberland, Adams and Franklin counties are in the heart of a great apple belt in the southern part of this Commonwealth, we of that group would like to have you consider the placing of the apple, peach and fruit crop, together with other specific crops, under the provisions of this act, so that we may benefit from these Federal lending agencies according to the provisions as outlined in House Bill 442.

I ask your support of this bill.

An Act to amend section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" as amended permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna river to the Wyoming-Luzerne County line

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred and twenty of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" which was last amended by section two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one thousand four hundred nineteen) is hereby further amended to read as follows

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose this bill because in the past when these eel chutes have been used, the privilege has been abused. The people using them have not only taken eels out of the streams but they have taken other fish as well. We have this circumstance up in counties close to Blair, where game fish have been taken out. I understand that this extension to the New York state line is not in a stream where game fish exist, but still it is an extension of an evil practice, and I believe that on that basis it should be defeated.

We also feel that the statute as it now exists should be repealed, and, therefore, I am asking you to vote "no" on this proposition, so that we can have the existing act repealed later on during this session.

Mr. SURFACE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been asked to give an epitome of the life history of the eel, especially inasmuch as it is touched upon by this proposed legislation.

The eel is a common inhabitant of our fresh waters. Let us start with it in our stream, where it lives beneath rocks, and logs and banks, in the shade and in the deeper water, feeding to a great extent on the spawn of fishes and upon such small creatures that it is able to catch and also, it must be acknowledged, that it is a scavenger. Here it lives until shortly after midsummer, when it is urged to go forward to its spawning beds.

I would like to call your attention to the effect, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that this resume that I am giving you now has never been given in print or by speech excepting once and that was two years ago before this House.

Shortly after mid-summer the eels start down stream in the beginning of their course to their spawning beds. At this time there is no difference whatever in the appearance between the male and the female eel. They have not developed their gonads to such an extent that eggs are found in them. Nobody ever saw eggs in a female ell taken from our fresh waters, but as they go down stream this is their last course downward, because they are journeying toward the ocean on their way to the great spawning beds out beyond the Bahama Islands, a thousand miles from our coasts where the water is three-fourths of a mile deep and elevated tableland of vast area. There they spawn. The anguilla rostrata is a species from the American waters; and the anguilla chryspa comes from European waters. Clear across the Atlantic they come to the spawning beds. They are found in immense numbers there. They spawn once and die. That is an important economic fact. After the eels go down from here they never return. The young eels were not known to be eels as they were caught in dredges for many, many years. In other words, they were given a different scientific name from the true eel, because they are so vastly different from the parent eels. After the parent eels die the young gain some strength and they start swimming toward the shore. They come on until they reach the shore of our continent, and there those young eels that are destined to become males remain along the shore of the sea. Those that are destined to become females when matured come up the stream. They are at the present time prevented by the great dams down in our river, and I predict, in parenthesis, that it will only be a few years when fishing for eels will be a thing of the past, unless we put fish ways in these great dams, which are now preventing their coming up the streams. It is stated and believed by many that the eels leave the waters by night, especially on rainy nights, and crawl out and around the dam, but as I have seen those dams that seems to me to be almost an impossibility. The young eels coming up the streams when coming into his region are not much larger than a led pencil. On up the streams they push their course until they become to the smaller branches of the upper waters, especially in the trout streams of the mountain regions in this state. There they feed on any kind of organic material and especially dead material and grow slowly from five to eight years. I think now that most of the eels coming down nearly all are developed individuals that went up before the great dams were constructed to prevent their upward progress. They live there in the small streams under stones, streams so small that your hands could stop them. They grow according to the amount of food they get. When they become large enough to be impelled to this downward course out to the spawning beds they start downward and as they rush downward it is with terrific force pell mell. Sometimes hurdling over one another like sticks of wood down the stream.

I have taken the eel in its course between the spawning beds upstreams where it spends its youth and down again in their migration. When once they haved passed down stream they are gone forever if the fisherman are not permitted to take them in the waters of this state. They do not get them at all because they go on and die. It is sometimes said that other fish besides eels are caught in the eel baskets, but this is rarely the case. I have conversed with many reliable persons who tell me that it is rarely the case that other fish than eels are caught in these baskets.

The eel fishing industry in the fresh waters in this state amounts to a very considerable item. I know one man who told me that he caught eels and held them in boxes, during the winter and sold six hundred dollars worth of eels from those caught during their downward migration. I know a student in Berwick, Pennsylvania, who paid his way through medical school by selling eels that he caught in the eel baskets during the downward migration. Is it right and just that we should allow this food to go downstream into the Maryland waters and there be caught and sent back to us as stale food at higher prices than our own fisherman would furnish it to us?

This bill, Mr. Speaker, merely provides for raising the upper limit of legal fishing for eels from Berwick, the borderline of Columbia and Luzerne counties, to the New York state line on the north branch of the Susquehanna river. Eel fishing is permitted in the Delaware river, in the Juniata and in the west branch of the Susquehanna up to the Lycoming County line and there is no economic reason, there is no scientific reason, my friends, why you should not permit the extension of catching eels as this bill provides.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is very little I can add to what my friend, Mr. Surface, has said, Professor Surface rather, but I feel that I should answer my colleague on the other side of the House who warns the members against voting for this bill because men who fish for eels will catch other game fish. I want to recall to the memory of the members that there are fish wardens all through the state for that purpose and that they will take care of the fishing.

I also want to quote a paragraph taken from Volume IV of Hornaday's American Natural History. It seems superfluous to identify this widely known naturalist who is the Director of the New York Zoological Park, and author of "Two Years in the Jungle," "Our Vanishing Wild Life," and so forth. He writes, "The eel is a very undesirable inmate of rivers in which fish are taken by means of gill-nets, the destruction of shad and herring in the waters of the Susquehanna and others farther south being enormous. It is not infrequent that when a gill-net is hauled up, the greater part of the catch consists of heads and backbones, the remainder being devoured by myriads of eels in the short time the net is left out. I fail to see any justification in protecting, in any manner, this rapacious scavenger and prolific breeder. The female lays an enormous number of eggs—estimated at ten million—preferably in salt water. The young enter fresh water and ascend the streams as far as they can go there to remain until sufficiently developed to feel the urge of procreation when they in turn descend the streams to the sea to deposit their eggs, thus completing the cycle of propagation."

Fishermen who enjoy the type of sport this bill calls for should not be denied that privilege so long as there is no danger of drying up the source of supply. I hope the members of this House can see their way clear to support this bill.

In conclusion I want to say that I am not a fisherman myself. I sponsored this bill at the request of a large number of fishermen from my district. I also want to add that in the larger part of the Susquehanna river there aren't many game fish; there are no other fish than eels and cat fish that can live in the greater part of those waters.

Mr. LARUE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was presented to extend eel fishing from the Luzerne-Wyoming County line. Up to that point the stream is polluted. Beyond that line to the New York state line it is the purest stream we have in the state of Pennsylvania. It is classed as the best bass fishing stream in the state of Pennsylvania.

At a meeting just held here recently by the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, they voted down this bill and the Fish Commission itself is opposed to this bill.

The gentleman has just stated that there were wardens for the purpose of prohibiting the taking of game fish. I might say that it would be absolutely impossible for any number of game wardens or fish wardens to properly watch these eel chutes and prevent the taking of our fresh water bass. Our Fish Commission has been working on legislation for a long time to lessen the chances of violations of laws of this kind and it would be an insult to the fishermen of Pennsylvania to enact into legislation such laws as this. It would be a detriment to our game fish in the state of Pennsylvania, and in the interest of good sportsmanship, I ask you to vote down this bill.

Mr. JAMES L. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have for years been a strong advocate of fish baskets, fish chutes for eels, for the reason that during my boyhood days, being born and raised along the Susquehanna river, I fished with fish baskets for a number of years.

In opposition to this bill I have heard it repeatedly said that they catch game fish out of the rivers wherever a fish basket is located. I want to say that I refute that argument; that in all my experiences in fishing with a fish basket, in all that time in about twenty years, I caught two bass and one salmon that came into that fish basket. If anybody will go with you to a fish basket that is being fished at night and watch them leap at the head of the fish basket, you will see that he snaps away (illustrating by snapping fingers) and he is gone. There is absolutely no foundation for the argument that game fish will go into a fish basket. I had that same argument up with our former fish commissioner, Mr. Buller. That was his argument. I asked him to cite to me a case where they were catching these game fish and he was never able to cite one. The only thing he said was that the sportsmen were against the fish basket. Now I don't know, but I suppose that all fish would come under the category of game fish. If anybody has ever gone out in years gone by with a gig they never tried to gig an eel. They will know they are not very game because they are very easy to gig.

The Juniata river divides Perry County and the Susquehanna flows along its eastern border. I know people in that county who have made their living in catching eels. As Mr. Surface said a few moments ago, whenever eels go down they never come back. I can see no reason or justifiable cause why these eels should go down around the bay, to Maryland waters, be caught and shipped back from there as stale food, and sell them to us at a higher price when our people here in Pennsylvania can catch them and sell them to us at a lower price.

I would like to ask this House to vote against this eel basket bill because I believe it is one of the best sources of food for the majority of our poor people and a lot of our laboring people that we have in the state of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 844, entitled:

An Act providing for the filling of vacancies which happened heretofore or which may hereafter happen in the office of mayor in cities of the second class.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Bill No. 844 is known to us Pittsburghers as a small ripper. The purpose of this bill is to prevent the present chairman of the city council to occupy the mayor's chair in case the present mayor of the city of Pittsburgh happens to be ripped out of office. In other words it is to make way for Bill No. 752—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not confining himself to the bill. He is speaking on another bill, which is irrelevant and not connected with this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the bill now before the House.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I thought that I was speaking on the bill. I wanted to explain to the members the purpose of the bill. It is connected with a bill which will soon be on the floor of the House known as No. 752, or the major ripper.

I feel that the members of this House should not be concerned with what goes on in Pittsburgh. I feel that the citizens of that city can take care of their town. I also feel that this is special legislation that we should not attempt to mess with, because we just don't know how far it is going to go or where it is going to end.

I ask the members of this House to give this bill their sincerest consideration and to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman show me where in this bill there is a provision that will prevent the president of council from becoming mayor?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, the act in itself will prevent him from becoming mayor until the end—until the next election, rather. I didn't express myself correctly.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask: Is it not a fact that if the majority of council voted for the president of council that he would become the mayor?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, kindly repeat that question?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, my question was, if this bill were enacted into law and if a majority of council voted for the president of council, wouldn't he become the mayor?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I feel that is beyond the question. The citizens of Pittsburgh have gotten along with their present system until this time and they feel that they can continue to do so.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please answer the last question "yes" or "no."

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I don't think that such an answer would be fair.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, House Bill No. 844 would not prevent the president of council from becoming mayor. Under the present charter in case of a vacancy in the last year of the term of a mayor, the president of city council becomes acting mayor for thirty days, after which time council meets and duly elects a mayor. This bill merely provides that that same procedure be taken in other than the last year, and I ask the members to support this bill.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, may I interrograte the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TRONZO. Is it not so, Mr. O'Keefe, that the bill was not introduced until the present mayor of the city of Pittsburgh made the assertion that he would resign if the major ripper were to be passed by the Senate.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. RUTH. Certainly.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, the amendments to be proposed in the Senate are to Amend Section 4, Page 4, Line 16 by adding after the word "or" the following: "Except messenger boys employed by telegraph companies at offices where one such minor is employed as a messenger in which case such minor shall not be employed for more than six consecutive days in any one week or more than 54 hours in any one week or more than 9 hours in any one day."

Amend Section 21, Line 26 by adding after the word "schedule" the following: "Provided however that in the case of messenger boys employed by telegraph companies such schedule may be varied in accordance with business on hand so long as a minor is not employed a greater number of hours than prescribed by law."

May I explain to the House that the provisions of this bill would make certain messenger companies or telegraph companies violate the law. This refers to the amendment to section four.

In the smaller communities where only one messenger of a telegraph company is employed, their problem is one of hours rather than load,—in other words, it is a question of providing messenger service over a given spread of hours rather than of handling any specified number of messages.

The period of service in such communities is not over 9 hours a day or 54 hours a week and yet there is no warrant or need for the employment of more than one messenger. If the hours during which the messenger is employed are less than those during the hours the office is open they would be severely handicapped in rendering a complete telegraph service.

Messengers employed in this class of office are not continuously engaged but have opportunities for rest and relaxation. To meet the peculiar needs of the telegraph in the communities I feel justified in urging that the Bill be amended so as to provide for a maximum of 9 hours a day and 54 hours a week.

The second explanation applies to the second amendment. I would like to point out that the bill as now written would impose a serious hardship on telegraph companies because of the peculiar nature of their business.

While minors employed as messengers are required to work regular assigned hours their work consist of separate tasks varying greatly in number and duration. It is rarely possible at the beginning of each separate task to determine accurately how long a period will be required for its completion. Strict compliance with the provisions of the bill will therefore be extremely difficult or even impossible, especially during storms, disasters, emergencies and the uncertainty of the flow of telegraph business.

Under the circumstances I feel justified in urging that the bill be amended so as to allow a reasonable departure from the assigned hours, it being understood of course that the maximum number of hours permissible will not be exceeded.

I intend to vote "aye" on this bill and in view of Mr. Ruth's answer I shall not obstruct the passage of this bill but ask the House to vote "aye".

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was up for consideration last night there was a statement made, or at least implied, that the newspaper publishers urged a fifty-one hour week for their newspaper carriers. That is not the case. I wish to call your attention to page five in which it says, "In computing the maximum number of hours per day or per week permitted under this act the hours spent in school by said minors shall be considered as part of the working day or working week."

In fairness to the publishers of the state I wish to state to the members of the House that they are in perfect sympathy with limited hours of labor for boys and at no time would they ask for a fifty-one hour working week

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

STATEMENT BY MR. McCREARY

Mr. McCREARY asked and obtained consent to make the following statement:

I want to precede my statement by asking three questions. You are not supposed to answer the questions, and all they are for is just to lead your thoughts in the direction that I want you to think. This is what they call the "Socratic" method of instruction by asking questions in order to impart information.

Question one is this: Have any of the members of this House ever thought what they would do under certain circumstances if they were President of these United States?

Question two is: Have you ever thought what you would do under certain circumstances if you were the Governor of this State?

Question three is: Have you ever thought what you would do under certain circumstances if you were the Speaker of this House?

Mr. Speaker, please be assured that not one word that I say is meant in discourtesy to you.

I have repeatedly thought what I would do if I were the Speaker of this House, especially when the Clerk calls the roll. I taught school one time and I called the roll every morning, and if I had had an 8 year old boy who didn't know enough to sit up and answer to his name I would have thrown him out of the window.

I have a Collie dog up home and I taught him to sit up on his haunches and speak when I call his name. It does seem strange that representatives, legislators do not at least know as much as an eight year old boy or a collie dog.

This is a very serious matter with me for this reason: If I was that Indian Chief up there on the wall I would say the eloquent things Indian Chiefs always say; "The snows of many winters have passed over my head; many moons have come and gone since I was a little papoose beside my mother's wigwam; if I wanted to hear the hoot of the owl and the song of the birds I would have to get closer than I did forty years ago."

The committee when it charted this House gave me seat 89. Seat 89 happens to be the storm center of this House. I sit between two Democrats on one side and two Republicans on the other. I am just between the Devil and the deep sea. If there is no racket on the one side there is on the other. I am free to tell you that I am hearing distinctly only about half of the proceedings of this House, and I would not hesitate to wager that there is not half the members of this House hear more than half of the proceedings.

If I were the Speaker I would find a way to keep this House quiet. I have two or three expedients in mind. The first one I would try would be this: I would make it a rule when the Clerk called the roll that anybody that didn't answer to his name and got up and said Mr. Speaker, I didn't hear my name called. I wish to be recorded as voting "aye" would be fined forty dollars, because he wastes a minute of the time of this house every time that happens. Do you members know that this House in session is costing the taxpayers of this state forty dollars a minute. Take your pencil and figure it up. Two hundred and eight members receiving twenty five hundred dollars each, makes five hundred twenty thousand dollars. The average session is about twenty weeks in length. You divide five hundred twenty thousand dollars by twenty and you have twenty six thousand dollars; you divide twenty six thousand dollars—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please make his remarks as brief as possible. The hour is late.

Mr. McCREARY. You can do the rest of the figuring, but it costs the taxpayers of this state forty dollars a minute and then some, because that is only figuring your salaries and is not figuring stenographers, heat and light carfare and a lot of other things.

Now then I contend that there should be, there must be some way of keeping this House quite, and I would do it if I had to go to two or three funerals to do it.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct the record you have of my voting. On Bill 844, there was an amendment offered by Mr. Tronzo striking out the word "resignation." According to the paper I am recorded as having voted in favor of that amendment. I voted against it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would request the gentleman to state whether he got that information from the record or from the newspapers.

Mr. HOLLAND. From the record. I would like to have the record corrected.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, February 18th, 1935.

The taxing of fuel used in the operation of motor vehicles has, from its earliest inception, been considered justified because of the dedication of funds arising therefrom to the construction and maintenance of modern smooth surfaced highways, especially enjoyed by those who are called upon to pay the tax.

The government of the United States now exacts one hundred and seventy millions of dollars during each year from this source of taxation, which is expended for general governmental purposes, which sum should properly be diverted to the several states for use upon their highways.

Fourteen States of this Union already have petitioned their Senators and Representatives in Congress in an effort to bring about an abolition of the Federal tax on motor vehicle fuels, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact appropriate Federal legislation to forthwith abolish the Federal tax of one cent per gallon on motor vehicle fuels.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this Senate.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Highways.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. LYNCH RESOLUTION No. 71.

In the House of Representatives, February 26, 1935.

Unemployment, which has rested its heavy hand upon the people of our Commonwealth during the period of the past four or five years, is the greatest tragedy of the day, and must be met and relieved in so far as it is humanly possible.

The Nation, the State, its political subdivisions and private agencies, have and are expending millions—nay, billions of dollars to this end, and still the funds available are sufficient only to meet the barest necessities of those who are actually in need of assistance.

There are those, who, even in the face of most pitiful disaster, will and do steal from and rob the helpless that their own conditions may be bettered. Among these are the unscrupulous individuals who being of sufficient means to maintain themselves and their dependents in whole or in part, apply for and receive unemployment relief in amounts larger than is necessary for their immediate needs, thereby leaving their neighbors utterly destitute; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives, not unappreciative of the magnitude of the task before the State Emergency Relief Board and its subordinate agencies, is of the opinion that greater care is needed in the selection of the persons entitled to relief, and that more effective efforts should be made in recovering back moneys expended in unemployment relief to persons not entitled thereto, and in putting to shame, and, if possible, to inflict punishment upon such persons; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives urges these necessities upon the State Emergency Relief Board and upon all of its subordinate agencies, and request that investigations be made more thorough and painstaking, and that no means be overlooked to bring to justice the undeserving parasites who, through their greed, deprive those who are really in need; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House transmit copies of this resolution to each member of the State Emergency Relief Board and to each county relief board.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

NAYS—2

Andrews,	O'Neill,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 853, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1643), entitled "An act relating to the collection of city, county, school, and poor taxes within the territorial limits of cities of the second class A; establishing the office of collector of taxes therein; defining its duties and powers; changing the powers of and imposing duties upon cities of the second class A, counties, school districts and poor districts, and the officers thereof; and imposing penalties."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to direct your attention to the fact that the measure now before you applies only to the cities of the second class A, namely, Scranton.

The bill provides for the issuing of a single tax statement of all the taxes collected within the territorial limits of the city of Scranton. It further provides for the collection of those taxes in quarterly installments and allows for the same penalties and discounts as now provided by law.

In 1929 the General Assembly passed the single tax office act applying to the city of Scranton. This act has resulted in a great saving to the taxpayers of the city of Scranton, and the bill now before you further simplifies the collection of these taxes and it will result in a great convenience to the taxpayers of the city of Scranton.

I might add that it has the approval of the entire delegation in this House, both Republican and Democratic, from Lackawanna county and it has the whole hearted support of the taxpayers of the city of Scranton and in their name I urge you to vote "aye" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 275, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand one hundred twenty of the act approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs, and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," providing for and regulating joint sewer improvements.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 275 and the three following bills are relate to the same subject.

There have been a number of questions asked me by members of the House concerning these bills, and I, therefore, felt that I would like to make a very brief statement in reference to them for the guidance of the members of the House.

They are all a part of a plan to enable municipalities to enter into voluntary agreements—the agreements are voluntary—for the purpose of setting up joint sewer boards and the advantages are two-fold: in the first place, to make it possible for public works to take advantage of any Federal funds that may be available in Pennsylvania; and in the second place, to promote the abolition of stream pollution, which is uppermost in the minds of sportsmen and of many conservationists in Pennsylvania at the present time.

They merely provide a more efficient way of doing what the municipalities can do now and it is entirely permissive: it provides merely for voluntary agreements, and as these measures pertain to large public works that are desired in many parts of Pennsylvania and will aid the municipalities and will be a step in the elimination of stream pollution. I ask the members to vote "aye" on these four bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. CANNON. RESOLUTION No. 72.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1935.

Whereas, The Northeast Section of the City of Philadelphia being an important section of the industrial Northeast District of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia has on its files a complete survey together with a comprehensive plan for the rehabilitation of Frankford Creek; and

Whereas, There is need for an adequate highway from the Northeast Section of Philadelphia to the center of the city, therefore, the opening of Aramingo Boulevard and the repaving of Aramingo Boulevard and the repaving of East Lehigh Avenue B Street to Richmond Street and is still being requested; and

Whereas, The serious pollution of the Delaware River exists along the banks and docks due to the low capacity of the sewage disposal plant in the Forty-fifth ward, therefore, the said Northeast Section is still on the map seeking improvements necessary; and

Whereas, employment still sought by those in distress, the projects requested would grant an opoprtunity to obtain domestic happiness by granting employment for the person willing to work.

Resolved, That the rehabilitation of the Frankford Creek, the opening of Aramingo Boulevard, the repaving of Aramingo Boulevard and Lehigh Avenue, and the enlargement of the city sewage treatment plant, be included in the inventory of the public projects as an economic value in this community in addition creating employment urging the Pennsylvania State Public Works administration to approve these projects; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Pennsylvania State Public Works Administration by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Referred to the Committee on Cities.

By Mr. STOCKHAM (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 73.

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1935.

Whereas, The Federal Government, in order to alleviate unemployment, is developing various useful public works; and

Whereas, There are many water projects which, if developed, would prove beneficial to Pennsylvania and to its citizens, and aid in the development of commerce; and

Whereas, There has been reported, by the Board of Engineers of the United States Army, under House Document No. 308, 69th Congress, a plan for thirty-two reservoirs projected for power and flood control in the Delaware and Lehigh River Valleys; and

Whereas, There has also been reported and recommended by the same Board of Engineers, as contained in House Document No. 24, 73rd Congress, 2nd Sessions, the deepening and the widening of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal to a ship canal at an estimated cost of $12,500,000; and

Whereas, A Special Board's report, as published in House Document No. 219, 73rd Congress, 2nd Session, details a survey of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey at an estimated N. I. R. A. cost of $210,000,000, a second Panama Canal in importance to the East; and

Whereas, The Lehigh Valley area embraces one of the largest steel manufacturing districts in the country, employing 26,000 people, with $200,000,000 invested in homes and $100,000,000 invested in works; and

Whereas, This same district has a potential investment of upwards of $50,000,000 in cement plants, including moderate progressive replacements, producing in prosperous times 20,000,000 barrels of cement at a production value of $37,000,000; and

Whereas, This same area produces in a normal year 26,000,000 tons of anthracite coal at a production value of $114,400,000, with an estimate of 6,000,000,000 tons of unmined coal appraised at a wealth of $13,000,000,000; and

Whereas, All steel manufacturing plants are seeking water transportation facilities for the more economical handling of their raw materials; and

Whereas, It is reported that the Bethlehem Steel Company has lately invested $20,000,000 in new plants at Buffalo to thus secure such an outlet; and

Whereas, These great industries in the Lehigh Valley and many others in this rich and populous area are hampered by water competitive rates enjoyed by similar industrial plants in other parts of the country, thus denying added returns in earnings to the people of this district, endangering the continuance of the steel industry, restricting the development of the cement industry and excluding our anthracite coal from the New England markets; and

Whereas, The Delaware River water shed, with its numerous industrial cities is served by a vast net work of power lines operated by public utilities able to distribute additional power capable of being generated in this area, at little or no additional cost for distribution; and

Whereas, These plans leave out a most important link in this comprehensive development of this great Valley, namely, the canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville in Bucks County to Easton in Northampton County to provide water navigation for the industries and cities in the Lehigh River area; particularly to serve the production of cement and coal and to save this great steel industry to this Commonwealth, thus protecting and benefiting 250,000 people depending directly or indirectly upon these industries; and

Whereas, These projects will put thousands of men to work on construction and other thousands in the manufacture and delivery of materials; and

Whereas, Such a comprehensive all-inclusive Public Works Project of the Delaware River Basis will serve a dense industrial area of upward of 20,000,000 Americans and benefit more people than any other plan under way or contemplated in the whole United States; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the President of the United States to consider the advisability and feasibility of including within the Public Works program the following projects:

(a) The construction of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey from the Delaware River to the Raritan River;

(b) The development of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal into a ship canal;

(c) The canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville to Easton;

(d) The development in Pennsylvania of works for flood control and water power looking to a practical and equitable arrangement with the public utilities for distribution of power through the area that shall promise the ultimate ammortization of the capital investment; and be it further

Resolved, If the Governor approve this resolution, he be respectfully requested to urge upon the President the construction of such public works; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Forestry.

Kingdoms have risen and fallen at Thy command. History teaches us that the nations which have endured are those that have followed Thee and obeyed Thy commands. Happy and prosperous have been the people whose god was the Lord.

Our land, O Father, was established upon the precepts of Thy Word. Our founders feared Thee and fought for the right. Help us to follow in their train and to build wisely upon the foundations laid by them.

RESOLUTION CONCERNING TAX EXEMPTION OF PUBLIC SECURITIES

Whereas, There is an alarming growth in the volume of tax exempt governmental securities; and

Whereas, Any plan for the alleviation of federal-state conflicts is seriously handicapped by the necessity of higher rates on a narrowed tax base, which in many instances cannot be accurately estimated for budgetary purposes; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Second Interstate Assembly deplores the growth volume of tax exempt securities and salaries of public officials and employees—federal, state and local, and recommends that these tax exemptions should be removed to broaden the tax base, secure a more equitable distribution of the tax load and to promote the use of money in industry rather than to provide an inert refuge for moneyed capital.

Unanimously Adopted

TAXATION OF PRIVATE PROPERTY IN GOVERNMENTAL RESERVATIONS

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Interstate Assembly that the federal government, through Congress, should grant to the several states jurisdiction to tax privately owned physical property located in government reservations situated within the boundaries of such states, and to tax individuals residing on such reservations on their incomes or intangible personal property unless it is shown that they are taxed thereon eleswhere.

Resolution passed by Second Interstate Assembly

RESOLUTION ON TAX REVISION COUNCIL

Be it Resolved, That the Second Interstate Assembly requests that the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation organize a Tax Revision Council to study the problem of multiple taxation by competing units of government and the closely related problem of determining the functions that can best be performed by the federal government and those that more properly fall to the states and their sub-divisions. The Assembly requests that the Council, with the assistance of such advisory committees and technical staff as it may deem appropriate, conduct a joint investigation and report its recommendations. The Assembly suggests that it would be highly appropriate for the said Council to be composed of:

(a) Seven officials representative of the federal government, namely:

The General Counsel, the Assistant General Counsel in charge of tax legislation, and the Director of Research and Statistics of the Treasury Department; the Chairman of the Subcommittee on Double Taxation of the House Committee on Ways and Means and one other Congressman designated by the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means; and the Chairman of the subcommittee on Double Taxation of the Senate Finance Committee and one other Senator designated by the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee;

(b) Seven officials representative of state government, namely:

Legislators and administrative officers of states, designated by the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation;

(c) Seven officials representative of local units of government, namely:

Four legislative and executive officials of municipalities, appointed as follows: one by the United States Conference of Mayors, one by the American Municipal Association, one by the International City Managers' Association, and one by the Municipal Finance Officers' Association; and three officials of counties and of units of rural government other than counties designated by the Speaker of the Interstate Assembly.

All members of the Council not serving ex-officio shall serve until January 1, 1937, and thereafter until their successors are designated. The term for which each appointive member of the Council is designated shall extend to January 1st of the next odd-numbered year and thereafter until his successor is appointed.

To the end that the organization of this Council may be consummated at the earliest possible time, the Chairman and the Secretary of the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation are hereby directed to confer with Congressional officials, with the Secretary of the Treasury, and if opportunity offers, with the President of the United States; and they are authorized to make such changes in this plan as they may deem proper in the light of such conferences.

RESOLUTION PASSED AT SECOND INTERSTATE ASSEMBLY

Appropriation for Interstate Reference Bureau

Resolved, That the Second Interstate Assembly do hereby urge their respective Delegates in Congress to support the proposed appropriation of $40,000.00 to the Interstate Reference Bureau for the current year; and

Be it further Resolved, That a copy of the resolution be sent to each member of Congress from the several states.

Resolution on State and Local Tax Studies

Be it Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that each state should provide for the tabulation and publication of complete statistics of state and local taxation, expenditures, and debt; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of this body that each state should cooperate as fully as possible with the United States Bureau of the Census in perfecting the reporting on a comparative basis of the statistics of state and local government; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that each state should from time to time make a thorough-going investigation of its own state and local tax system. In order to facilitate this investigation, as well as to render possible intelligent appraisal of the financial activities of government and effective state and local administration, each state should provide for the continual analysis of the fiscal affairs; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that responsible state officials should consider initiating and advancing their financial statistics and reporting by developing work relief projects designed to bring together a comprehensive picture of state and local revenues. To insure comparative results from such studies, the Assembly requests that the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation provide staff facilities for outlining a general plan for use in each state.

Memorial to Congress for Reprinting Double Taxation Report

Resolved, That this Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States requesting the speedy publication of a second edition of the report on Double Taxation of the Ways and Means Sub-committee on Double Taxation and that copies of that report and other reports of the Sub-committee be made available for use of the members of this Interstate Assembly and of the respective state governments and legislatures.

Congressional Enabling and Consenting Act Respecting Interstate Compacts

Be it Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that the Congress of the United States should pass a general enabling and consenting act respecting compacts negotiated between two or more states affecting interstate tax conflicts and not affecting the fiscal interest of the Federal Government.

Unanimously Adopted.

Vacancies in I. C. C. T.

Be it Resolved, That all vacancies in the membership of the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation created by retirement of its members from public office or otherwise shall be filled by the Speaker of the Interstate Assembly.

Resolution Re Federal Highway Act

The Second Interstate Assembly calls to the attention of Congress and the state legislatures the principle incorporated in Section 12 of the Federal Highway Act of 1934. The Assembly seriously questions the desirability of this form of federal control of state financial and administrative machinery.

In this section Congress undertook to direct the expenditure of state revenues as a condition for receiving federal highway aid. Further diversion of motor vehicle tax or gas tax funds by state governments is in effect prohibited. This provision constitutes an unprecedented federal interference with state fiscal policy—an interference to which the attention of the Interstate Assembly may well be directed. A copy of this section is appended here.

"SECTION 12. Since it is unfair and unjust to tax motor-vehicle transportation unless the proceeds of such taxation are applied to the construction, improvement, or maintenance of highways, after June 30, 1935, Federal aid for highway construction shall be extended only to those States that use at least the amounts now provided by law for such purposes in each State from State motor vehicle registration fees, licenses, gasoline taxes, and other special taxes on motor-vehicle owners and operators of all kinds for the construction, improvement, and maintenance of highways and administrative expenses in connection therewith, including the retirement of bonds for the payment of which such revenues have been pledged, and for no other purposes, under such regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture shall promulgate from time to time: Provided, That in no case shall the provisions of this section operate to deprive any State of more than one-third of the amount to which that State would be entitled under any apportionment hereafter made, for the fiscal year for which the apportionment is made."

Resolution Regarding Personal Income Taxes

Be it Resolved,

1. That the Second Interstate Assembly recommends federal enactment of legislation allowing a credit against the federal individual income tax for state individual income taxes and other state and local taxes of a personal nature paid or accrued;

2. That a graduated plan be used to allow a substantial credit for lower incomes and a smaller credit for larger incomes, for example, about 75 per cent of the aggregate of the credits for taxes on incomes below $10,00 and 25 per cent on incomes above $10,000. The percentages selected should provide a total credit of approximately $150,000,000.

3. That the additional federal revenue to replace the federal credit allowed to taxpayers for state taxes be secured by some one or more of the following:

a. Inclusion of dividend income in the federal tax base as completely as other income;

b. Amendment of federal and state constitutions to permit the taxation of income from tax-exempt securities and of salaries of officials and employees of the federal, state, and local governments;

c. Reduction of personal exemptions, including elimination of the earned income credit;

d. Allowance of personal exemptions and credits for dependents in terms of tax.

Federally-Administered State-Shared Sales Tax

In view of the fact that some 26 states have been forced through emergency conditions to resort to sales taxes, and in view of the complications in the administration of such tax measures, due to state lines and inter-state commerce limitations, it is the sense of this Second Interstate Assembly that the Federal Government should impose a general emergency sales tax upon a national basis allocating a substantial portion of the revenue therefrom upon an equitable basis, to the several states.

Resolution for the Third Interstate Assembly

Your Committe on permanent plans for the Assembly recommends that the executive boards of the American Legislator's Association and the Council of State Governments be empowered to select the time and place for the meeting of the Interstate Assembly in 1937.

And your Committee further recommends that the meeting of the Third Interstate Assembly be held in the National Capitol or in the city where the headquarters of the American Legislators' Association are located.

Chairman: Hon. W. H. O'Gara, Nebraska
Vice-Chairman: Senator John C. Blackall, Connecticut
Senator Austin L. Calef, New Hampshire
Hon. H. J. Chance, Florida
Hon. W. J. Eggert, South Dakota
Senator Charles D. Green, Nebraska
Hon. Earl H. Hill, Oregon
Hon. Lucy S. Howorth, Mississippi
Senator John J. Jones, Georgia
Senator Keith Lawrence, Ohio
Hon. J. H. Thayer Martin, New Jersey
Hon. P. W. Meekins, North Carolina
Senator Andrew L. Moore, Michigan
Hon. Joseph M. Moorer, South Carolina
Senator James C. Scanlan, Massachusetts
Hon. Fred L. Zimmerman, New York
Secretary: George C. S. Benson

Your Committee suggests that those having in charge the program for the Interstate Assembly give consideration to the inclusion in that program of a full discussion of the European system of taxing real property and the adoption by the several states of a tax system, so far as it relates to real property, which will be based upon ability to pay.

Your Committee on permanent plans for the Interstate Assembly suggests that the program of the Third Assembly should include three or four subjects of current legislative interest.

Your Committee further suggests that liquor and crime control, social security and such questions of vital importance as may arise during the next two years be considered for the program of the Third Interstate Assembly.

W. H. O'GARA, Chairman,
A. L. MOORE,
AUSTIN L. CALEF,
J. H. THAYER MARTIN.

Resolution re Gasoline Tax

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that the federal government retire not later than June 30, 1935, from the field of motor fuel taxation and leave that field to the states and their localities.

Resolution Re: Beer Taxes

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that the states and local governments refrain from imposing heavy taxes on beer unless they impose such taxes for regulatory purposes.

Resolution Re Tobacco Taxes

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that no additional tobacco taxes be adopted by the states for revenue purposes.

Resolution Re Electric Energy

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that electric energy taxes, which have long been sources of state revenues, should be reserved for the exclusive use of the states.

Simplicity and Uniformity in Revenue Legislation and Administration

Resolved, That pending the development of a more comprehensive program for harmonizing conflicting tax laws and avoiding duplicate taxation, it is the sense of the Second Interstate Assembly that legislative bodies, in enacting revenue legislation and administrative officials in interpreting such statutes and developing administrative procedure and forms of reports, strive for simplicity and uniformity.

To the extent this is effectively done, taxpayers will not be annoyed and irritated, compelled to unnecessarily spend in the aggregate huge sums in complying with the widely different requirements of several taxing jurisdictions and the honest ethical taxpayer will not suffer because his less scrupulous competitor intentionally takes advantage of the lack of uniformity in the interpretation of substantially similar statutes, for example, such things as rulings as to what are and what are not essential governmental activities.

Study of the Distribution of Tax Burden

Whereas, The problem of securing a fair contribution to the cost of state and local government by owners of intangible property has not received recent comprehensive study; and

Whereas, The distribution of the tax load has been materially altered by the developments of the past few years; and

Whereas, The problem is one directly involving interstate competition and conflict of tax jurisdiction; and

Whereas, The present system of taxation has been found to be obsolete, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Interstate Commission on Conflicting Taxation either directly or by reference is hereby requested to investigate carefully the entire problem of the distribution of the tax load between owners of intangible property and other persons with a view toward formulating a new tax system, under which taxes will be assessed according to the theory of ability to pay; and in particular to estimate the feasibility of securing the joint action of two or more states in order that states imposing taxes on intangible personal property or the income therefrom may be protected from the competition of other states, and in order that the possibility of relieving real estate tax burden by this means may be convassed. Adopted.

Resolution Regarding Subjects to be Considered by Third Interstate Assembly

Resolved, That for the next Interstate Assembly the officers of the Assembly broaden their program to include subjects of interstate conflicts to the end that the interest of our members be maintained and enlivened.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if we read the program of the present expenditures, that has been prepared for us by the Governor's office, we will find that there is contemplated the necessary expenditure of some $355,000,000.00 in the next biennium. A further analysis of that program would indicate that of that sum $150,000,000.00 constitutes the normal and anticipated expenditures year to year. In addition to that $150,000,000.00 there are $35,212,692,50 that have been added to our expenditures as follows: by Old Age Pensions, in the amount of $20,000,000.00, by Pensions to the Blind in the amount of $3,115,000.00, by funded debt in the amount of $10,347,692.50, and the $1,750,000.00 additional expenditures by the Department of Revenue for the purpose of collecting the contemplated tax program. That makes a total of $185,815,301.50.

We are told also, in the same budget message, that $49,800,000.00 is a heritage from the last administration, made up of appropriations for the blind, for Old Age Pension Relief, and for deficiencies of extra minor matters, totalling $49,800,000.00.

We are also told that we will require a minimum of $120,000,000.00 to take care of the relief program for the next two years, or a total of $355,000,000.00.

We are told that the normal income of our regular taxes collected for the past two years will amount to approximately $128,000,000.00; that there is expected $11,000,000.00 of floor tax from the liquor stores; that we are expecting $3,000,000.00 additional from the Dorrance Estate; and that we hope to make $10,000,000.00 profit out of the liquor stores in the next two years. That gives us a total of $152,000,000.00. The additional $203,000,000.00 that will be necessary for the next two years is expected to be raised from a program expressed in the budget as constituting twenty-two items.

In the past two weeks, since the tax program was announced—I am sure my situation is no different from that of the rest of the members of this Senate—we have been flooded with protests of all kinds from persons who seem to be, or who may be, affected by the various tax propositions. I am not unaware of the fact that a great deal of this correspondence in inspired; and I am also aware of the fact that a great many of these letters have been sent by persons who understand, or, at least, really feel, that the imposition of taxes will at all times mean great distress to them. And while it may be necessary to relieve the distress of the unemployed, on one hand, it certainly is equally important not to distress those who are running factiries and industries on the other hand.

But everybody must admit, after having listened to the Governor tonight and after having examined this budget, —if they spend a few minutes' time, that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is certainly in a situation that requires careful, non-political consideration. I want to say frankly, on this floor, that while the Governor was not my candidate, he is my Governor, and as far as I am concerned I am willing to accept his suggestions as far as possible to bring about relief of the condition which confronts us, in any way that I can. I do not pretend that I am going to solve the problem; it will take more than one mind to do it; but so far as possible for me I think that I am frank enough to say, on the floor of this Senate, that I am willing—and should be willing—to help.

There is another important element in the whole situation, and that is this: all these figures as to anticipated revenue are estimates. Some of the expenditures are certainties, and some are problematical. The anticipated income from regular tax collection is only an estimate, and it seems obvious there are two things that are essential: First, to stop any leaks from the coming estimates; and the second proposition is to propose some means of providing the funds.

Now, there has been a great deal said about playing politics. I am quite sure that on the other side of the House, if reports are true, there has been ample evidence of it; and we can justly complain, whether we be Republicans or Democrats.

Ie is rumored througnout the halls of this Assembly that no Republican bill will be sent forth from the House, while on the other hand, here in the Senate we have cooperated with our Democratic brothers in every respect. You will find on the calendar bills on final passage bearing the names of Democratic Senators and the Democratic Senators will admit that we Republicans have been helpful in working our problems with them. In the House, on the other hand, the first appropriation bill which was presented by a Republican asking that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania repay to the citizens of Philadelphia $12,000.00 which they had advanced for the purpose of preparing plans for the Delaware River Bridge, was first reported out by the Appropriation Committee and then returned. We, on the other hand, in the Senate are accused that we are delaying action on the Constitutional Convention and that we are not offering any remedy but are criticizing the tax program proposed.

I believe that those of us who know Senator Owlett, are willing to say that he is honestly trying to perform in the best way he knows how a very important task, the task of solving the problem of the Constitutional Convention, and of listening to those who have anything to say and of giving them a full hearing. I am quite sure that when he has finished with his work—and we know it will be soon—that everyone will agree that he has acquitted himself to the benefit of the people whom he represents.

But there is one thing obvious from what I heard the Governor say tonight and that is that money must be made available immediately for the needs of the Commonwealth, because $128,000,000.00 means approximately $5,000,000.00 a month to run the government; it leaves no money for relief; it leaves no money for any extra functioning, only for governmental functioning. And therefore there should be some means provided for the purpose of filling that gap until some solution can be reached for the problem that confronts us; and at the conclusion of my remarks I am going to ask leave of this Senate to introduce some legislation.

The first legislation that I propose, along the lines that I have discussed, is for the purpose of preventing the leaks and making unnecessary the increase in one form of taxation which has been suggested by the Governor. The Governor has suggested that we increase the four mills personal property tax to five mills. I think that if we amend the law in accordance with the act which I propose we shall make unnecessary that increase. I am quite sure that most of the members of this Senate are familiar with the fact that under our personal property tax law no one is obliged to file a personal property return if he does not care to. If he does not file it, those in charge of the collection of the personal property tax will file one for him, and if he likes the figures he pays the tax and files no return of his own. If he does not like the figures, he complains.

Now, the legislation I purpose introducing to stop that would make the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with regard to personal property tax, conform to the laws of the Government of the United States, and thus make it obligatory for every citizen to file a personal property return; make it a criminal offense if he files no return or if he files an improper return. And then, in order that we may have a little time to deliberate on the question of taxation, I purpose offering in this Senate a bill which I am quite sure is going to provoke a great deal of discussion, and perhaps meet with a great deal of opposition,— because I am going to fool with that which has been termed sacred.

Tonight the Governor suggested that we borrow $3,000,000.00 from the Motor License Fund. If you look at this report you will find that in the two years—1927 and 1929, we spent $67,000,000.00 on maintenance and new construction of highways in Pennsylvania. In 1929 and 1931 we jumped to $100,000,000.00. In the last two years we spent $106,000,000.00, and, according to the present program, there is going to be $113,000,000.00 spent on concrete roads and maintenance of highways. And while it is true that some people think that fund is sacred, I think, for the purposes of our present problem, there is nothing more sacred than the interest and safety of the citizens of this Commonwealth; and I suggest that the Senate pass this bill, which will be offered, to transfer the unobligated funds from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund, so that it will be unnecessary for the Covernor to come to this Senate and the House and continually ask to borrow money from it.

I do not introduce this bill in any dogmatic fashion. It may be that after a conference some changes may be made that will make it satisfactory to everyone; but one thing is certain: there are no funds with which to pay the blind; there are no funds with which to pay the unemployed; and there will not be funds from the United States Government forever; and unless we do something to carry out our part of the program the Government of the United States may be not only unwilling but unable to help the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It may be that the transfer of these funds without restriction will be obnoxious; it may be that after deliberation some suggested changes may be made. I am willing to adopt those in order to start this thing, and so that we may put ourselves in such a position that funds will be available in case of emergency.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 469, entitled:

An Act transferring unobligated moneys now in the Motor License Fund and future moneys received heretofore payable into the Motor License Fund to the General Fund; and suspending existing laws.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Also, read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 470, entitled:

L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for rasing revenue for State purposes," by requiring all persons, copartnerships, unincorporated associations, joint-stock associations, companies, limited partnerships and corporations to make annual returns, including returns for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four; and prescribing penalties for failure to make such returns.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read considered and agreed to:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO REQUIRING CERTAIN DELAWARE CORPORATIONS TO SHOW CAUSE WHY THEIR CHARTERS SHOULD NOT BE SURRENDERED

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BENNETT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, Under the authority granted him by Congress to relieve the distress of this depression, His Excellency, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Orders to members of his official family or their subordinates in various new government bureaus to file applications for the following corporate charters in the State of Delaware, all save one to have perpetual existence:

1. The Commodity Credit Corporation to handle agricultural and other commodities, authorized by Executive Order dated October 16, 1933, incorporators, H. A. Wallace, Oscar Johnston and Henry Morgenthau, Jr.;

2. The Public-Works Emergency Housing Corporation to handle dwellings and real estate in general, chartered October 27, 1933, incorporators, Harold L. Ickes, Frances Perkins and Robert D. Kohn;

3. The Federal Surplus Relief Corporation to buy and handle surpluses, chartered October 4, 1933, by H. A. Wallace, Harold L. Ickes and Harry L. Hopkins;

4. The Federal Subsistence Homesteads Corporation to buy land, build homes and establish factories, chartered November 21, 1933, by Harold L. Ickes, Oscar L. Chapman and M. L. Wilson;

5. The Electric Home and Farm Authority to aid electric sales to make appliances and to lend on them as security, chartered January 13, 1934 (the Executive Order No. 6614, dated December 19, 1933), incorporators, Arthur E. Morgan, Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilianthal (to exist for seven years from date of incorporation);

6. The Public Works Emergency Leasing Corporation to handle apartments, private houses, homes,, building and structures of every kind, etc., chartered January 3, 1934, incorporators, Harold L. Ickes, Oscar A. Chapman and Theodore A. Walters; but these incorporators, perhaps in fear of aroused public opinion should this charter be published, filed in Dover a certificate of surrender of their corporate rights on January 2, 1935; and

Whereas, it appears these corporations were formed secretly, the words being noted on four of the charters listed above "do not publish" and the charter for the "Public Works Emergency Leasing Corporation" continuously concealed prior to the autumn of 1934, and remained unmentioned in either the Congressional Directory or the United States Government Manual up to January 2, 1935, when its incorporators filed a certificate of surrender of its corporate rights as aforesaid; and

Whereas, House Joint Resolution 117, Section 4, clauses A, B, C, and D, now before the United States Senate, appears to confer upon President Roosevelt authority to delegate to governmental agencies, including corporations, powers which would seem to make it possible for the aforesaid corporations to carry out the plans outlined in their respective Delaware charters, as well as the right of franking their mail and the right to secure through the Federal government from all of the taxpayers of the United States all monies needed for operation (possibly $4,880,000,000.00 in whole or in part), rights not granted to private corporations under our American system of government; and

Whereas, The aforesaid corporations not being responsible in any way to the Federal government but only to the corporation laws of the State of Delaware, it must be concluded that it is the purpose through these un-American charters to centralize all property in the hands of a few and beyond the control of the Federal government similar to a plan now operating in the United States of Soviet Russia, thereby completely changing the entire form of our government and reducing the revenue raising potentialities of all the Sovereign States; therefore be it

Resolved, That the proper officials of the State of Delaware, in order to safeguard and protect the American form of government and the rights of the sovereign forty-eight

(48) states of the United States, should require the incorporators of the aforesaid Delaware corporations to appear before them and show cause why they should not immediately surrender the corporate rights granted under their respective charters, at the same time permitting the officials of any state or municipality thereof or representatives of any private corporations duly incorporated under the laws of the respective states and the United States, to appear and be heard; and be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania be instructed to send copies of this Resolution to the President of the United States for his information, to the presiding officers of both Houses of Congress, requesting that this Resolution be read before both the House of Representatives and the United States Senate and be printed in the Congressional Record in connection with the Senate proceedings, and that copies of this Resolution also be sent to the Governors of the forty-eight (48) states and to the presiding officers of the House and Senate thereof with the request that similar Resolutions be adopted by the legislative bodies of the various states.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO TRANSFER OF FUNDS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, From the statement just made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it appears that there is an immediate need for the raising of four million two hundred thousand dollars ($4,200,000.00) for the use of the General Fund by transfer from Motor Vehicle Fund and Fire Insurance Tax Fund for the purpose of meeting payments for old age assistance and blind assistance and hospitals, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund from Motor Vehicle Fund and Fire Insurance Tax Fund for deposit in the General Fund such amount of moneys, not in excess of four million two hundred thousand dollars ($4,200,000.00), as may be needed immediately for the payment of assistance to the aged and the blind and the hospitals, and the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass appropriate legislation validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making such transfers and providing such moneys if the legislation enacted for the purpose of making said transfers and providing said moneys shall provide for the repayment of such moneys to the said funds from which the same was taken on or before December 31, 1935.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MILLER, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported as committed, the following Resolution:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will lie on the table.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PRAYER

The Rev. Chester S. Simonton, D. D., Pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

We pause at the opening moment of this session, our Heavenly Father, to acknowledge Thee as the author of our being, the One in Whom we live and move and have our being, upon Whom we utterly depend and without Whom we can not prevail.

We pray, our Gracious Father, Thy blessing tonight upon our great nation, upon the President of these United States, and upon all those associated with him in authority, upon this great Keystone State, our beloved State.

We pray that Thou would bless those here who rule, the Governor, members of the Legislature, all mayors and executives in whatsoever capacity. Be Thou our wisdom and our strength. May we in these trying days especially lean upon Thee and act like men, that Thou mayest bless our actions, that Thou mayest put Thy benediction upon our decisions, and that Thou mayest speed our every effort. Bless those this night who deliberate and grant each one of them not only Thy wisdom but also Thy strength and may that peace of Thine, that peace which this world can not give or take away, that peace which outward conditions can not disturb, that peace which belongs only to those whose hearts are right with Thee, may that peace abide with each of us. Amen.

JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR THOMAS KENNEDY IN THE CHAIR

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the Committee appointed to escort His Excellency the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have the honor to present His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. Members of the General Assembly it is my privilege and honor at this time to present His Excellency, The Governor of the Commonwealth.

ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR EARLE. Members of the General Assembly: I appear before your Honorable Body tonight to acquaint you with a situation brought to my attention a few days ago which I consider to constitute an emergency in every sense of the word—an emergency which calls for prompt and sympathetic consideration by your Honorable Body.

In point of numbers affected, this financial crisis may not be regarded by some as of great moment, especially when the amounts of money involved are considered in relation to the State's emergency requirements for all relief purposes.

But when we are confronted by the fact, that, unless your Honorable Body takes prompt and decisive action to replenish the old age assistance and blind pension funds, no further payments to our indigent aged and unfortunate blind can be made, I think you will all agree that this constitutes a situation of grave enough character to warrant its definition as a real emergency.

The situation is desperate enough in my opinion to justify me in asking that your Honorable Body stay in session here this week until the complete legislative approval of both bodies has been given to the legislation which is being introduced to meet the emergency.

It is unthinkable that any of our unfortunate old people shall be subjected to the anxiety, worry and possible sacrifice that would inevitably follow their failure to receive their assistance checks. Likewise with our afflicted blind. The people of this State have decreed that these fellow citizens shall have this measure of economic security and it is our duty to see that the wishes of the people of this Commonwealth are carried out.

Today there are 11,000 of our indigent aged receiving assistance. Over 32,000 are eligible for such aid, and, under the law, they must be given aid.

There are 4,200 receiving blind pensions. It is not likely that this number will be increased.

In order to provide money to meet old age assistance fund obligations until the end of the present biennium, there will be required the sum of $2,776,000.

For pensions for the blind the sum of $412,000 is needed, and in addition, $12,000 for administrative purposes.

I would like to explain that the reason why there is no money available to meet these obligations is that the preceding administration in making appropriations to cover these requirements stipulated that the money was to come out of the profits of the Liquor Board.

Of course we all know that no such profits have been earned by the Liquor Board. So we are now confronted with the responsibility of making good this deficit.

As you all know, there are no funds available for appropriation for this emergency out of the General Fund. The alternative is to provide funds by transfer from special funds to which they will be returned at the earliest possible moment. In the budget submitted to your Honorable Body, provision has already been made to take care of the deficit which made this transfer necessary.

Accordingly, I request your favorable and speedy action on measures transferring $3,200,000 from the Motor Vehicle Fund to the old age assistance and blind pension funds.

The transfer from the Motor Vehicle fund will not in any way curtail the operations of the Highway Department, inasmuch as the amount transferred will not be needed until construction projects, not even yet started, are completed.

I hope that your Honorable Body will share my views as to the gravity of this situation which, as I said before, constitutes an impending emergency in the lives of thousands of our fellow men, and women, who need protection from want and privation, more than any others of our citizens.

By acting promptly on these measures you will not only meet the emergency. You will in addition bring gladness to the hearts of these thousands of old men and women and make the light of gratitude shine in the sightless eyes of our thousands of afflicted blind.

When I wrote you asking that when you came to Harrisburg this week you come prepared to stay longer than usual, the entire week if necessary, in order that the necessary legislation could be enacted so that old age assistance payments and blind pensions would not be halted, I did not have in mind asking your consideration of any other emergency legislation.

But this afternoon I was visited in my office by a delegation of over 100 public-spirited men and women who came from all parts of the State to tell me of the desperate plight of our hospitals.

These men and women were trustees, officials, and superintendents of these institutions.

I am sure they did not overstate the fact when they said that because the preceding Administration had failed to pay some $2,000,000 appropriated to aid these hospitals, that a great many of these institutions were face to face with utter disaster. They told of hospitals closing their doors, others closing entire wards, others weeks behind in their payrolls and still others where coal supplies had been shut off.

Ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly, I see no alternative for us other than to include these hospitals in this emergency program.

Now more than ever is it essential that our hospitals function to give the greatest amount of free service to those now unable to pay.

The demands on these institutions have increased in direct ratio to the severity of the depression.

It would be a tragedy and a shame for us to permit any hospital to close its doors or curtail its service during this emergency.

The State owes these institutions $2,000,000. I think that the least we can do at this moment is to transfer $1,000,000 so as to make this sum immediately available for their relief.

I propose that this money be transfered out of the Fire Insurance Tax Fund to be repaid as in the case of the other transfers at the earliest possible moment.

Ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly, these matters which I have brought to your attention this evening reveal something of the real picture of the crisis confronting this Commonwealth.

Let me take advantage of this opportunity to appeal to you to act speedily and considerately on the measures I have submitted to you to provide funds to meet the state's desperate needs.

I ask you again to forget all other considerations—save only that which we owe to ALL the people of this Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for his constructive address delivered to us this evening. Thank you very much.

The business for which the Joint Session of the General Assembly was convened having been transacted the Joint Session is adjourned, and the Senators will please assemble immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The SPEAKER (WILSON G. SARIG) in the Chair.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 474, Printer's No. 173, be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment and for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I object to the motion and ask that a roll call be taken on the motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of making this amendment is in order that there might be brought out from the Committee on Municipal Corporations a bill which will accomplish what this bill intends to accomplish. I shall not discuss the merits of this bill except to direct your attention to the reading of the bill. If you will read the bill you must necessarily come to the conclusion that it requires amendment to accomplish its purpose. The reason that I made the motion to send this bill to the Committee on Municipal Corporations is because there is in that Committee another bill introduced several weeks prior to this bill which deals with the same subject, and which bill, House Bill No. 148, introduced by myself, deals with the same subject matter as this bill.

I have but one desire, and that is that a bill dealing with legislation that is as important to the city of Philadelphia as this bill shall receive proper and careful attention and shall not be a hodge-podge bill such as this. I make no complaint as to whether or not the bill that shall emerge shall bear the name of the original sponsor of the bill or whether it shall bear the name of the gentleman who took from the original sponsor of the bill the subject matter and the idea of the bill, but I am concerned with the fact that if you are going to copy bills, you copy them right in so far as the subject matter is concerned.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, will state his point of order.

Mr. BURKE. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, is not confining himself to the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken and the gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself to the motion to recommit, and strictly to the motion to recommit.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, confining myself strictly to the motion to recommit, I say that when a motion is made to recommit a bill in order that it might be put in proper shape, in order that it might accomplish the purpose of the bill, that there is no better reason in all the world why a bill should go back to the committee. When the bill gets back to the committee, the committee can sit down and take a bill that contains the same subject matter, a bill properly drawn and from the two bills, the good one and the bad one, either correct the bad one and make a good one out of it or report out the good one. I know of no better reason in all the world why a bill should go back to the committee for amendment and study. Let us get a bill out that will meet the purpose for which it is intended and not one on which the gentleman who sponsors this bill apparently is greatly in error.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Burke and Mr. Sarraf and were as follows:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 525, entitled:

An Act relating to the appointment and compensation of court criers and tipstaves in counties of the first class, and repealing inconsistent acts.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hesitate to rise and oppose the passage of this bill because some of the time of this House has already been consumed this evening upon a motion of a Philadelphia bill, and I do not like the impression to become general that we have nothing before us but Philadelphia measures, but because this bill is so inherently unfair and dangerous I think it is wise to take the time necessary in order to point these things out.

As I said, this bill applies only to Philadelphia, and sets forth that the number of court criers and tipstaves of the various courts of the cities of the first class shall be fixed and appointed by the city council of the city of Philadelphia, who are the tax-levying body. Now, that is a real vital change from the existing law. Under the law as it now stands the number of employes in our courts is fixed by the courts themselves. The object of that law is very apparent on its face. In the first instance that has been the law because it has always been the policy of the legislature to keep the courts free of political influence or domination, and so it has always been felt that it was a wrong principle to permit any political body to dictate to the courts either the number of its employes or the salaries to be paid to them.

How would a tax-levying body procure domination of the courts after such a bill? Well, in the first place it could refuse to give the courts the number of employes necessary to do its business, and so could readily bring the judges of those courts into a position whereby they would be compelled to make what we call political deals.

In the second place the bill is inherently false and of no avail because under our law if the court requires additional employes it can appoint them regardless of this act and mandamus the city of Philadelphia for the salaries.

For those two reasons this bill should be defeated, first in order to keep our courts free from politics and second because the act would be ineffective because the courts could always madamus the city for the salaries of employes, which the courts and courts alone find necessary to carry out justice in the city of Philadelphia. For those reasons I ask this body, regardless of political party, because this is not a political measure,—forget your straight party vote, think only of the merits of the bill and vote against it.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want the members of the House to get the idea that this bill emanates from a radical source. I do not want you to think that over night there is a radical group or a radical member of this House who has the idea of upsetting the courts.

During the session of the Legislature of 1927 there was a commission appointed consisting of five members whose purpose it was to make survey of all salaries and the duties of every officer in cities, municipalities and townships, and in the report filed by that commission we find a recommendation that the employes of the courts as far as their number goes, and as far as their salary goes should be fixed by salary boards in all counties except first class counties, and in the first class county by the tax-levying body of that county.

The purpose of this bill is similiar to several other bills that are before the House, and it is not with the design to control the judges, but it just supports the sound principle that the tax-levying body, being responsible for the collection of revenues, should be responsible for the disbursement of those revenues. I think the bill has great academic value. I think it will upset the diversion and the making obscure of the hiring of employes, and place that control in a body that every taxpayer looks to. It does not matter who is responsible for the salary, the taxpayer blames the city council, and if we can give the city council the power to spend the money since they have the power to collect it, then city council will be very responsive to the electors of the city. Therefore I ask you to support the bill.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia kindly advise the House whether, in line with the sentiments he has expressed, he has introduced a bill providing that city council shall have the right to regulate the number and fix the salaries of the employes of the registration commission of Philadelphia?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the question is pertinent to this bill.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, refuse to answer the question?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will answer any question on the bill before the House; consequently I refuse to answer that question.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has just submitted to this House a statement as to the work of the salary survey commission, and in line with the sentiments which he has expressed, and in view of the fact that he has introduced a number of these bills I again ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he has introduced a bill giving the council of the city of Philadelphia the right to regulate the number and fix the salaries of the registration commission of Philadelphia?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman persists I will answer his question.

The SPEAKER. The registration bill has nothing to do with this bill. The gentleman will confine himself to questions relating to the bill before the House.

Mr. BLUMBERG. The gentleman was interrupted while making his answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to abide by the suggestion of the Chair.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Does not the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, by the provisions of this bill believe we are faced with the question in whom we have the most confidence, our courts or the city council of Philadelphia?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman by saying it is not so much a matter of confidence as it is a matter of responsibility, responsibility to the taxpayer for the expenditures in the city so that the electors can say to the council, "You levy a certain amount of taxes. The rate is too high." And the city council can justify its position if it has the power to control the disbursements. It is not a matter of confidence.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kilroy, will state his point of order.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia asked to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, and he is holding a conversation.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Then, Mr. Speaker, do I understand from the gentleman from Philadelphia that by the provisions of this bill he chooses to impose the responsibility for fixing the number and fixing the salaries of the employes of the courts on city countil rather than impose the responsibility on the courts?

Mr. BURKE. If the gentleman will read the bill, Mr. Speaker, he will see that in each and every county of the first class of this Commonwealth the courts of Common Pleas, of Oyer and Terminer, Quarter Sessions, Orphans, and Municipal Courts may appoint such number of criers and tipstaves and at such compensation as may be allowed and so forth. There is control over both the tipstaves and the court criers.

Mr. BLUMBERG. And do I understand from my colleague from Philadelphia that he is in favor of all employes of the city of Philadelphia as to number and salary being fixed by city council?

Mr. BURKE. I will answer the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, in this way, Mr. Speaker, insofar as every bill that I have on the calendar is concerned, yes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 530, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four and nine of the act approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 711), entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia; prescribing its jurisdiction and powers; providing for the service of its writs, process, or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia; regulating the procedure therein, and appeals therefrom, and providing for the expenses thereof," providing that the compensation of officers and employes of said court shall be fixed by the tax levying body of said county.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill relates to the Municipal Court of the City of Philadelphia and regulates the fixing of the number of employees and their compensation by the tax levying body, which is the City Council of Philadelphia.

For the reasons that I stated on House Bill 525, I ask the House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 482, Printer's No. 134, on page 16 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Burke,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 482, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures; providing for their compensation and expenses; prescribing their duties; prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights; and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof," eliminating the minimum salaries of inspectors of weights and measures in counties of the first class, and providing for the appointment of inspectors of weights and measures by the mayors of cities of the first class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the quesion,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill really ought to be sent back to committee for amendment because on page 3, line 4, are the words "exempting district attorneys of Philadelphia from the Act itself"—Mr. Speaker, I am in the wrong pew but the right church. The principle which my friend is contending for, he exempts in House Bill 476, and I do not know why he is so inconsistent.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, on page 3 of House Bill 482, the gentleman from Philadelphia has certain provisions and safeguards with respect to county and city inspectors of weights and measures retaining their positions and subject to discharge only for inefficiency and conduct unbecoming such an employe, and providing for a reasonable time to make answer before they are discharged. Is the gentleman from Philadelphia in favor of such a provision, safeguarding the rights of efficient employes?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman give me an opportunity just to check this again? I am in favor of it. I have it in the bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he is in favor of this provision as a general principle for safeguarding the rights of employes or merely as confining it to the weights and measures inspectors.

Mr. BURKE. From my experience, Mr. Speaker, I would say with the weights and measures inspectors.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, in favor of the same safeguards being thrown about State employes as well as municipal employes?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, the bill before the house provides for inspectors of weights and measures and any questions on any other departments or any other class of employes are not pertinent.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has just stated that he favors a certain principle, and confines his principle in this bill to particular employes. I now ask the gentleman whether or not he is in favor of this principle with respect to State employes or whether he refuses to answer that question.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I have no such bill before the house.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman care to answer the question, irrespective of whether technically or not this bill covers that subject?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I can't answer that question; it is a waste of time.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think it is a waste of time to explain to the membership of this house whether or not he believes in the principle of protecting all employes, whether State or municipal, from being discharged, except for inefficiency?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, there is an entirely different arrangement there. When you speak of county employes, their duties may be such as would warrant different limitations and different principles on their dismissal. I can't place that question in the same category as the category of State employes.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia believe that the provisions of House Bill 482, on page 4, lines 10 to 14, prohibiting the sealer or inspector of weights and measures from performing clerical duties is a proper provision?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the house, I do not blame the gentleman from Philadelphia for taking advantage of his technical rights. Perhaps the questions propounded are somewhat embarrassing and may come back to haunt him at some future time.

However, the provisions of this bill take the appointment of the chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures and the inspectors thereof from the County Commissioners and put that power in the hands of the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia.

I do not know what is in the mind of the gentleman from Philadelphia, when he inserts the provision that the Mayors of the cities of the first, second and third class and the several Boards of County Commissioners shall respectively appoint competent persons and then insert the exception "except in counties of the first class," thereby differentiating the City of Philadelphia from the other cities. I do not know what is in his mind, but it seems to me to be a most ridiculous distinction.

We have in the City of Philadelphia today a most efficient Bureau of Weights and Measures, the Chief of which is a former respected member of this house, who is capable and efficient, honest and trustworthy. I do not know why they want to make a change. Do you? Can you give me one reason why—Mr. Speaker, I ask that those not entitled to the floor refrain from taking the floor.

The SPEAKER. The Sargeant at Arms will clear the floor. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, there is no earthly reason why our County Commissioners should not appoint the chiefs and inspectors of the Bureau of Weights and Measures of the City of Philadelphia, and putting it into the hands of the Mayor.

If this bill is enacted into law, it might deprive the City of Philadelphia today of the very best chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures that it has ever had. The members of this house know the former representative from Philadelphia, Mr. Emhardt, who is now the Chief of that department. I say to the membership of this house that he is doing his job well, honestly and trustworthy, and I do not think we ought to pass legislation to eliminate him from that position, and making the position a possible political appointment. Where there is no reason for legislation, there should be no bill introduced for that purpose.

There is one other defect in this bill and that is on page 4. It says that one who is appointed a chief or an inspector of weights and measures shall do no clerical work. Mind you, members of the house, if there are four or five inspectors in that department who have completed their duties on the street and who come back to the office, they are not allowed to do a bit of clerical work, but are supposed to sit idly by, pass their time, twittling their thumbs and wait until the hour to go home comes, under the provisions of this bill. Why that provision is in this bill, I do not know and I do not think anybody else knows.

Members of the House, I have no quarrel with you, if when there are partisan measures before the house for voting in a partisan manner. I have done it so far all my life and I hope to do it the rest of my life, but this is not a partisan measure. In Philadelphia we have a Republican Mayor and a Republican controlled body of County Commissioners. If that condition were different, I could see where partisan politics might enter into it, but you are not bound under your present policy to vote for all measures just because they are introduced by a Democrat from this House. You are not bound to defeat measures just because I, a Republican, should oppose them. Let us be fair. Let us be just. Where you have a partisan measure, vote with your party. You would be hypocritical to your party if you did not do it, but there is no politics in this matter, and for that reason, I ask the members of the House—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not confining himself to the bill before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself to the bill before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I am. In conclusion, I say to you, you ought to vote this bill down, not for the reason that it gives to the Mayor and takes from the County Commissioners the right of appointment even though it doesn't make any difference in the political situation, but if there is any reason in all the world why you ought to vote it down, it is because it won't let the inspectors of weights and measures do constructive clerical work when there is no other work to do and leave them idle their time away.

I ask the members of this House to leave partisan politics out and vote against this bill. It is bad legislation. You ought not to be a party to voting for a bill which permits people to draw salaries and do no work, when they have the time to do it, just because of some facetious, ridiculous and nonsensical provision contained there.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask whether the gentleman from Philadelphia will rely on his technical privilege and refuse to answer a question, if I ask him a question that is not specifically contained in this bill, but is very germane to this bill, more germane than the question of State employes is to the question of inspectors of weights and measurers.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, let the gentleman ask the question. When the question is propounded to me, I will make my reply as I see fit, and not be placed in a position of agreeing to answer something when I do not know what it is.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that it would be wise to have the County Commissioners in cities and counties of the first class fix the salaries of inspectors of weights and measurers?

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask, Mr. Speaker, that that question be repeated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that the salaries of inspectors of weights and measures should be fixed by the County Commissioners?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not by the County Commissioners. I believe I would support a bill that fixed the salaries of the employees of the bureau of weights and measures and put it in the hands of City Council and I am not relying on any technicality.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I expected that because of the gentleman's legislative acumen, be would not answer that question. Of course, the question is not in any way germane to the bill before the House, but I do want to point to several objections which the gentleman has raised.

One was to page 4 of the bill, in which he decries the idea of an inspector of weights and measures not being allowed to perform any clerical service. I wish to remark at this time that this bill is no change in that sense from the bill which it amends, and the reason for this line in the bill is very pertinent. If you allowed an inspector of weights and measures to perform clerical services, you would place him in the anomalous position of passing on the accuracy of weighing instruments and by doing clerical work he would be passing on the question of who was to receive a license by keeping the records in the office of the Bureau of Weights and Measures. It is in order to keep these two functions separate that that specific provision is in the bill. The gentleman seems to think that this provision in the bill will cause the inpectors to sit around the office, and I think the expression was "twittle their thumbs." This bill was introduced so that they won't have inspectors of weights and measures sitting around the office and twittling their thumbs. There are many that twittle their thumbs, but there are many more under the present arrangement who never even go near the office. They sit around their own homes, they follow various trades and professions. Some are undertakers and their occupations are very diverse. Many of them never even see the office.

The gentleman has raised the proposition that to pass this bill would be to deprive the City of Philadelphia of one of its finest employees, who is the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures. He refers to a former member of this House, who is the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures. He refers to a former member of this House, and I know that every member of this House who sat here during the last session with this man holds him in the highest regard, and as the sponsor of this bill, I want to assure the members that I hold the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures in just as high regard as does the gentleman from Philadelphia. It might be rather surprising if the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures had resigned his job, had run for office and been elected to this House, to find him voting in favor of this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that my technical friend should get up on the floor of this House and make statements of fact that are not facts. I regret very much that he violates the rules of this House in stating what some outsider, not a member of this House, might do on a particular measure. It is not proper practice and they are not proper statements. But I do not mind that so much; I do hate to see a man get up on the floor of the House and say, "I hold in high regard, I hold in high esteem the gentleman who holds that position as Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures," and yet in the same breath brands that official as derelict in his duties, as incompetent and inefficient, when the gentleman says that there are employees of the Bureau of Weights and Measures who never come near the office. You cannot praise a man with the one hand and stab him with a knife in the back with the other hand.

To reiterate, how can the gentleman from Philadelphia get away from the knife in the back and say that Eddie Emhardt is a highly capable official, and then on the other hand say that he does not even order or direct that his employees shall work and earn their pay. I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I defy him to prove, I defy him to state with any degree of honesty and integrity that he knows of any gentleman of the Bureau of Weights and Measures under the regime of former representative Emhardt, who does not earn his pay. Representative Emhardt, the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures, demands that every man do his full share of duty, and when you next seek to compliment a man and tell him of your regard, do not in the same breath brand him as an inefficient and incapable public officer of the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know full well that the gentleman who just spoke is sufficiently acquainted with the government of the City of Philadelphia to realize that the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures, a former member of this House, has nothing to do with the appointment of inspectors of weights and measures, and I, therefore, urge the passage of this bill so that the good name and the name of that man for whom I have the highest regard may be maintained, so that he may not have officials or inspectors appointed to his department, when he has no control over the number of employees in that department. There is a distinction, members of the House, between the County Commissioners and the gentleman who seems to have been the subject of debate during the last five minutes. The Inspectors of Weights and Measures are appointed by the County Commissioners. The Honorable gentleman who served in this House during the last session has nothing to say about the number of inspectors of weights and measures who are appointed, and the purpose of this bill is to remove the power of appointment from the County Commissioners because their abuse of that power is a matter of public notice in Philadelphia.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the house, I regret very much to get up again—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, under house rule 65, limiting the number of times that a member may speak on one bill, I believe that the gentleman from Philadelphia has consumed the number of times allowed under that rule.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read Rule 65 for the information of the House:

"No member shall speak more than twice on the same subject, without the leave of the House."

Will the House give this leave to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, to continue taking the floor? The "ayes" appear to have it.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. May I ask the Speaker whether while a member has the floor, the previous question is in order? I personally believe that it is, but I want to make sure.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia and the other members of the House, the Chair will read Rule 64:

"No member when speaking shall be interrupted, except by a call to order by the Speaker, or by a member to explain, or by a motion for the previous question; nor shall any member be referred to by name in debate, unless for transgression of the rules of the House, and then by the Speaker only."

The previous question having been moved it is therefore in order.

Mr. WITKIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Coolahan, Walker, Cannon, Flinchbaugh, Tumelty, Piole, Pearson, Stank, Harmuth, George E. Downey, Pfaff, Carson, Schwab, Panton, Melchiorre, Nagel, Reising, Achterman, Miss Brancato, Mrs. Welsh and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SOWERS. I submit to the Speaker that the House having given permission to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, to speak the previous question cannot be raised until he has exercised the right that has been given to him by the House.

The SPEAKER. The House has already moved the previous question and seconded it, and in that case the only thing the House can do now is to vote down the motion for the previous question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the main question be now put?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Blumberg and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion for the previous question was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, with a great deal of sincerity I thank you for your vote. I will not take advantage of you. I merely want to get up and say that the gentleman from Philadelphia is again mistaken; that although the County Commissioners have the right to appoint the inspectors of weights and measures, as an actual fact there has been no appointment made ever since Representative Emhardt has been the Chief of the Bureau of Weights and Measures unless he was consulted and approved of the appointment, and because of the circumstances under which Mr. Emhardt was appointed by the County Commissioners, that has been the practice under his regime. I thank you for the opportunity, members of the House, to be permitted to state that before you.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, may I refer you to page 4, to the last paragraph in this bill, "it shall be unlawful for any sealer or inspector of weights and measures or any of his deputies to perform clerical or other service for the county or city of their respective districts." That is already a law, and it is being violated because in certain places, among which I can refer you to the City of Connellsville in Fayette County, where a man is health officer and does this work. It doesn't take him much more than one month to go over that work, to go over all of the scales, weigh the packages in the stores and test the gasoline stations. I know this to be a fact because this gentleman has reported to me a number of times.

In the City of New Kensington the same thing has occurred. Consequently I think this ought to be taken out of the law and that it should be the law permitting them to employ persons to do other work in cities of this kind or of this size.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Committee on Ways and Means will meet immediately after tonight's session in room 324.

The Committee on Ways and Means will meet in the Hall of the House tomorrow afternoon from two to four thirty for public hearings on House Bills Nos. 862, 936, 971, 975, 925 and 1128.

The Committee on Railroads and Railways will hold a public hearing on House Bill No. 418 in room 401 tomorrow afternoon from two to four.

The Committee on Agriculture will meet tomorrow morning at 9.00 o'clock in room 323.

The Committee on Public Utilities will meet tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock in room 323.

The Committee on Judiciary General will meet tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock in room 325.

The Committee on Insurance will meet tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock in room 324.

The Committee on Elections will meet tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock in room 521.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, according to the announcements just made, three committees, namely, Judiciary General, Public Utilities and Insurance are all going to meet at ten o'clock tomorrow morning; also the committee on Elections. It does not seem to me that this is fair to the members of the House. It seems to me that the Chairmen of these committees ought to get together and try to work out a schedule such as we have employed in the past, in order that we may avoid some of these conflicts as far as possible. It is my understanding that we are to be here—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware yield and permit the Chair to make a statement?

Mr. TURNER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Delaware was here in the hall of the house tonight he probably heard the Chair announce a meeting of fourteen or fifteen chairmen of committees in the House Library immediately after the session. That meeting has been called for the purpose of endeavoring to straighten out the very thing of which the gentleman from Delaware is now complaining.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, what may be done tonight may not change this situation tomorrow morning.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to state that the time is very short right now to straighten out this situation, but the Chairmen of the various committees whose meetings conflict could possibly get together and straighten the matter out, and then make their announcement on the bulletin board tomorrow morning. Is that satisfactory?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it has been the custom ever since I have been in this House that Judiciary General meet at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning. That is one of the most important committees in this House, with a very large amount of legislation, and in that committee there are a number of us serving on a number of sub-committees that ought to report, because there is legislation which the members naturally want to get out of committee.

Might I suggest, Mr. Speaker, that we might be relieved tonight from this tangle if either the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, the Chairman of the Insurance Committee,—I do not see the Chairman of the Utilities Commitee, Mr. Shugarts, in the House,—but if either one of them withdraw his proposed meeting at ten o'clock in the morning, that might relieve us somewhat, because it is possible sometimes to have two committes meet on the same morning at the same time.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Delaware if it would clear the situation if I were to delay my meeting until ten-thirty o'clock in the morning? Would that clear the situation?

Mr. TURNER. I think, Mr. Speaker, that will very materially help us. There has been a further suggestion made that if the House would convene at twelve o'clock instead of eleven o'clock, it might help very materially to straighten out this one instance.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to state that the House will only have one session tomorrow, due to public hearings in the afternoon. We have a heavy calendar in the morning, and the Chair hardly thinks it feasible or practical to convene at twelve o'clock instead of at eleven. The Chair believes that the mater can be straightened out among the different committee chairmen for tomorrow, and after that more definite arrangements will be made.

The gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, Chairman of the Insurance Committee, announces that the Insurance Committee will meet at ten-thirty o'clock instead of ten o'clock.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to change the meeting of the Committee on Elections from ten o'clock to nine o'clock.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, will change the time of the meeting of the Committee on Elections from ten o'clock to nine o'clock.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. WOODWARD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 476 entitled

An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth, providing a plan of government to be effective in any such city at the option of the voters thereof, to be expressed as herein provided.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 51, entitled:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

An Act to amend sections two hundred and twelve, two hundred and thirteen, two hundred and fourteen, seven hundred and one, and seven hundred and nine of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards commissions and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by exempting the Department of Internal Affairs from the provisions of said sections.

On the question,

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 99, entitled:

An Act requiring the Department of Revenue to prepare and distribute to counties, banks and trust companies, lists of corporations, joint stock associations, limited partnerships, banks and trust companies taxable for State purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in Pennsylvania we have no income tax; we have a very unscientific tax that takes its places, namely, the tax of four mills on personal property; and when real estate is so heavily burdened and is our main source of revenue, the tax on real estate is both the state tax and county tax.

This bill provides that the Department of Revenue shall assist the conscientious taxpayer in making out his return. At present it is very difficult to make out a return for this tax, because the banks, and even the Department of Revenue are not sure whether certain securities are exempt, or not. There is always a twilight zone, and, moreover, there are certain corporations, foreign corporations, which employ office furniture in Pennsylvania and pay a very small capital stock tax; and thereby exempt all the holders of their securities in Pennsylvania from this four mills tax.

This bill provides that the Department of Revenue shall at least once a year furnish the county commissioners and the banks and trust companies with lists of securities—of securities that are exempt from the four mills personal property tax, so that any taxpayer can go into his bank and see, in a short time, whether any securities he owns are exempt or not. It is a convenience to the conscientious taxpayer.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on final passage?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 102, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways to pay damages heretofore occasioned as a result of the destruction of private property by fire; and making an appropriation therefore.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I would just like to say for the information of the Senators that some time ago the Department of Highways leased a farm of a resident in my Senatorial district, and when, one day, their tractor froze up and they attempted to thaw it out by means of a gasoline torch, they set fire to the barn, which was destroyed; and that fire burned up not only the barn but all of the equipment of the Department of Highways as well.

Now, the amount of money in this bill has been agreed on by the Department of Highways and the man who owned the barn, and the bill was drawn up by an attorney from the Attorney General's office. This bill is approved by them, and I certainly feel that the man whose property was destroyed is entitled to just remuneration.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 168, entitled:

An Act creating a commission to allot all space in the Capitol Building and the Museum Building, and defining the duties of the said commission.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I would like to say just a few words of explanation with regard to this bill. This creates a commission consisting of the President pro tempore of the Senate, one Senator appointed by the President pro tempore, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and one member of the House, appointed by the Speaker, and the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies, as a commission to have charge of the allotment of space in our Capitol group, consisting of this Capitol building and the adjoining building, the Museum building. I will say that this bill is modeled on an Act of Congress which has exactly a similar provision.

For many years it has been apparent that the executive departments of the State government have been encreaching upon the space that is properly needed for legislative purposes. At the conclusion of the legislative session of 1929, and again at the conclusion of legislative session of 1931, I happened to be a member of the committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives in order to secure sufficient space for committee rooms so that the House could function properly.

After each session of the Legislature we find that various departments of the State Government have occupied space which was formerly used by the legislative department of the government. This same situation existed in Washington, and it was under a legislative commission that the Congress of the United States took over the Capitol building, in order that it could allow the branches of Congress to properly function.

Now, as you Senators will notice, that this bill as it is drawn, whenever, as at present time, the House of Representatives and the Senate are controlled by different parties, then the administration becomes the controlling factor, by reason of the fact that the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies is the fifth member. Whenever the Senate and House are of the same party, then, of course, that dominant party controls the commission.

We have found for many years that we have not had the proper space——particularly has it been found in the House of Representatives that they have not had the proper space for the proper functioning of the Legislature, and I believe in the principle that this building should be under the control of a legislative commission. That commission can, during the interim, allot space or rooms to the executive department as it seems fit, but the legislative commission, in my opinion, should be in control of this building, and it will be noted that, by this bill, we have carefully reserved the rights of the third branch, the judicial department of the government, the judiciary, to the space that it now has.

Mr. President, this is the explanation of the bill, and I hope it will have the favorable consideration of the Senate.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 52.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of House Resolution No. 52, reported from Committee yesterday.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that this resolution be laid on the table, for two reasons: In the first place, there is not a full attendance in the Senate Chamber; and, in the second place, I would like the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, to take the time to be converted the other way around by reading an article in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly magazine, by Mr. Henry S. Pritchett. If he does not have the magazine, I will give it to him.

Mr. Pritchett is a recognized publicist, and he wrote a very interesting article, which I commend to everybody. He takes up especially the question of the soldiers' bonus.

Mr. President, for these two reasons, therefore, I hope the Senate will be willing to postpone action on such an important resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, is not in order; the resolution has just been taken from the table.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move you, then, that the resolution be recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 4, 1935.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene Monday evening, March 11, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene Monday evening, March 11, at nine o'clock.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO HAVE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TAKE OVER ASSETS OF CLOSED BANKS AND PAY DEPOSITORS IN FULL

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Banking:

In the House of Representatives, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, Thousands of Pennsylvania citizens are directly and acutely interested in the passage of a "bank payoff bill," and

Whereas, Such a measure will shortly be pending in the Congress of the United States, and

Whereas, This "bank payoff bill" will provide that the Federal Government take over the assets of all closed banks in the country immediately, pay in full the depositors and liquidate the assets in the closed banks in an orderly way during a period of twenty years, and

Whereas, Such a method of orderly liquidation will greatly enhance the value of frozen assets and will stop deflation of values in real estate and many other bank holdings, and

Whereas, The Federal Government by thawing out the impounded life savings of ten million Americans will promote business confidence, and activity will diminish relief payrolls and will be dealing justly with the depositors in closed banks, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation authorizing the Federal Government to take over the assets of all closed banks and immediately pay depositors in full and especially requests Pennsylvania's Representatives in the Congress of the United States to use every effort consistent with honorable practices to secure the enactment of such legislation.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO PREVENT LYNCHING

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1935.

Whereas, During each year many lynchings occur, statistics revealing that twenty-five happened during the last year and more than five thousand during the last fifty years; and

Whereas, State governments cannot put an end to this evil which reflects upon the good name of the states in which occurring and upon the United States; and

Whereas, A bill is pending in Congress known as the Costigan Wagner Bill to enable the Federal Government to control this evil; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to pass legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States which will enable the Federal Government to assist in the prevention of this crime and punish offenders against the Federal law;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this House.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COYNE, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a negative recommendation the following nomination by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 21, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following appointment to compute from the date of confirmation:

MEMBER WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BOARD

Richard J. Beamish, of Harrisburg, Dauphin County, as a member of the Workmen's Compensation Board, vice Arthur C. Dale, whose term expired, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1939, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. RICE

That Rule 33, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the foregoing nomination.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. RICE

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Executive Nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of legislative inquiry.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I presume that the roll will be called on the question before the Senate, and that that question will be, "Shall the nomination be confirmed notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Executive Nominations?"

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, he has correctly stated the question.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to have the privilege of speaking confidentially to our Democratic Senators. I have nothing against Mr. Beamish personally; I have known him for many, many years; but I do maintain that his education and experience do not fit him for this position. We all know what a controversial subject workmen's compensation is,—I have a list of the bills in my hand; there are seven or eight workmen's compensation bills before the General Assembly,—but the point I am trying to make is that it is not so important whether the bill is a good bill as it is whether he who administers the bill is a good man for the job.

I took it upon myself to furnish the Governor with criticism, adverse criticism, on the Pinchot Board, which became so political that they overslept themselves every morning; they did not attend to business. The Governor wrote me a very courteous note acknowledging my communication, whereupon I took it upon myself to write again to the Governor, for the good of the service, recommending that he appoint a very able young lawyer in Philadelphia by the name of Swope, a member of the law firm of which Mr. Henry S. Drinker, Jr., is a partner—I do not know the names of the rest of the firm. Mr. Swope is a Democrat, and by training and education would fill this place so much better than Mr. Beamish that I hope all the Senators will consider that if the name of Mr. Beamish is dropped, the Governor will be free to appoint a man for the qualities of the man alone, and not with any suspicion of paying a political debt.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there seems to be some confusion among the members of the Senate as to how they shall vote on this—as to the proper way of voting. I rise to a question of legislative inquiry, as to those voting for this motion,—will they be voting for the confirmation?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, that those who vote "aye" will be voting for the confirmation of Mr. Beamish notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Salus,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,
Frey,	Mallery,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Gelder,	McClure,	Rice,	(Centre)
Harris,	McCreesh,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Huffman,	McGinnis,	Rodgers,	(Westmoreland)
Kahle,	Miller,	Rupp,	Trainer,

NAYS—21

Aron,	Coyne,	Norton,	Reed,
Batchelor,	Ealy,	Owlett,	(Dauphin)
Bennett,	Graff,	Pierson,	Shapiro,
Buckman,	Homsner,	Prince,	Woodward,
Chapman,	Howell,	Pytko,	Ziesenheim,
Clark,	Hunsicker,

Less than two-thirds majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION AMENDING RULE NO. 42 OF THE SENATE

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Resolution amending Rule No. 42 of the Senate, which was reported from committee with a favorable recommendation at last evening's session.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

Resolved, that Rule No. 42 of the Rules of the Senate of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows: "Rule 42—No Committee shall be discharged from the consideration of a bill within five days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate," be and the same is hereby repealed and the following adopted in its place: "Rule 42—No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within 10 calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such 10 day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate."

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I do not remember when this resolution was reported from committee. I should like to be informed on that matter.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution was reported from committee at last evening's session.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to lend my voice against the adoption of this motion and the enactment of this amendment to Senate Rule No. 42. Rules of a parliamentary body, at any time, have always been considered as measures to provide a decent order of business for the parliamentary body concerned, and to expedite as far as possible the enactment of measures which are proposed before that body. I do not think that it was ever intended that the enactment of parliamentary rules should be done so only for the purpose of stagnating, or, as it is popularly called, "pickling" bills, resolutions or other measures. I have gone over the list of the Senate committees for the session of 1933, and I have found there, back in those "good old days", when the Houses of this Legislature and the administration were at least in nominal conformity, that all of the Senators except the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Senators who were serving their first session, and my good friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, as chairman of committees; and it became a very facile matter when a member of this Senate introduced a bill and it was referred to a committee, if that bill did not come out of committee he usually was chairman of a committee and he could go to his fellow members and say, "If you do not help me, and report out my bill, I will, perhaps, exercise the same privilege with regard to yours." And he had some basis to make some sort of a fair horse trade; or, if he could not do that and the bill was of any importance, he could go to his State Chairman and say, "Exercise your influence on the chairman of the committee to which my bill has been referred, in getting that bill on to the floor of the Senate."

Now, we are not in any such position here on the Democratic side of the House. We represent, perhaps, two-fifths of this body, or approximately that; we have no chairmanship of any committee; we are not of the same political persuasion with the chairmen of committees, who are on the Republican side of the House, and cannot take any of the ordinary or customary measures to have our bills gotten out of committee—the ones that we deem necessary to bring upon the floor of the Senate.

There has been a good deal of speculation in this body, under cover, as to just what would be the procedure of this new Senate, which is, perhaps, so vastly different in many respects from Senates in the last decade, with respect to discharging a committee. Now, I want to say this: that we of the Democratic side of the House respect the sound traditions of the State Senate as much as do the members on the Republican side. As a matter of fact, I think it was yesterday that it became necessary for me to call the attention of the Senator from Bucks County, Mr. Buckman, the Republican floor leader, to the fact that he was destroying one of the ancient landmarks by some of the remarks he made in one of his more radical moments.

I think we all want to conduct the business of this body in a sensible and orderly fashion, and with reasonable dispatch; and, speaking for myself, I want to assure the members of the State Senate that I am not inclined to move for the discharge of committees as long as the committees and their chairmen are fair with me and my fellow members, and I think that that is probably the attitude of the vast majority of the members of our Democratic group.

There is certain legislation, certain debt legislation, if you want to call it that, which is before this body, or which will come before this body, that we want to see acted upon; but we do not want to hurry the committees in the disposition of that work as long as they are fair; and we do not want to destroy any of the reasonable traditions of this body; but we do want to see the business of this body, with regard to legislation, conducted with dispatch and with fairness to both sides of the house.

Before I would think of asking for the discharge of any committee I would go right to the chairman of that committee and explain to him why I wanted a certain measure on the floor of the Senate; and if he felt that that measure should not be reported out on to the floor of the Senate I would respect his judgment. In that connection I will state that I, myself had a bill before a committee some time ago, and when I was called into the committee meeting I was convinced there that that bill was not a good bill and should not come before this Senate for action, and I respect the judgment of the committee and will abide by its judgment with regard to that bill. And I think we all would do that if we receive the proper kind of treatment, which I believe it is intended that we should receive; and I believe that a resolution of this kind is unnecessary.

Now, my complaint abcut the resolution is not so much as to the fact that it calls for a prolonging of the period during which a measure may be considered by the committee, from five days to ten days,—perhaps ten days is necessary, perhaps that is advisable; that is not, principally, my complaint, but my complaint against this resolution is that in the latter part it calls for a majority of the members elected to the State Senate to discharge a committee—it calls for a constitutional majority to discharge a committee, the same as a constitutional majority is necessary to pass a bill. In other words, when there are a number of members absent, although a quorum may be present, we could not bring a resolution up for satisfactory consideration on the floor of this body if the same should become vitally necessary; and I do not think that a provision of that kind, Mr. President, should be included in the rules of the State Senate. It is not business like for us to so restrict the consideration of an action upon legislation, and I request the members of this State Senate to vote against the enactment of this resolution, because I believe it is putting into the rules of the State Senate something that should not be there with reference to the action of this body on legislation of all kinds.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have listened with a great deal of care to the remarks of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, and I am afraid that he does not fully understand the new rule as promulgated here. This rule is really only clarification of the former rule. It changes in two vital respects. In the first place the old rule provides that a bill must have been in committee for at least five days. That clause has been variously interpreted, and I understand that it has been the interpretation on the floor of this Senate that those five days mean, five days in that rule really mean five legislative days, and if that is the proper interpretation this is only a clarification, and making the new rule read ten calendar days instead of five days in the former rule. I do not think anyone on the floor of this Senate can have any objection to having this rule amended so as to clarify just what is meant by those five days. It is really a broadening of the rule. If it were to be interpreted five calendar days, no one would claim that that were sufficient for a bill. It would not be in committee a whole week.

It is well known that we are only in session ordinarily on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, that we are not in Harrisburg ordinarily over the latter part of the week, so I do not see how onyone could take exception to that amendment.

Now, as to the other amendment regarding the vote of twenty-six members on this floor before a committee could be discharged from the consideration of a bill, that has likewise been interpreted, as I understand it, on the floor of this Senate to be necessary before a committee could be discharged and if that is not the correct interpretation, what is the harm in having the rules provide for a vote of twenty-six members to discharge a committee? What would be the use of discharging a committee, if we had a week Senate of forty-five members and twenty-three members would vote to discharge a committee? What would be the use of discharging that committee if the bill could not pass by twenty-six votes? In other words this rule is a proper rule and goes to provide that you cannot discharge a committee unless you have enough votes to pass it.

I submit to the members of this Senate that are present that there is nothing in this rule that anyone need be afraid of. I understand that they have these very same rules in the Congress of the United States. I am not sure about that but I have been inofrmed that that is the case, and I can see no reason why anyone, be he Republican or Democrat, should hesitate to vote for this amendment to this rule.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have listened with quite careful attention to the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson. I believe that the Senator means every word he says; I believe he inclines to be fair, and to play the game honestly and fairly; and I believe that every Republican member of this Senate is also anxious to play the game—if we can call it a game up here—on the up and up. And I think the Democratic members of this Senate have found out that in every committee meeting the question involved is not whether a bill is presented by a Democrat or a Republican, the question is: Is it a good bill? If it is a proper bill to come on the floor of this Senate, it comes on the floor of this Senate.

There is, however, a reason, and a very important reason, why our Philadelphia delegation decides to support this rule, this amended rule, and it involves the question of fairness—not in this body here but over in the House; and let me tell you what they did over there, and what they are doing every day. They are not playing the game over there the way we are playing it here. It so happened that in the building of the Delaware River Bridge the city of Philadelphia paid $12,000.00 of its own money towards the plans and specifications of that bridge. When the final adjustment of that account came the commission, by mistake, sent to the State of Pennsylvania $12,000.00 that belonged to the city of Philadelphia. A bill was introduced for the appropriation by the State to the city of Philadelphia of $12,000.00 to reimburse Philadelphia for that payment which was made in error. That bill was reported out of the Committee on Appropriations to the floor of the House in the absence of a large part of the delegation from Philadelphia, and just because it was backed by a Philadelphian and a Republican that bill was sent back into the Committee on Appropriations and still remains there. It is a small amount, but, at the same time, $12,000.00 of Philadelphia's money, paid by mistake, by the Delaware River Commission, into the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania, is denied to Philadelphia because the House will not give it to us, even though it belongs to us. They are absolutely unlawfully and dishonestly keeping $12,000.00 of the money that belongs to the city of Philadelphia in the State Treasury at Harrisburg, when the Governor and everybody else are willing, knowing that that money belongs to us. That is playing politics; that is not fair; that is not on the level. And it is to protect ourselves against a possible recurrence of things such as that, pulled off when our backs were turned —that we of Philadelphia are for this bill.

I do not believe that there is a man in the Senate of Pennsylvania, on the Democratic side, that would commit a trick like that. I do not believe he would sanction it. But, at the same time, it has been done and forewarned is forearmed.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as I understand the rule it is a formal notice to Attorney General Margiotti to keep off the grass. I would like to remind the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, that we have our dignity here to uphold as against any executive officer, and I am delighted to spill the apple cart for the Attorney General if I can. He certainly ought not to attempt to rush through a Constitutional Convention, and the effect of this rule is to safeguard an orderly, deliberate procedure for amending the Constitution of Pennsylvania; and is, in my interpretation, a notice to the Attorney General that he cannot have his way.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am mighty glad that our colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, has finally announced to this body the motive in the proposed change of the rules of this parliamentary body. There seems to be some fear, I gather from his remarks, that sooner or later the committee that withholds the legislation pertaining to Constitutional Revision will be called upon to answer to this body for the retention of that bill over an unreasonable time.

In answer to the argument of my colleague from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, that a majority of those present, say to the number of twenty-three, would be able to discharge the committee, and that then the constitutional majority of twenty-six would not vote for the bill, I say it has been only a fortnight or a little more ago when on the floor of this Senate Mr. Buckman's Republican colleagues voiced their sentiment when we were discussing the matter of discharging a committee—that they were opposed to voting for the discharge of the committee yet if the matter came on the floor of this Senate they would vote "aye" on that matter. I think that the argument advanced, why the rule should be amended, is absolutely not sound; and I repeat again that we ought to be thankful to our colleague from Philadelphia for allowing the cat to come out of the bag, as is popularly said, showing the motive of why this amendment is attempted. The amendment itself is vicious and demoralizing. The result of it shows very plainly that it is intended to foster and give greater efficacy to that destructive and demoralizing party spirit that so often demoralizes the agencies of government.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, In reply to the remarks of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, and of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, I would like to refer to the Rules of Congress. I refer to Rule No. 384-A of the House of Representatives in respect to the discharging of a committee in that House. The rule itself is a very lengthy rule, and I do not think it will be necessary to read it all; there are nearly five hundred members of the United States Congress, as we all know; but a portion of that rule reads as follows: "When members to the total number of one hundred and forty-five shall have signed the motion,"—that is, the motion to discharge a committee—"it shall be entered on the Journal, printed with the calendars thereto in the Congressional Record, and referred to the Calendar of Motions to Discharge Committees"—and so forth. Thus, under the rule, the motion must lie over for ten days.

Then the rule goes on to read, "if the motion prevails" —if the motion prevails by the majority of those present, not a majority of those elected to Congress,—and so on.

Now, with regard to the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, if any of you will refer in your Legislative Directory to the rules of the lower House for 1933, you will find in those rules almost the exact duplicate of this rule. In other words, a majority of those elected to the lower House, or one hundred and six, had to vote affirmatively on action to discharge a committee before that committee could be discharged. Those rules were this year amended by a Democratic House of Representatives to provide that eighty-five members, or less than a majority of those elected to the lower House, could bring a bill out of committee; and that rule was enacted in deference to the Republican members of the lower House, because they have eighty-five members over there, in order to bring a bill out of committee and bring it on to the floor of the lower House. We did not, by such a rule enacted in this Senate, enable the nineteen Democratic members to bring a bill out of committee; we still have to have a majority of those present,—and we are not complaining about it at all; but we do complain of the fact that we are increasing, by this resolution, the number of votes required to bring a bill out of committee, and I say to you, gentlemen of the State Senate, it is not fair, it is not good business, it will not expedite legislation; and the only purpose of the rule is to substantially stagnate legislation.

Now, the Constitutional Revision referred to is, of course, a problem we all have to deal with. We have been dealing with that fairly among each other. If any of the members has reason to complain of the treatment he is getting from this side of the House, I wish he would voice that complaint right here in this State Senate. We want this thing to be done orderly, we want it to be done right. If the people of the State want the Constitution to be revised, they should have it revised; they are the ones to judge of that. But I beg of you, do not enact rules which are liable to come back and slap you in the face, and deliberately stagnate business in this body.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I intend to vote for this amendment to the rule, and I wish to state the reason for so doing. I have listened with interest to the able argument presented by the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson; but, in quoting from the rules of the Congress of the United States I think he has overlooked one important fact, and that is, that both in the Senate in Washington and in the House of Representatives in Washington they have a system of pairs. For example, suppose that fifteen Republican Senators would be absent and all the Democratic Senators present; the fifteen Democratic Senators would be paired with the fifteen Republican Senators and therefore their votes would not be counted. And the same thing applies in the House of Representatives.

Now, let us suppose, for example, in the Senate of Pennsylvania, that fifteen Republican Senators would be absent and nineteen Democrat Senators present. Under the present rule the Democratic Party would be in the majority in the Senate. If we had a system here such as obtains in Washington, that, for example, if I should happen to be absent some Democratic Senator would refrain from voting—because he was paired for me, there would be no purpose whatever in changing the rule.

During my brief experience as a member of this Senate we very frequently have had a bare quorum present, and it is because of that fact that I think it is absolutely necessary, in the event that we might meet here with possibly thirty Senators, or thirty-five Senators, in attendance, that the proposed rule should be the rule of the Senate.

Furthermore, I take the position, Mr. President, that any committee, which is to be discharged should command a vote of the majority membership, particularly if it is legislation which is sought to be removed by vote of the Senate from the committee that has that legislation in charge. Under the rule as it now exists we may have forty Senators in attendance and twenty-one Senators discharge the committee. But what can be, again, the possible purpose in having that bill brought out in the vote of twenty-one Senators if it will require twenty-six Senators to enact it into law? Instead of having the effect contended for by my friend the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, I submit that it simply means our calendars might become filled with bills which have no possibility of enactment.

In my own opinion the question of Constitutional Revision is the last thing I had in mind in casting my vote for this rule. Before this session I recommended to the Committee which had charge of the revision of the rules this very rule. I have always believed that is a proper and necessary rule, and will remain a proper and necessary rule unless we adopt the system whch Congress has, by which Senators can absent themselves—by reason of sickness, official business or other things—and have their votes paired, as exists in the Congress of the United States.

Mr. President, for these reasons I will support the amendment to the rule.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I have been impressed by the fairness of spirit and lucidity of argument exhibited by the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson. I am looking at this thing from another slant. Frankly, I favor the adoption of this rule, but I question the expediency of presenting it at this time, and for the simple reason that it is more than likely to be construed solely on its bearing upon certain controversial propositions, one of which is that of the Constitutional Convention, to be specific; and the reaction will be distinctly unfavorable to the majority that passes the rule. That is the only reason that I would vote "no" on it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that action on this resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. CLARK and were as follows, viz:

We pray Thee in all of our deliberations that we may be conscious of Thy presence, that we might seek truth and righteousness and have the courage to follow it through wherever it may lead. We pray Thy blessings upon those of our colleagues who are ill, that Thy divine grace may be made effectual in their lives. Keep us ever conscious of our work, the seriousness of purpose and sincerity in all that we shall do.

Bless the Speaker of this House, the heads of our government and all who have to do with the work of this Commonwealth.

These and other blessings we ask in His name and for His sake. Amen.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MURRIN (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 74.

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, There is a lack of uniformity in the methods of appraising and taxing petroleum producing property by the various taxing units of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the various petroleum producing states of the United States; and

Whereas, It is desirable that the present inequities be remedied; and

Whereas, It may be desirable and practicable to adopt uniform methods and rates of taxation upon such property by the several oil producing states; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the American Legislators' Association to call a conference of the representatives of the oil producing states with a view of formulating uniform legislation and methods of taxing petroleum producing property; be it further

Resolved, That if such a conference is called, the delegates from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall consist of: a member of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker, a member of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, a member to be appointed by the Governor; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the American Legislators' Association, to the governors of the petroleum producing states, and the presidents of the Senate and speakers of said states, with the request that they submit it for action by the Legislature of their states.

Referred to the Committee on Interstate Co-operation.

By Mr. WOODSIDE. RESOLUTION No. 75.

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, The Governor in his budget has recommended an appropriation for Pennsylvania State College substantially less than that made to the said institution in the last biennium; and

Whereas, Little or no reduction was made in the recommended appropriations to the State's other great institutions of learning, University of Pennsylvania, Temple University and the University of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania State College appears to be unjustly discriminated against; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania State College has always been considered a particularly Pennsylvania institution by most Pennsylvanians, and a preponderate number of its student body are Pennsylvanians whose means are limited; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania State College has been outstanding among all State-aid educational institutions in the encouragement of patriotism and in the discouragement of radical and unamerican teachings and tendencies; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania State College is poor in endowment but rich in accomplishment; now therefore be it

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House, the appropriation to Pennsylvania State College should not be reduced if revenue permits, and under no circumstances should the appropriation to Pennsylvania State College be reduced by a larger percentage than the appropriation to the other three aforesaid institutions.

Referred to the Committee on Education

By Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. RESOLUTION No. 76.

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, The minority floor leaders suggested cutting down the appropriation to the committee investigating the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board on the theory that the lawyer members of the committee should attend to the legal work of the committee and the examination of witnesses; and

Whereas, The membership of this House consists of men of varied occupations, therefore as a means of further economy in the operation of the State Capitol property, be it

Resolved, That Dr. Surface, our renowned zoologist, familiar with our fauna and flora, care for the shrubbery; Mr. McCreary, our distinguished dirt farmer, care for the lawn; Mr. Carson, our expert wood worker, do the carpenter work; Mr. Downey, trained to the job, attend to the police work; and that Mr. Witkin feed the squirrels.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. JOHN A. SMITH (Concurrent). RESOLUTION No. 77.

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, A current appropriation liability of $50,000,000 is anticipated as a heritage from the former administration, and

Whereas, Constitutional limitations prevent another bond issue for relief within three years, and

Whereas, Many persons contend that constitutional limitations prevent the enactment of graduated income and inheritance taxes as a means of relieving the burden of taxation on real estate, and

Whereas, School districts thoughout the Commonwealth are sorely pressed for funds with which to pay teachers, fuel and supplies, and unless increased subsidies are granted the burden on real estate will further increase and drive farm and home owners into more desperate financial straights, and

Whereas, The immediate need for funds demands taxation, the constitutionality of which is certain and the burden of which will not fall on the citizens of our Commonwealth who are least able to pay, and

Whereas, An additional levy of two cents on gasoline appears to be inevitable in the light of the current deficit, depleted special funds and obligations to replace them, the General Fund financial difficulties, and the necessity of augmenting existing revenues until the present deficit is paid and constitutional changes enable the General Assembly to provide a more equitable distribution of the tax load, and

Whereas, The highway program of the Commonwealth is seriously crippled by lack of funds, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives now convened recomend to the State Emergency Relief Board an allocation of relief funds for work relief on the roads of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof during the current biennium equal to or in excess of the amount to be raised by any tax on gasoline;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the Chief Clerk of the House.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. SOWERS. RESOLUTION No. 78.

In the House of Representatives, March 4, 1935.

Whereas, Much of the product of American industries and American workmen remains unsold and plants are closed and workmen idle because competing articles manufactured abroad by cheap labor can be sold in American markets at a much lower price; and

Whereas, The plants manufacturing such articles could be opened and operated and many workmen could be given employment if this unfair competition could be stifled; and

Whereas, In the past a protective tariff has stimulated American industry, guaranteed a full dinner pail and brought prosperity and happiness to American labor; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to immediately pass a protective tariff measure similar to those which in former years have resulted in the development of American industry and the employment of American labor; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the proper officers of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

RESOLUTION NO. 1.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 1, Printer's No. 159.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 14, 1935.

Whereas, Thousands of Pennsylvania citizens are directly and acutely interested in the passage of a "bank payoff bill" and

Whereas, Such a measure will shortly be pending in the Congress of the United States and

Whereas, This "bank payoff bill" will provide that the Federal Government take over the assets of all closed banks in the country immediately pay in full the depositors and liquidate the assets in the closed banks in an orderly way during a period of twenty years and

Whereas, Such a method of orderly liquidation will greatly enhance the value of frozen assets and will stop deflation of values in real estate and many other banks holdings and

Whereas, The Federal Government by thawing out the imponded life savings of ten million Americans will promote business confidence and activity, will diminish relief payrolls and will be dealing justly with the depositors in closed banks therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly memoralize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation authorizing the Federal Government to take over the assets of all closed banks and immediately pay depositors in full and especially requests Pennsylvania's Representatives in the Congress of the United States to use every effort consistent with honorable practices to secure the enactment of such legislation

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 51

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 51, Printer's No. 152.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 13, 1935.

Whereas During each year many lynchings occur statistics revealing that twenty-five happened during the last year and more than five thousand during the last fifty years and

Whereas State government cannot put an end to this evil which reflects upon the good name of the states in which occurring and upon the United States and

Whereas A bill is pending in Congress known as the Costigan Wagner Bill to enable the Federal Government to control this evil therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to pass legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States which will enable the Federal Government to assist in the prevention of this crime and punish offenders against the Federal law

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. REYNOLDS. This resolution was drawn up and introduced for the purpose of asking Congress to pass legislation before them now and I understand it should be reported out very shortly, to try to get the Federal Government to put an end to one of the most serious crimes that has been carried on in this country. When kidnapping became so prevalent in this country Congress immediately passed a law making it a Federal offense. That has certainly helped to retard the progress of kidnapping. There are several states of the union that have very little regard for the constitutional rights of certain of their citizens, and they don't hesitate to take the law in their own hands, and to take life without due recourse of law.

I think that the great state of Pennsylvania would go a long way toward doing justice to the citizens of the United States if they would go on record asking Congress to pass this law, which is to prevent mob violence and lynch law. Our good Senator Guffey has gone on record as being in favor of this legislation; Governor Earle has gone on record as being in favor of this legislation; Senator Davis has gone on record as favoring it and I ask the members of this House to vote yes on this resolution in order that we may say to the people of these United States that we are unalterably opposed to all sorts of mob violence and lynch law.

On the question recurring

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 59.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 59, Printer's No. 157.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1935.

Whereas, Dissatisfaction with the administration of direct and work relief is widespread in the County of Cambria, allegations are made that the Cambria County Emergency Relief Board and the United States Employment Bureau, and other agencies dealing with relief, are not using their powers consistent with the best interests of those in need, the misery is widespread; that improper and incompetent personnel is being employed; that political activity is being indulged in and aid granted on a political basis; that discrimination on account of race, creed and color is practiced; and that husbands and wives are both employed or one employed when the other has employment elsewhere; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to thoroughly and impartially investigate the Cambria County Emergency Relief Board and the United States Employment Bureau in said county, or any other governmental agency dealing with relief, and the personnel thereof, with a view of determining whether the allegations set forth in the preamble hereof are true, and to make report thereof to the House of Representatives as early as possible;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 864, entitled:

An Act imposing an annual license tax for the privilege of operating maintaining or controlling within this Commonwealth a store or stores as herein defined for the sale of tangible personal property prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax and its disposition and providing penalties

The first section was read as follows;

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Chain Store Tax Act"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out the word "Chain"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 5, by inserting after the word "Store" the following: Net Income

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. This bill in its present form, Mr. Speaker is a bill that is advocated by the administration of this Commonwealth. The Department of Revenue in whose findings I have the greatest confidence and the greatest respect have drawn this bill for the express purpose of raising four million dollars of very badly needed revenue. I see no reason for any amendments and no reason for any alteration. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the amendments to the other sections be read so that we may discuss all of them at the same time?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that the amendments to the other sections cannot be read because section one is the only section under consideration at this time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is a little hard to discuss this amendment to this section only without discussin the amendments which are proposed to the other sections, because after all section one is only the title to the act, and to discuss the title it is necessary to discuss the entire measure. So, I assume I will be in order in discussing the entire measure.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Berks Mr. Hoopes, that we are not on the title; we are on section one at this time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, section one says: "That this act shall be known and may be cited as the 'Chain Store Tax Act' ". That technically is not the title; it is the name instead of the title and in order to discuss the name of an act it is necessary to discuss the act itself, because if we are going to change the name we have to give a reason for it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will give the gentleman from Berks a reasonable latitude, but the Chair wishes again to inform the gentleman that we are now discussing the amendment to section one. The gentleman can discuss the other amendments as they come up.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, Section one having to do with the name of the act, is it not proper in discussing each section or the amendments to each section to indicate the reasons for the change in the name, which will involve a discussion of the amendments to the other sections?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already informed the gentleman from Berks that is willing to give him a certain amount of latitude.

Mr. HOOPES. The bill which we have before us for amendment is the so-called "Chain Store Tax Act." I submit to the members of the House that although this bill is part of the administration tax program, as it is at present drawn, it is not in any true sense of the word a tax measure at all. It is a prohibitory measure and intended so to be, drawn with the purpose of handicapping a certain type of business, to wit, chain stores, I submit that it is grossly unfair and inequitable. It does not only aply to large chain stores, which most of you have in mind when you mention chain stores, but it also applies to numerous small chains or chain stores in various communities, and the effect is to put a very heavy and inequitable tax upon these stores and at the same time let the big fellow get by entirely. For instance, I have in mind a chain of grocery stores in Reading and Berks, the chain consisting of some thirty-nine stores. Under this act the first store will pay two dollars; the next stores will pay five dollars; the next stores will pay ten dollars each; for each store in excess of ten but less than fifteen it will be twenty dollars; between fifteen and twenty stores it will be thirty dollars; between twenty and thirty stores it will be thirty-five dollars, and upon the nine above thirty it will be one hundred dollars each.

I have not taken the time to figure the exact amount of tax that will fall upon these thirty-nine stores but it certainly is obvious that it will run close to two thousand dollars. On the other hand, you can have a big department store like John Wanamaker's in Philadelphia, which will pay two dollars. You could put all of these thirty-nine stores on one floor of Wanamaker's store and you would have to inquire from a floor walker where you could find them—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, according to article three section one of the constitution of Pennsylvania, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Berks are not constitutional.

For the information of the members of the House I will read Article three section one. It states as follows:

"No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended, on its passage through either House, as to change its original purpose."

"No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended, on its passage through either House, as to change its original purpose."

Acording to the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, the purpose of the amendments in effect is to change the bill from a chain store tax to an income tax.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, has raised a point of order on the constitutionality of amendments to House Bill No. 814. The Chair will read the following ruling:

"The constitutionality of a bill or amendment is a question for the House itself to determine and not for the Speaker to decide,—Cooley's Constitutional Limitations Volumne 1, Chapter 4, p. 99, says: 'The decisions for the construction of the constitution must be made by the body upon whom the duty is imposed, or from whom the act is required.' This principle is supported by uniform rulings of the Speakers of this House and of the House of Representatives of U. S. (Hind's precedents, Volumnes 2 and 5) (See also Legislative Journal of Pennsylvania, 1913, pp 1301-1302) (Legislative Journal December 13, 1933, pp 638-639)."

The CHAIR therefore lays the question before the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the point of order?

The SPEAKER. Those voting "aye" vote to sustain the point of order thereby declaring the amendments to be unconstitutional. Those voting "no" vote against sustaining the point of order and thereby declaring the amendments to be constitutional.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I submit that the purpose of this bill is to raise revenue. That was the purpose which the Governor gave us when he was before us; that was the purpose which the sponsor of the bill mentioned a while ago, and the purpose of the amendments is to raise revenue. I submit that to slightly change the method of raising revenue, still leaving it a license tax upon stores, if you please, certainly is not an unconstitutional change. If it were, it would be virtually impossible to amend any bill without making it unconstitutional.

I therefore submit that this amendment is perfectly constitutional and I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of sustaining the constitutionality of the amendments, and let us consider the amendments themselves upon their merits. I call your attention to the fact that by voting to sustain the constitutionality of the amendments, you are not in any wise binding yourselves to vote for the amendments when they are submitted. You can vote to sustain their constitutionality, and if you do not like the amendments when they are discussed in detail, as I am not able to do this time under the rules, you will have a chance to vote either for or against them. Let us vote on the merits of the amendments. Let us vote that the amendments are constitutional.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks whether or not the measure as it now stands is a license tax?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, it is.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks whether or not the amendments he now proposes are an income tax in effect?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, it is a license tax measured by net income. It is a license tax. It does not change its purpose.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the amendment is merely to the title of the bill . May I ask that the other amendments proposed by the gentleman from Berks be read so that we understand them as a whole.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is clearly irregular to read the succeeding amendments. The point that the gentleman from York raised is with regard to the amendments to section one, whether they in and of themselves are unconstitutional. Therefore, the decision must be based upon the amendments to section and not upon the amendments to any succeeding section.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the amendment as I understand it is to strike out the word "Chain" in section one. Now, Mr. Speaker, that merely related to the title of the Act. It would not matter what title you give to the act, that would not make it unconstitutional.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is mistaken. The amendment proposes in addition to striking out "Chain", that two words "net income" be substituted.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I hardly think that the objection raised by the gentleman from York meets the real question. It doesn't matter what title we give to an act. That doesn't make it constitutional or unconstitutional. The question is whether the substance violates the constitution and not the title.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in understanding that in order to vote upon the merits of these amendments, it is necessary to vote "no" on the question which is now before the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Berks that we are now on the constitutionality of the amendments and not on the amendments themselves.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in order to reach the amendments themselves, it is necessary to vote "no" on the matter now before the House is that correct?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Berks that if the point of order to declare the amendment unconstitutional is sustained, the amendment itself is ruled out thereby. If you vote "aye" on the point of order, you will thereby rule the amendment out of order.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in order to consider the amendment, you must now vote "no"?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman that we are not now considering whether this is a proper amendment or not, but we are only considering point of order on the constitutionality of the amendment. The other question is not before the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, if the majority of the members vote "aye" upon the matter now before the House will the amendments themselves be thereby ruled out of order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already informed the gentleman to that effect.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, if a member desires to consider the amendments themselves on their merits rather than on the question of constitutionality, in order to attain that result it will be necessary for the member to vote "no" on the matter now before the House, will it not?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in order to clear up confusion on the question do I understand that the question we have before us is the question of voting upon the constitutionality of these amendments?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. WITKINS. Mr. Speaker, am I incorrect in my version that in order to sustain the constitutionality, so as subsequently to vote upon the amendments, we will have to vote "aye" sustaining the constitutionality, because we are not voting upon the point of order, we are voting upon whether they are constitutional or not. Therefore, those of us who believe them to be constitutional, as I understand the rules vote "aye"; those who do not believe them to be constitutional vote "no." If I correctly heard the Speaker, I think that he advised the gentleman from Berks to the contrary. I would like to be clear upon the point so as to know how to vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will again explain what he has explained before, that you are now voting upon the point of order raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, that these amendments are not constitutional. Those voting aye will vote to sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, thereby declaring the amendments unconstitutional. Those voting no will vote against sustaining the point of order raised by the gentleman from York, thereby declaring the amendments constitutional.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the point of order?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mrs. WILSON and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the point of order was sustained.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Association" A partnership limited partnership or any other form of unincorporated enterprise owned by two or more persons

"Corporation" A corportaion or joint stock association organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign country or dependency

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Person" Every natural person association corporation receiver trustee or assignee

"Store" Any store or stores or any mercantile establishment or establishments which are owned operated maintained or controlled by the same person as herein defined in which tangible personal property of any kind is sold at retail

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shal include the feminine and neuter

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, lines 13 and 14, by striking out the words "which are owned, operated, main-" in line 13, and all the words in line 14.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the intent of this bill is clear; it is competently drawn. I ask the membership of this House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in order to save time, and inasmuch as the Chair has ruled that the House has decided on the amendment already offered, I wish to withdraw the amendment to section two, but I certainly will insist on the amendments to Section 7.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read as follows:

Section 3 License It shall be unlawful for any person to open establish operate maintain or control any store in this Commonwealth without first having obtained a license so to do from the Department of Revenue as hereinafter provided but each person engaged in the operation maintenance or control of a store on the effective date of this act shall have sixty days within which to obtain such license for each store operated maintained or controlled by him A separate license shall be procured for each store Licenses issued under this act may not be transferred or assigned Each licensee shall display each license so issued in a conspicuous place in the store for which such license is issued

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman withdraw his amendments to section 3 but insist upon the amendments to section 7?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in order to have this matter properly before the House, it seems to me that it is necessary to discuss Section 7 before we can discuss the other sections. I say that because the sections leading up to section 7 merely set up the form of the act. The meat of the amendments is in the amendments to section 7. Now, when we come to those amendments after we have adopted the others, or refused to adopt the others, we put ourselves in the position where we will have to turn around and reconsider everything that has gone before. Therefore, I repeat my request, even is it is necessary to suspend the rules to do it, or that the House give the unanimous consent, to have the amendments read, particularly those to section 7 which set forth the purpose of the act. We can then discuss the matter intelligently and know on what we are voting. As it is we are voting in the dark and nobody else in the House else except myself and those at the desk know what the other amendments are. I am frank to admit that I cannot remember all of them myself.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fourth, fifth and sixth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 4 Application for License Any person desiring to open establish operate maintain or control a store in this Commonwealth shall apply to the department for a license so to do The application for license shall be made on a form which shall be prescribed and furnished by the department and shall set forth the name of the person desiring such license the name and location of the store for which the license is desired and such other information as the department may require Each such application shall be accompanied by the proper license tax as hereinafter prescribed in this act

Section 5 Period of the License All licenses shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued

Section 6 Applications for Renewal of License On or before the thirty-first day of December of each year every person holding a license under this act shall apply to the department for a renewal license for the calendar year next ensuing Every application for renewal license shall be accompanied by the license tax as hereinafter prescribed in this act

The seventh section was read as follows:

Section 7 License Taxes A Every person opening establishing operating maintaining or controlling one or more stores within this Commonwealth under the same general management supervision or ownership shall pay an annual license tax for the privilege of opening establishing operating maintaining or controlling such store or stores as follows

(1) Upon one store the sum of two dollars ($2.00) for each such store

(2) Upon two stores or more but not to exceed five stores the sum of five dollars ($5.00) for each such additional store

(3) Upon six stores or more but not to exceed ten stores the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) for each such additional store

(4) Upon each store in excess of ten but not to exceed fifteen the sum of twenty dollars ($20.00) for each such additional store

(5) Upon each store in excess of fifteen but not to exceed twenty stores the sum of thirty dollars ($30.00) for each such additional store

(6) Upon each store in excess of twenty but not to exceed thirty stores the sum of thirty-five dollars ($35.00) for each additional store

(7) Upon each store in excess of thirty but not to exceed fifty stores the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each such additional store

(8) Upon each store in excess of fifty but not to exceed seventy-five the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each such additional store

(9) Upon each store in excess of seventy-five the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) for each such additional store

B (1) License taxes for licenses when applied for and issued on or after the first day of July of any year except the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five shall be one-half of the appropriate annual license tax

(2) License taxes for licenses applied for and issued on or after the fiftenth day of August of the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five shall be one-half the appropriate annual license tax

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 7, page 4, lines 1 and 2, by striking out the words "as follows" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "which shall be measured by two per centum of the net income from such store for the preceding calendar year, said net income to be ascertained in the manner provided by Federal law for the ascertainment of net income of corporations."

Amend Sec. 7 page 4, lines 3 to 28, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 7, page 5, lines 1 to 19, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the amendments to this section as stated before are the really important ones offered to this section. They are the ones which change the bill from being a grossly inequitable and unfair prohibitory measure designed to handicap certain type of business to a license tax placed upon the net income of the various stores, not gross income because that would be the same as a general sales tax—but upon the net income.

Under the measure as it is now drawn in section 7, a store like John Wanamakers in Philadelphia making a hundred thousand dollars a year would pay a two dollar tax, but if you have a little chain of grocery stores such as we have two or three in Berks County everyone of those stores above thirty must pay one hundred dollars each. You can put the whole thirty and more, as I said awhile ago upon one floor of the Wanamaker store and you would have to inquire of the floorwalker where to find them. The gross profits of all of the thirty-nine will not be a fraction of what he will make from one store.

I understood the Governor when he was before us and spoke on the tax program he was in favor of taxing those that had it. Here is a measure that will tax those who have it if these amendments are inserted. It won't tax every little store regardless of whether they make any profit or not just because the proprietor happens to own other stores, but it will tax the stores who are making the money by a license tax based upon their net income. If you have a store that sells several hundred thousand dollars worth of merchandise under this bill it will pay two dollars; under the proposed amendment to the bill it will pay two percent of its net income. I don't know whether two percent is the right figure or not; you may want to raise it, but I am very sure that the figure can be easily adjusted so that it will raise more money than the bill as it now is drawn, and it will raise it from those who are able to pay instead of socking it upon the little fellow who is not able to pay which is what you are going to do.

Another argument against the bill as drawn is that it penalizes a certain particular line of business in that it is going to definitely increase the cost of food in a great many instances because chain stores have largely monopolized that particular line of retail trade . They have reduced prices, that is the way they got their business. Now, if you put a tax on them, penalizing them as against the others, do you think they are going to pay it out of their own pocket, or do you think they are going to tack it on the consumers? I don't think there is much doubt about that, they will pass it on and the cost will be increased. The net income tax is the hardest tax to pass on. For that reason also it is desirable to have the bill in the form which I propose. Whether they will carry out their threats we have no means of knowing, but a number of the smaller chains have said that if this bill is enacted they are going to discontinue a large number of their stores, with the result that there will be less income from other taxes which we are now collecting from these stores. I suppose the answer to that is that someone else will start up another store and will pay the two dollar tax and the other licenses and thereby reimburse the Commonwealth for that loss. But I want to say that I very sincerely doubt whether or not the measure as drawn will raise anything like the amount of revenue anticipated, or as has been suggested that it will raise.

I wish to submit to you that the amendments that I propose will do away with the unfair features of this bill. The amendments tax the net amount of business that you do, or the profit that you make upon the number of stores that you may happen to have, and it will place the tax upon those who are able to pay, and it is harder to pass on to and other consumers. It will raise more money. I therefore, submit that we should pass the tax that will raise the most money and will put it on those who are most able to pay. I think it cannot be denied that those who have a net income in these times are better able to pay than those who don't, and a tax placed upon net incomes is much fairer, you will reach the right people.

I, therefore, ask that you vote for these amendments and put the tax where it belongs. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I don't agree with the gentlemen from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, that this tax will be passed on to the ultimate consumer. The tax in the case of a large chain store amounts to about eighty-five cents a day, and in the case of smaller chains it will be materially smaller. The only merchandising advantage of the chain stores is price, because the average person would rather deal with his community grocer, drug store or meat merchant. The chain store will not sacrifice its merchandising advantage for eighty-five cents a day. We want this bill exactly as it is drawn, and I object to the amendments.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an integral part of the fiscal policy of the administration. We all realize that the State needs money and needs it badly. Upon the state's fiscal policies, on these and other bills will depend the support of our schools, of our hospitals, the continuance of the payments of asistance to the aged, the continuance of payments to the blind and other well merited policies of the government, things for which the government is responsible; the maintainence of our penal institutions; in fact every policy of the government and every activity of the government depends upon raising this revenue.

We can, or those who have prepared this policy and have prepared this bill, can tell to a reasonable degree of accuracy the amount of money that will be raised under this measure. If we accept the amendment of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, we have no means of knowing with any degree of accuracy whatsoever what amount of revenue will be raised with such a mutilated bill. And this measure is not a great burden upon the chair stores. The chain stores have decided advantages which the independent merchant does not have. If you do not have a telephone in your home you go to your neighboring grocery store and use the telephone. The great chain stores, most of them, do not even have a telephone, and when they want to telephone they go to the neighboring store across the street and use his telephone and save probably sixty cents or seventy-five cents a day.

I had an illustration the other day of a chain store that wanted some hot water. They didn't even have hot water, and they had to go to a fellow business man to get it.

They are favored in the purchase of goods because of the large amount of goods they can purchase at one time, and the amount of money that the chain stores will be compelled to pay is not going to be burdensome to them.

In view of the fact, ladies and gentlemen, that the whole fiscal policy depends to a large degree upon this type of legislation and the passage of this bill in its present form, I ask you to vote "no" on the amendment of the gentleman from Berks.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, in order to intelligently vote on the amendment I should like to interrogate, if it is in order, the sponsor of this bill to ascertain how he arrives at the income under a certain section to which Mr. Hoopes referred. May I interrogate the sponsor?

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, to say that in sub-paragraph (a) of section seven, upon each store in excess of thirty, that $100 would be paid. May I ask how he arrives at the total for the income of fifty stores, whether it goes back section by section to the first, because there is some confusion.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe I thoroughly understand that question. I believe it should be addressed to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, is the sponsor of this bill?

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Would the gentleman explain to me, Mr. Speaker, section seven and how the revenue is derived,—in what way the revenue is derived?

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in this bill that arrives at revenue. The estimate of the revenue that the bill will raise is made by the Department of Revenue, and as I stated before I have implicit confidence in their findings.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman object to telling me how he figures the amount for each store up to and including a total of fifty?

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, upon the first store the sum of $2.00; for each store more than two but not in excess of five stores, $5.00 for each additional store. That means $2.00 for the first store and $5.00 for the second, $5.00 on the third, $5.00 on the fourth, and $5.00 on the fifth; $10.00 on the sixth, $10.00 on the seventh, and so forth. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. SPROUL. Yes, Mr. Speaker, that answers my question, and the interpretation of the gentleman agrees with mine. May I interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, interpret the words, "each store" in the same fashion as the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Paterson, does?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question, I am unable to determine how the gentleman from Allegheny interprets it, he merely read the bill. I am willing to place my interpretation on it.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the interpretation of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation I think the best interpretation is by example. The example I use is in the case of a small chain which has thirty-nine stores. According to the bill, as I understand it, the first store will be taxed $2.00 and the next four stores will be taxed $5.00 each, or $20.00 together. The next five stores will be taxed $10.00 each or $50.00 altogether, to add to the preceeding amount. The next five stores $20.00 each or $100.00. The next five stores will be taxed $30.00 each or $150.00. The next ten stores will be taxed $35.00 each or $350.00 and the remaining nine stores will be taxed $100.00 each or $900.00 making a total for the thirty-nine stores of $1,572.00.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as both gentlemen agree with my interpretation, but a number of outsiders do not, might I inquire from the gentleman from Allegheny that he further clarify the terms of the bill.

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. May I ask the gentleman to repeat that last statement, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, if he will agree either by amendment or otherwise to further clarify the terms of these sections so as make them perfectly clear to every one. May I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, if he will be agreeable on his own bill to further clarify so that every one will understand equally the terms of the bill?

Mr. J. W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not agree with the gentleman that the bill needs further clarification. It seems to me that the term, "Each additional store" is clear in every instance, therefore it can only mean that the second store will pay $5.00 and the first store will continue to pay $2.00. There can be no further interpretation of that in my opinion.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, is satisfied, I am.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the arguments which I made for the amendments, some of the majority of this House have made an argument which I don't think should be allowed to pass unanswered. They state that this bill was brought in here to us by the administration as part of its program, and therefore we should swallow it whole, "as is" without amendment.

I submit that it is the proper function of the administration to prepare a budget and to suggest possible means of raising revenue, but further than that it is our function to determine how revenues shall be raised and not the function of the executive or the administration.

I think it is entirely improper that we should be told that we should swallow a bill whole just because it was brought in here by the administration. I ask you to consider these amendmetts on their merits and to vote "aye."

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, know what the net income of Pennsylvania corporations is?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, then, the gentleman is offering an amendment which is unknown as far as a revenue raiser is concerned against a bill which has a definite revenue raising provision, is that correct?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, that is not correct.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. May I inquire why, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I am offering my guess against that of the administration.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he has any figures to base his estimates upon?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, nothing definite, no.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks tell us what tax an individual store would pay where the net income is $2,000?

Mr. Hoopes. Mr. Speaker, with a net income of $2,000 under the proposed tax of two per cent it would pay $40,000.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks tell what tax would be paid in an instance of this sort?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, you can not possibly tell because it is not based upon net income; it is based upon the number of stores that the particular proprietor may own. He may have a net income of a million dollars and pay only $2.00 if he owns only one store. On the other hand if he happens to be the proprietor of 100 stores he would pay a couple thousand dollars.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, although I am not in favor of an income tax I find the objection to the amendment as offered by the gentleman from Berks, in that one store would pay a tax probably much higher than is provided under this bill and for that reason I believe the amendment as offered by the gentleman from Berks is faulty. I do believe if we had more time we could probably prepare amendment to this bill which would meet the objections on the part of some members of the House. For that reason I will vote against the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 3, line 1, by inserting after the word "located" the following: "and except the producing wells and natural gas producing territory of natural gas companies engaged in public service"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker I object to the amendment and ask the House to vote it down.

May I interrogate the gentleman from McKean?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will the gentleman tell me why he put these amendments in?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, to answer that question raises generally what I was going to say in support of the amendment. I will answer that question specifically.

The principle reason why there should be an exception in the case of natural gas companies is because this bill provides for the taxation of certain real property belonging to public utilities companies. Natural gas companies by their very nature are essentially different from all other utilities in this essential regard: they must at all times carry a huge reserve in order to serve their customers over a reasonable period of time. They must provide in advance an immense reserve producing territory, which is essentially real estate, and therefore, would be taxable under this bill. A natural gas company consists of two distinct branches which are different from other public service companies in that they must be prepared to have transmission and distribution lines, and in addition to that they are in a sense a mining corporation in that they must go in and explore and provide in advance a supply of natural gas for many years to come. There is an additional reason: it frequently happens that natural gas is produced in one territory; it cannot be moved, you cannot move your gas producing territory as you could move a power plant, and the sale takes place frequent very far from the district in which it is produced which would result in raising the price to people in entirely different counties. Does that answer the question?

Mr. HOLLAND. Can you tell me how many gas wells there are in Pennsylvania? Is it not true that most of the utilities are pumping from West Virginia today?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that is so. The largest gas fields which have been struck in recent years in the Northeastern States are up in Potter and Tioga counties in the State of Pennsylvania. The condition that you describe did prevail a few years back in regard to gas companies in the Pittsburgh district, but at the present time that is not the case.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this House vote down this amendment. Today the people in Pennsylvania are paying more for gas than they rightly should pay and I feel that the gas reserves should be taxed as well as the real estate, therefore, I ask this House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. KANE. May I speak on behalf of the amendment?

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in rising to defend this proposed amendment, I speak to you about an industry with which most people in the state are unfamiliar, but upon which a large part of the western and northwestern sections of the state and the extreme southwestern section of the state are to a great extent dependent for their fuel supply. To place a tax which would make it impossible for the companies serving the public to maintain an adequate reserve for the purpose of supplying the public at a low price for some time to come would only result in the further exploitation of the resources of the Commonwealth for the purpose of pouring this precious natural gas out at very low competitive rates against coal and oil and other cheaper fuels which the industries, such as mills, would use in boilers all over the state. What I propose here is an amendment which will enable the public service companies to maintain sufficient reserves to serve the public for a long time to come, and not force the holdings of these natural resources into the hands of those who will pump it as cheaply and quickly as possible to the nearest available market. I am not arguing the question of whether the rates in any particular community of the public service companies are or are not fair. We have a separate method of dealing with the question of rates which are too high or too low. The trouble with a measure of this sort when it is passed under the guise of a rate measure is this: that it unfortunately more frequently strikes harder on the man whose rates are fair, than on the man whose rates are unfair, or on the companies whose rates are fair than on the company whose rates are unfair, because the one who is charging too much is able to bear this tax, whereas the one who is charging a fair rate finds this tax a tremendous hardship; and one who is not trying to make his money quickly by dumping the resources of the Commonwealth at panic prices will have to pay a tremendous sum to carry that reserve in forward in the future. Where the man that is dumping his stuff quickly at any price he can get will naturally develop the same amount of acreage intensively, completely drain the territory and escape in a short time any taxation whatever because he will let the land go at tax sales.

I am offering this amendment for the purpose of protecting the public, and particularly the public who have installed at much expense in many cases gas burning equipment and appliances, relying upon the fact that they are going to have a natural gas supply for many years to come. If you tax in such manner as to make the preservation of that supply impossible you are putting a great hardship upon those consumers throughout western Pennsylvania. If the rate question is to be considered it should be considered in legislation aimed at rates and not carried under the guise of a tax measure on real estate. Thank you, sir.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean on this proposition.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, how many of the public utilities serving the people of Pennsylvania with gas are owned by holding companies?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he means under the bill before the House, my amendment dealing with natural gas, or the term gas company as used in the bill. You mean natural gas companies?

Mr. REISING. The point I am trying to make, and to make clear, is this: are you really talking for the people or for the owners of the holding companies when you offer this amendment?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I find the question more or less argumentative and the statement in its nature is impossible to answer. We are not dealing with holding companies but with a tax on real estate.

Mr. REISING. And the holding companies own the real estate.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, although that question is not germane to the subject I take this occasion to answer it nevertheless, as it may serve to enlighten some of the members of this House in regard to this particular condition. I speak from only a slight experience perhaps, but my experience is that the holding company never owns real estate, it is always the operating subsidiary that owns the real estate on which this tax would be placed. The operating company, in my experience at least, invariably owns personal property in the nature of stocks and bonds of the operating subsidiary company, but I am not arguing this amendment with reference to any effect on holding companies. I don't care about the holding company situation in this measure. I am arguing about the producing companies which are producing over a long period of years and have the essential resources to serving the public, those are the operating companies.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, owing to the confusion around here I am unable to find out just what your amendment does. I would like to know what part of the natural gas companies or their property you exempt from this bill?

Mr. KANE. It is my intention, Mr. Speaker, to exempt from local taxation on real estate the wells and the gas property on which those wells are located which are used in the public service for supplying gas to the customer. I am not interested at all in gas lands that are held for purposes of speculation either by public service companies or anybody else, but merely that part of the territory which is now or which will shortly hereafter be devoted to the public service. The bill as drawn already exempts the pipe line, for example, from the well to the customer. I believe that the well itself is at least as esential a part of the public service feature of the gas company as is the pipe line that goes from the well to the meter in the customer's house. Does that make it clear?

Mr. EROE. Do I understand that the real estate and offices in the poltical subdivisions where they distribute this gas—that is not exempted under your amendment?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, my amendment does not cover office buildings; it does not cover any real estate which they own which is not devoted to the production of the product they sell to the public. My amendment only covers the wells and the gas under the ground—it has to be real estate, you see. Other companies when they own real estate have real estate not essentially connected with the public service aspect of the company. A natural gas company by its very nature—the words "natural gas" covers the point—it must produce that product from real estate which it must acquire in advance and hold during the long term that it intends to serve the public. Is that clear?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Will not this bill place a disadvantage upon those pumping gas from Pennsylvania real estate or ground, as against those pumping gas from other states?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker it is my opinion that this will place a considerable burden on those producing in Pennsylvania and selling to other states as contrasting with those who produce, for instance, in New York State and West Virginia and sell in Pennsylvania. It would place a burden upon the Company owning this land in our own state.

Mr SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from McKean, answered my question. I ask the members of the House to vote for this amendment for the reason that otherwise it will help penalize Pennsylvania industry and I believe cause unemployment in and as against those pumping from other districts outside of the state.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 6, 1935.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou great Creator and Preserver of all things, Thy word teaches us that Moses, before promulgating his code of laws to govern Israel, climbed to the summit of a high mountain and talked with Thee face to face. Thus only was he capable of wisely proclaiming and enforcing law. This Mosaic code was engraved upon the tables of stone and is today engraved upon the hearts of humanity. It is the fountain from which flows every good law of every age.

Call the law-givers assembled in this beautiful Capitol building into Thy presence. May this hill upon which are want to meet be a modern Sinai and speak unto them face to face so that their enactments may please Thee.

Bless those who are in authority and those who are under authority. Bring us all under Thy authority. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

Which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

URGING THE UNSEATING OF THE SENATOR FROM DELAWARE

Mr. PRINCE presented petition signed by numerous citizens of Delaware County urging the unseating of Senator John J. McClure.

Which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PROTESTING AGAINST INCREASING THE GASOLINE TAX

Mr. RANKIN presented to the Senate several petitions from individuals in Pittsburgh protesting against further increasing the tax on gasoline.

Which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

PROTESTING AGAINST ADDITIONAL TAXES

Mr. REED (Washington) presented the following petition from the Washington County Taxpayers League:

Whereas, Real estate is an inanimate object, and therefore can of itself pay no taxes for the support of the government, and

Whereas, Real estate owners are being required to pay $27 of each $28 of the cost of government, and

Whereas, Real estate owners are required to pay fuel taxes, registration and drivers license fees to support streets, roads, and highways in addition to the direct taxes for that purpose, and

Whereas, Real estate owners are required to pay their share of all other taxes in addition to the direct taxes against real estate, and

Whereas, For the above mentioned reasons no money is available for building, improving or investing in real estate with a resulting unemployment among the building trades;

Therefore, We respectfully recommend to the members of the General Assembly now in session in Harrisburg, that proper legislation be enacted exempting real estate from all direct taxation; thereby reducing the cost of government by doing away with the cost of assessing property and incidentally the cost of tax collection;

Resolved, That the maintenance of the Public School System is the sovereign duty of the state; and, in as much, as all school bonds have been placed upon the several districts by the state at the demand of state officials, or permitted to have been voted upon the several districts by an irresponsible citizenship, therefore we are of the opinion that such indebtedness must be assumed by the state.

Resolved, That we favor a consumer's sales tax to relieve real estate from direct taxation, but we are opposed to such tax unless real estate is to be relieved proportionately, for the reason that such tax would then become an additional tax on real estate.

Resolved, That we favor a flat income tax to relieve real estate from taxation, but only until such time as a graduated income tax can be secured.

Resolved, That since many of the laws for the relief of the burden of taxation against real estate, can not be secured without a new constitution, therefore we favor the adoption of a new constitution at the earliest possible time.

Resolved, That the cost of government must be reduced, hence we recommend that all government salaries be reduced by a graduated reduction plan—the largest reduction on the largest salaries and the least reduction on the lower salaries.

Resolved, That the matter of housing those unable to pay rent is the duty of the general public, therefore we insist that the relief agencies should consult with the landlord and agree upon a fair rental to be paid to the landlord in such cases.

Resolved, That in as much as all tax delinquencies have been brought about by conditions the control of which have been beyond the power of the taxpayers, therefore we ask that all delinquent taxes prior to 1935 be exonerated, provided the current taxes for 1935 be promptly paid, or until real estate is relieved from all direct taxes.

Resolved, That whereas the present tax system penalizes the real estate owner for improvements, we believe that the within recommended plan will operate to create an incentive among our citizens to desire to own their own farms and homes, and thus create a market and demand for materials and labor and bring about recovery.

Resolved, That mortgage and judgment foreclosures should be stayed for two years.

Passed regularly by the Washington County Taxpayers League in their special meeting called at the court house in Washington, Saturday afternoon, March 2, 1935.

W. G. POTTER, Secretary,
W. P. ROGERS, President.

Which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Resolved, That the Senate requests the State Emergency Relief Board to specify, wherever possible, in its purchase of supplies for distribution to the unemployed, products of Pennsylvania manufacture where such products are equal in quality and not in excess of the price of products manufactured in other states.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and members of the Senate assembled here today: this is March the 6th and we have gotten nowhere very rapidly. We are today possibly in the same position that we were when we came to the Capitol at the beginning of the Session. I am finding fault with no one. I do, however, hear in different places and under different conditions, that the burden and the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania rests on the shoulders of thirty-one Republican Senators. I do not subscribe to that proposition. The burden of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania lies on the shoulders of fifty Senators and every member of the House of Representatives and the Executive Department of our Government. It is the burden of every man and no particular set of men. We are here to perform a duty, a duty, the like of which has never been on the shoulders of any administration or any legislative body in the history of Pennsylvania. We have before us the question of a Constitutional Convention; we have before us a large number of tax bills. The program of a Constitutional Convention has, to some extent, been prepared by our administration. The tax bills have been prepared by our administration. They are measures in which the Republicans of this State have had no voice. They are a meal that has been served to us with a sort of statement "take it or leave it." There are thirty-one Senators of Republican affiliation in this Senate. Those thirty-one men are men who are representative men in the community from which they come. They are here representing not only those communities, they are here representing this great Commonwealth, they are here, thirty-one Senators of Pennsylvania, and not of the particular district they represent. They are here and I feel confident of what I am about to say, they represent the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to do the right thing by all the people therein. They want to take care of capital and industry, they want to take care of the working man, the unemployed, the manufacturer, the farmer and every constituent part of this Commonwealth, and those thirty-one men are entitled to be in the close confidence of the people who are trying to lay down the rules and regulations and the proceedings regarding taxes, or what should not be done so far as constitutional conventions are concerned. It is the duty of the fifty men, and above all things else on both sides, whether it be Republican or Democrat, they must take politics out of these very serious considerations of convention and taxation.

These are not political issues, they must not be made the football of political parties and there is only one way —only one fair way and only one square way to the people of this Commonwealth by which a sensible solution of these problems can be made, and that sensible solution is that whether you be a Republican or Democrat, when you are a member of this body, you must assume your share of the responsibility.

This Commonwealth must have money; this Governor must have money, not for himself, but in order that this Commonwealth may endure and the people therein receive the benefit of it. But there is a diversity of opinion, and that diversity of opinion can only be adjusted by compromise, by a sane sensible compromise, where each party and each faction shall have the opportunity to voice this sentiment, and as soon as the responsibility of the final enactment of such laws and such regulations as we in our best opinion may feel will inure to the benefit of all our people. We must meet around the round table, we must meet in a friendly spirit and go to these meetings with a feeling that politics must not enter into these propositions. It is not a Republican duty, nor is it a Democratic duty, it is a duty of men, a duty of outstanding men, to serve their Commonwealth, and serve their people, and I now call—and I may be censured, I do not know, by newspapers or anybody else, for the statement I am making—I now call on all the men outstanding in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and particularly those in whose charge this legislation is entrusted, to get around the round table and with the spirit of brotherhood and love for his fellow-man, try to solve this serious problem, take poverty out of politics and politics out of poverty and be real human beings and do our duty as God Almighty and the State of Pennsylvania want us to do. Let us start now.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 448, entitled:

An act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, the bill now under consideration and the bill following it—Senate Bills Nos. 448 and 449,—are bills to transfer money, first, from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund, and, secondly, from the Firemen's Insurance Tax Fund to the General Fund, and they are followed by three bills appropriating money, in turn, from the General Fund to old age assistance, pensions for the blind, and for administrative purposes in connection with these two very worthy objects. I do not want to be considered as an obstructionist when it comes to appropriating money for the blind or the aged, but I do feel that we, as members of this Senate, are entitled to know why this money is necessary. We have not been furnished—at least I have not seen any figures from any department,—executive department or otherwise—showing us why our General Fund is in such condition as to make necessary these transfers.

We met here last September in special session, and we were then asked to transfer some fourteen million dollars from special funds to the General Fund, as I understood it, for these very same purposes, and I further understand that these bills are to be followed with a bill appropriating money to make up deficiencies for hospitals, all of them very worthy objects. I say I do not want to be an obstructionist, but I do intend to vote against these first two bills in order that we may register our protest against being called upon to transfer money from the road fund and from the fire insurance fund without being furnished with sufficient figures and reasons therefor. And I further now want to serve notice on this Senate and on the people of the State that this money from the road fund will never be returned, and I am making the same statement with reference to the money from the firemen's fund.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, on last Monday evening, in the lower House, the leader of the Republican assemblymen presented a resolution pledging every member of the Assembly to the passage of these bills. It was passed by unanimous vote. It was immediately sent to this body. It was placed before the body immediately on a motion by Senator Salus and every member of the Senate voted for that resolution, pledging himself to vote for those two transfers. Not a single objection was raised, and the Senator who has just spoken, cast his vote for the resolution. The Senator who has just spoken said that the transfers were made from this same fund at the last session. That is not correct, because the old age pension, about which the Senator has just spoken, voted against it at the session before last. Every member of the Senate voted for it at the last session, but the Senator on last Monday night, pledged himself by his vote, or by his silence in failing to vote against this resolution, to support this bill, and I would like to know how the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, can predict that this money will not be returned. I would like to know how anyone here can predict what is going to happen in this session. I challenge the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, to furnish the proof that this money will not be returned.

I would like to say another thing: if these two transfers are not made, what is going to be done with the people who have been on the old age pension list? Are they going to be returned to the poor houses? Are they going to be starved? In the bill it provides one hundred dollars for their burial. What is going to happen to them when they die? I would like the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, who objected to these two bills, to this transfer, to just tell me what they are going to do to take care of the situation. We provide a way of doing it. They tell us it is wrong. I would like them now to tell us what to do. Unless they do provide some way of taking care of these people then would say to them if they defeat these bills it is their fault and they will have to bear the brunt.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, raised a very pertinent question and I for one will say very frankly that if the moneys were available from other sources for this purpose, I would vote against the transfer. If the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will read the budget, which has been in our hands since the 14th of February, or if he had listened to the statements by His Excellency the Governor, and I think if he had listened on Monday night, when I made my remarks concerning the budget, he would find, first, that there was no transfer made to cover this situation, but as a matter of fact, the old age pension and pension for the blind was an act which related to the liquor fund profits. It was estimated at that time that the liquor fund profits would be sufficient to pay these items. Consequently, it is impossible for this money to be raised for the budget, from the very nature of the figures submitted to us, and that indicates clearly that there is $185,000,000, of expense which will be required to meet the actual expenses of the government, old age pensions, pensions for the blind and the revenue for increased tax bond issue, and that to meet that $185,000,000, there is only income of $128,000,000. It is true further that there is a $49,000,000, shortage from the last biennium, which is shown in the budget, due to the fact that included in that is $15,000,000, transferred for the purpose of taking care of unemployment in the last special session. Now it is obvious you cannot out of $128,000,000, get enough money to pay an actually known debt of $185,000,000. There is no money in the treasury now. There will be no money unless additional taxes are imposed, and certainly with a shortage of at least $50,000,000. confronting us for the next two years, I cannot see how anyone can question the fact that the statements made to us by His Excellency, the Governor, that there is not sufficient money in the treasury, and will not be, to meet these demands, that no one can doubt those figures. It is, of course, to be understood that the moneys now to be paid out are included in this budget. In other words, there will be a deficit of some $49,000,000. The $50,000,000, in the regular expenses are a deficit because of the fact that we contemplate paying these various sums of money out eventually if the program for unemployment relief, pensions for the blind and old age pensions, is worked out. These moneys will be returned. I for one say frankly, I do not care whether they are returned. I do not think anyone in this Senate should hesitate to vote in favor of these bills because this money will not be returned, because I say very frankly it is more important that these people, to whom we have obligated ourselves to pay money, shall receive the money because they need it now. What will happen six months from now I do not know, but I predict unless we take a broader aspect of this whole situation, some of us will see things happen that none of us expected, inasmuch as the Commonwealth is in a financial situation such as it has never been before. It needs money and has no money. The unemployed need assistance, and unless we take steps to feed the citizens who are hungry, we will have something worse to contend with.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am delighted to vote for both of these bills, because I believe that all these special funds except the sinking funds, are a reflection upon our intelligence. It is like saying we do not know how to appropriate money out of the General Fund, and, therefore, we have to earmark money.

I am especially delighted to vote for No. 2 bill. I have tried since 1919 to get money from the Firemen's Relief Association to the State Treasury. It is impossible because every fire-house is political. You never get anywhere with the bill. I never could understand why the Firemen's Relief Association should raid the treasury, and take two per cent. tax on foreign fire insurance. They do it every year, and here is a glorious opportunity to use that money in the General Fund, and I for one will vote for it if it will never be repaid.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I want to address my few remarks to our Republican Senators and not to the Democrats. We have been listening now since pretty nearly a year back, and quite frequently over in the House to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, telling us about this depleted treasury that he has, and while I am holding no brief for the Pinchot administration, we hear of the great deficit left over by the Pinchot administration, and now our Governor, and rightfully so, I find no fault with him, comes along and asks us to do exactly what the former Governor asked us to do, and create a deficiency. We will do this today, if my Republican colleagues will agree, and will create a new deficiency, under the same theory that it was created by Governor Pinchot, and from today on our Dmocratic friends cannot push that under our noses, and I am tired of hearing it, more so then the rest of you, because I have a bigger nose.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is with reluctance that I arise at this time to say a word concerning these bills. I intend to vote for both of them, but I feel compelled to rise on my feet at this time for the reason that the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, has stated he does not expect these funds to be returned. I think that is a serious matter, and if I felt that this money is not to be returned to this Motor Fund, I most assuredly would vote against this bill. We were given a pledge when we voted to take this money last fall from the Motor Fund, we pledged ourselves to return it. We are pledging ourselves by this bill to return that money to the Motor Fund, and likewise to return to the Firemen's Fund the money in the next bill. I, for one, believe that the people of Pennsylvania wish us, in representing them here in this body, to see that the Motor Fund of this State is kept inviolate, that it be used for the construction of roads and roads only. That is what it was intended for, gentlemen, and that is what we, if we respect the sentiment of our people, must spend it for.

As I say, I do not believe in the diversion of the Motor Fund and using it for anything but road purposes. I do not believe in the levying of a gasolene tax which the people are willing to pay for road purposes and not for other purposes, and I do not think that any Senator, when he votes for this bill, should be compelled to have it go out to the public that his vote for this bill means that he is in favor of the diversion of the Motor Fund. The bill pledges that it is to be returned, and it is on that understanding that I am voting for this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, whether he also considers the Firemen's Fund to have been set aside?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it has been set aside for that purpose, and the Firemen's Relief Association, as I understand it, has been able to pay on the basis that this fund will be available for it, and I think that we should not take that money away from them finally. I think it has been appropriated for that purpose and should be kept for that purpose. I was fully aware of Dr. Woodward's contention that particular funds should go into the General Fund, and we should make our appropriation. I do not agree with that position, and I think I speak the sentiments of many of my colleagues in so stating.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am going to vote for these bills, but I am going to vote for them reluctantly, and only because I believe that it ties up the integrity of the present administration to what they say—what the Governor has told us he will do—restore these funds to the Highway Department, where they belong. Our friends on the left side of this body, in the special session, with one accord voted against the transfer. Today they say that it is necessary, and they are going to vote with most of the Republican Senators to transfer still further funds. That puts this administration squarely behind the action that was taken in the last special session, as well as this session. I heartily agree with the remarks of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, that the load already imposed on motorists is so great that we should not divert, except for temporary purposes, the money used for the highway department. Up in northeastern Pennsylvania, at the time of the recent ice storms, we found three weeks ago that the highway department failed to cinder the roads, and that made it so dangerous that there were many accidents and several deaths, and the highway department said that there was no money for the purpose. The Chief Executive told us on Monday evening that this would not interfere with the program of the highway department, because plans had been made, If it will not interfere temporarily, it certainly does interfere with what has been the majority relief method in the rural districts of Pennsylvania.

Our friend from Philadelphia, has talked about the Firemen's Fund. I have been informed that if we divert this money from the firemen, we are also diverting a fund that is used for pension purposes, for relief purposes, for those volunteer firemen who helped to preserve life and property throughout the Commonwealth, and who have been told that they need this money, that they are already greatly in arrears. I am going to vote for that on the strength of the statement by the leader of the Democratic side this afternoon, that the firemen have come to an understanding with the administration and are to receive a certain amount of money now owing them, because they put in the money that they are paying in relief to the men who have been injured, who have given their services voluntarily in the Commonwealth in fighting fires.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to read the second section of this bill: "The amounts transferred under this act from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund shall be repaid to the Motor License Fund out of the General Fund not later than December 31, 1935."

I consider the passage of this bill as a binding promise on the part of the Democrats to return this money to the Motor Fund. It is just as binding as the resolution presented by Representative Witkin, passed in the House, and passed by the Senate.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, it certainly must be interesting to the gentlemen on the left to see that all the Republican members are rather solicitous about these bills and for one time they can sit there silently and let them talk their heads off.

I did not intend to say anything at all, but I could not let it pass by for fear that I might be considered as agreeing with the remarks made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward. He knows, as well as most of the Senators here who served in the House, that I have had to make the fight in the House to retain the Firemen's Fund. I now say again, that if the opportunity presents itself while I am serving in the Senate, I propose to make the same fight, and I do so without any shame whatsoever. We in the rural sections do not have paid fire companies; Philadelphia does. All the fire houses in the rural sections are not political—it is still a place where, when the gong or siren sounds, they come out of their homes, without any pay whatsoever, and if they are injured in the course of their duty, who is going to take care of them and their families? This fund was created expressly for that purpose, and if it had not been stated here—and I understand the sponsor of the bill will so state, at least I hope he will—that there was an agreement made with the officers of the volunteer firemen's relief association that it is entirely proper and regular for us to take these funds, I would be in a serious position here today, because I would be the last one to try to take funds from the blind and aged, those who are not able to take care of themselves. On the other hand, it is just as serious a question for us as to whether or not we are now going to say that a fund which we created, that which has stood all these years, that that should be robbed and pillaged for no other reason than that somebody could not believe in that fund. As far as both of these funds are concerned, in my humble opinion, these transfers are going to be made at the proper time. I have not yet arrived at the stage where I believe that the Chief Executive of the State would say that it is entirely necessary and proper, and the only thing that can be done to save the day is to make these transfers, if that were not the case. He would be stating a deliberate falsehood, because certainly before this session is over that will come to light, and I do not think His Excellency would stoop to that; and I, for one, feel that in voting for these transfers, I do so with the thought in mind and with the firm and honest belief that both these funds will be reimbursed for the amount that will be taken away from them by this Senate today.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be pleased.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, if his statement that these moneys will be returned, is not dependent upon additional taxation being levied by this present legislature.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, then what would happen if this legislature refuses to levy additional taxes?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have no doubt that the legislature will make sufficient appropriation. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, predicted that there would not be, and I predict that there will be.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not going to stand here and be the only one to oppose a measure that has humanitarian matters contained in it, but I am not a bit sorry that I raised the issue. I am not a bit sorry that we have had this discussion on the floor here. I think it means something to the future action of the administration and the future action of this Senate, and in view of the discussion and the pledges that have been here on the floor, I shall withdraw the objection to these bills and shall vote with the majority for them.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 449, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, the question of the transfer of money from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund has already been raised, and I am simply at this time going to make a statement that I think I should make in behalf of the firemen of Pennsylvania. Every member of the Senate undoubtedly has received a letter from the Firemen's Association of the State of Pennsylvania, signed by the Secretary, Millard Tawney, voicing objection to this bill, and I must say that when those objections were made,—I can find no fault with their having raised the question, because they are naturally interested in this special fund—I told them at the time that I would be very glad to go with them to the Governor's office and see whether an understanding could be arrived at which would be satisfactory to them. I want to say that the firemen of Pennsylvania as represented by this Committee, acted very fairly and they cooperated very nicely, realizing the need for which this transfer is made, or at least is proposed to be made.

There is not a member in this Senate who does not know, or who is not aware of the sad condition of the hospitals of this State, many of them are about to close their doors, and it would be a terrible calamity to the population of this great State if this thing should happen, and they very gladly have agreed to compromise, and have compromised, whereby they will immediately receive a portion of the moneys that are now due them, and they said they would do it willingly, because they want to cooperate. I want to say that I would not vote for this bill if I did not believe, and believe sincerely, that the money should and would be returned. I have not the slightest doubt about that; if I did, I would vote against the bill, because this money is not spent for the firemen in a purely personal, or in a social or political way, if you please, but it is used to help crippled firemen, dependent orphans and widows, and they are certainly entitled to every penny that is provided by this fund. As you will notice in the bill, it will be returned by the end of the present year, and I have absolute faith that the money will be returned, and it would be a reflection on the State of Pennsylvania, this Senate and the House of Representatives, if we did not provide funds whereby it will be returned.

Mr. President, I make this statement on behalf of the firemen who so generously and so valiantly agreed to this transfer in order that the hospitals of Pennsylvania might not suffer.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I shall simply take a moment of the time of the Senate, because I want to express my appreciation of the remarks which the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, has just made with respect to the Firemen's Association. The Chairman of the law committee, who is a resident of my district, very naturally told me yesterday, voicing his opinion, that the passage of this bill would seriously imperil this fund, that there would be no funds to meet necessitous cases which would arise, and, in the same spirit of fairness, he came to me, representing the Firemen's Organization of Pennsylvania, this morning, to say that they were perfectly satisfied with the arrangement. I think that this organization has exhibited a spirit of real patriotism, and I am therefore glad to endorse the statement made by the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, and to cast my vote for this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, after listening to the Democratic floor leader, I am convinced that he has at least one fire-house in his district. Now you can very well talk about widows and orphans, they are always in every situation. I would like to tell you a few things, because I have had them in my mind a long time. Some of you know who Judge Bonniwell is. He was President of this association for many years—the Firemen's Association, and at an unguarded moment, perhaps, he confided to me that unfortunately this money was used for firemen's balls, picnics, parades, etc. The other gentlemen, whom I recall as a former Speaker, Mr. Goodnough, he lives at Emporium, he told me the Firemen's Association never spent any of this money in firemen's relief. There are two sides to every question.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1935.

Whereas, The immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase tremendously the purchasing power of millions of the consuming public, distributed uniformly throughout the Nation; and will provide relief for the holders thereof who are in dire need and distress because of the present unfortunate economic conditions; and will lighten immeasurably the burden which cities, counties and States are now required to carry for relief; and

Whereas, The payment of said certificates will not create any additional debt, but will discharge and retire an acknowledged contract obligation of the government; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth recommends and urges the immediate cash payment at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 553, entitled:

An Act relating to mob violence and lynching; making members of a mob and accessories thereto when death results guilty of murder, and guilty of a felony where no death results; providing for the enforcement of this act by district attorneys, the Attorney General and prosecutors designated by the Governor; fixing civil liabilities in such cases; and prescribing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House there seem to be a number of legal difficulties and technicalities surrounding my bill, House Bill 553. The lawyers are not yet agreed as to what is involved in these difficulties.

I want to move, in order to save the bill I believe they are quite sincere, that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study, that the lawyers may themselves make up their minds.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—2

Achterman,	Reising,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 870, entitled:

An Act requiring cities of the first class to allow members of the police departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week except in emergency cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson, whether he is familiar with the contents of House Bill No. 870?

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, I am, and I prepared the said bill House Bill No. 193.

Mr. WITKIN. And, Mr. Speaker when did the gentleman introduce that bill?

Mr. JACKSON. On the twenty-first of January, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. And is that bill the same in substance as House Bill No. 870?

Mr. JACKSON. The same in substance as in House Bill 870.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker I understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia is not discussing the bill that is before the House.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Jackson, wishes to answer the interrogation that is his privilege.

Mr. JACKSON. I have no objection, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker I have finished with the interrogation.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House in asking your support for House Bill No. 870, I do so because we on this side of the House are in principle in accord with the substance of House Bill No. 870. We are so much in accord with that principle that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson, on January 21 introduced such a bill———

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, since the Chair has just ruled that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson, was privileged to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, does that give the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, the privilege of discussing a bill that is not before the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read for the information of the members of the House House Rule No. 3: "He (meaning the Speaker) shall preserve order and decorum and in debate shall prevent personal reflection, and confine members to the question under discussion. When two or more members shall rise at the same time, he shall name the one entitled to the floor."

The bill under discussion is House Bill No. 870 and the gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself to the discussion of that bill.

The Chair will also like to read Rule 63: "When a member is about to speak in debate, or to communicate any matter to the House, he shall rise, and, respectfully address himself to 'Mr. Speaker,' confining his remarks to the subject before the House, and avoiding personal reflections."

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker in discussing the merits or demerits of House Bill No. 870, wherein the particular subject therein contained, with very little difference in the framing of said bill, is the same as another bill introduced in this House, do I not have the right to refer to the subject matter of those bills in arguing the merits or demerits in this particular piece of legislation?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has always tried to be fair and give a wide latitude on all the rules, but it seems that there have been a number of instances in this House where members have transgressed and have taken the widest kind of latitude in discussing measures before the House. Under the rules, as the Chair has read members of the House, are confined strictly to the Bill then under discussion. The Chair, however, is inclined to be liberal, provided the debate is kept within reasonable limits.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House interpreting the Speaker's ruling, as he has just stated, with some degree of liberally, I merely want to direct your attention to the fact that this bill ought to be passed, we are in favor of passing it, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson, when he was interrogated stated that he was in favor of this bill being passed by this House. In answer to an inquiry he said that on January 21, 1935 in order that this meritorious piece of legislation might be enacted in the law by its passage through this House and then go over to the Senate, he introduced such a bill.

We have before us at this moment House Bill No. 870, which was introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, on February 18, 1935. As I have said to you before and as I say to the Republican members of this House, just because this bill bears a higher number and just because of the fact that it is introduced by a Democrat from Philadelphia in lieu of the original sponsor of the bill—a Republican from Philadelphia—do not vote against the bill for that reason. Let us pass it, and if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty wants to take unto himself such legislation after the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jackson, conceived it in his mind let us be good sports and vote for it any way.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House as the sponsor of House Bill No. 870, which provides for twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in each calendar week for policemen in cities of the first class I feel that I should have something to say when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, tells you that a similar bill was introduced before.

House Bill No. 870 provides that those twenty-four hours of consecutive rest in each week will be granted excepting in certain cases. In the previous bill one of the exceptions was the preservation of the public peace, which means that it is always a policeman's duty to preserve the public peace, and, therefore, that bill provided for a twenty-four consecutive hours of rest "except" never. That bill having developed a joker, we now have Bill No. 870 which provides for it in a proper manner, and I hope everybody present will vote for this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, in describing House Bill No. 193 referred to it as a joker. His defense of the fact that he has introduced House Bill No. 870 falls when the two bills are considered, and though I do not blame him for making the explanation that he did, nevertheless in substance both bills are identical and no words of explanation he has to offer can eradicate that fact from the mind of any gentleman who reads the two bills.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 316, as follows:

A Joint Resolution authorizing the Attorney General to arrange for and hold a conference on crime and making an appropriation

Whereas Crime has become so rampant throughout the United States as to hinder the development of social and economic progress and

Whereas Crime conferences have been called by the Attorney General of the United States and by various states for the purpose of devising ways and means of combating this serious and deplorable condition and it is fitting and proper that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should lend its aid to this movement to strengthen the administration or justice therefore

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the Attorney General of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized to call and to arrange for the holding of a conference in the city of Harrisburg at such time as he may designate for the purpose of interesting bodies of public spirited citizens in the nation-wide movement to combat crime and to knit into close harmony the enforcement agencies of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions to the end that crime may be reduced within the borders of this State and its citizens be imbued with a proper respect for law and order

Section 2 The sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Justice to pay any expenses incurred by the Attorney General in arranging and holding the conference authorized by this resolution

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to make a brief statement on House Bill No. 360.

The suppression of crime and the extermination of the racketeer is one of the major social, economic and political problems that confronts the people of this country. We may say that crime represented by the kidnapper, the extortionist, the burglar and robber and last but not least the murderer reaches into every section of this land; even the most remote rural district is not free from this blight. In the interest of justice, swift and prompt disposition of cases and vigorous prosecution of cases are vitally necessary in order to bring this condition to an end, and I might say here that this bill needs the endorsement and cooperation of law abiding citizens and public spirited citizens in order to bring this condition to an end. I know that organized crime is powerful and resourceful, that the average racketeer is smart, and I know also that the powerful resources of organized crime cannot be met with the limited resources of national and local agencies unless they unite in their war upon crime. Several weeks ago the United States government at Washington, D. C., conducted a crime conference through the Department of Justice at which conference every state of the Union and territorial annexation of the United States was represented through law enforcement agencies. At that conference a resolution was adopted requesting the states to unite the law enforcement agencies within their borders in order to combat this abominable condition of crime; in order to reduce that condition to a minimum.

Pursuant to that resolution several of the states have already conducted crime conferences, The State of Ohio will conduct such a conference next month. The Governor of New Jersey last Saturday assembled or gathered the law enforcement agencies of the states of New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. We were represented at that conference by the Hon. Charles J. Margiotti, the Attorney General of this Commonwealth. At that conference it was decided to unite all agencies for the purpose of combating and engaging in this war upon crime.

Now this bill carries an appropriation of two thousand dollars. I do not believe in times like these in the foolish spending of money, but this is a meager sum when we take into the consideration the purpose for which this money is to be used. We might say that it is worthwhile spending the money now to avoid the loss that may incur in the future. Let us remember the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and I say that this bill will save thousands of dollars and will materially aid the citiens of this Commonwealth. We owe it to the mothers and fathers, we owe it to the welfare of our children, and I say this Commonwealth owes it as a debt to society to proceed forward with all the other states in aiding the prevention of crime.

I also say, members of the House, in conclusion that we have the whole-hearted support of many newspaper editors, of the Criminal Justice Association of the City of Philadelphia, of the Bar Association of this Commonwealth, of Allegheny County, of the law enforcement agencies, of public spirited citizens and I ask for those reasons and many more that both the minority party and the majority party of this House give their whole-hearted support to this bill No. 316.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that we should watch every penny in the present stringency of finances in the Commonwealth, but aside from any moral question when we consider the tremendous financial losses that are being incurred at the present time, I believe that we are warranted in expending this money on an object of this kind, and I trust the members of this House will support this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to House Bill No. 752 for the following reasons:

Thirty-four years ago, Mr. Justice Dean, an oustanding jurist of our Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth vs Moir, 199 Pa. 534, uttered these words of wisdom in his dissenting opinion which was concurred in by Justice Mestregat, and the learned Chief Justice McCullen.

"Every member of this Court concedes that this legislation is vicious. Why? They do not answer, but to my mind, it is apparent that its vice consists in its flagrant violation of the fundamental law.

We know wits purpose was to oust one set of municipal officers in 3 certain cities, put in place, either directly or indirectly by the people, and give their offices to others, through the Chief Executive of the State. The time is not very remote in the past in English politics when the victorious political party, as soon as it was seated in power, promptly proceeded to cut off the physical heads of their leading antagonists and confiscate their property, it is not very remote in the future when the victorious political party will promptly proceed to cut off the political heads of its opponents where they hold office by the municipal votes of cities."

Well did this learned jurist see into the future for today we stand facing facts not at all dissimilar to those of 1901. How true these words were can only be taken from the memory of those who lived to tell that never in the history of our legislature was there a more vicious, outrageous usurpation of power that kindled hatred in the minds of the people against those who were parties to that blot on our state governmental system. I recognize that the majority opinion of the Supreme Court gives us the right to enact this legislation. Yet I call upon you to harken to the voice of Mr. Justice Mitchell, who while sustaining the law made these remarks of warning.

"The fact that the action of the State towards its municipal agents may be unwise, unjust, oppressive or violate of the natural or political rights of their citizens is not one which can be made the basis of action by the Judiciary, nor are the motives of the legislators real or supposed, in enacting legislation as to municipal corporations open to Judiciary inquiry or consideration. The protection against unwise and oppressive legislation, within constitutional bounds, is by an appeal to the justice and patroitism of the representatives of the people. If this fails, the people in their sovereign capacity can correct the evil, but Courts cannot assume their rights."

The question then arises is this legislation unwise, unjust, oppressive or violative of the natural or political rights of our citizens. Not a member of this House acting as an individual free agent, would answer in the negative. Not a member if allowed the right to think and act for the people whose votes are responsible for the office he now holds would contend that this legislation represents the will of the people.

What are some of these political rights that go to make up the fundamental law? One undoubtedly is the right of proper access to a fair and impartial trial; another is the ballot.

Does not this legislation wipe away both of these fundamental landmarks?

If Mr. McNair, Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, is guilty of any crime or if his conduct in office is so reprehensible to those who now seek to oust him, why do not his accusers use the method long recognized in law as the proper way of correcting their alleged evils, namely an appeal to a proper tribunal where the accused may have a fair and impartial hearing and where judgment is not rendered before a defense has been interposed? To say that such procedure is cumbersome is no excuse for substituting in expediency for expediency is a matter so vital to the citizens of our Commonwealth.

Again, one of the pillars that has sustained our country against the blasts of political philosophies of revolutionary tendencies, philosophies which today are seeking to undermine the principles upon which the State was founded, is the ballot, when we seek in this unwarranted fashion to cast aside the verdict rendered by the vote of over 100,000 people, we open the door and bid welcome not to democracy but autocracy, not to a government, by the many; but a government by a few. Take from us the respect and sacredness of the ballot and you take away the greatest safe guard of American liberty.

I say to you members of the House, pass this legislation if you will; create this Frankenstein if you please, send him west into Pittsburgh and usurp this power of 120,000 people and sometime this monster will return here, and not only will he devour us, but he will tear down every fundamental landmark upon which this government has rested since its foundation.

I appeal not only to the minority members of the House of the Republican Party, I appeal not only to my friends of the Socialist Party, I appeal to my friends of the Democratic Party, my colleagues, in whom I have the utmost faith and confidence; I appeal not in the name of the Democratic Party or the Socialist Party or the Republican Party, but in the name of justice and fair play. I appeal to you to vote down this undemocratic, this unfair, this autocratic piece of legislation.

Mr. ZAPPALA. Mr. Speaker and members of the House this is the first time that I have taken the floor and I am going to ask all of you to be so gracious as to extend me a little time in order that I may give you the reasons why I am for House Bill No. 752.

The splendid remarks of my colleague, Mr. Brown, are well taken, but let me lead you now to Pittsburgh. We have a Mayor that has occupied the Chair that he was elected to by what we may call a real political accident. Let me bring back to you the conditions that existed in the City of Pittsburgh in the year 1933. At that mayorality election the candidate on the Republican ticket was no other than that splendid character John S. Herron, and may I say this for the benefit of my good colleagues of the minority party, that up to that time I was a staunch Republican and recognized as such. It appeared that Senator Coyne was in a mess at the time and the three local newspapers, the Sun Telegraph, The Press and The Pittsburgh Post conducted a campaign and drive against Senator Coyne. It happened that Senator Coyne was aligned with Mr. Herron and the publishers could not see why the people of the city of Pittsburgh should be contaminated and controlled by the dominant factor, Senator Coyne. What the people did then, my good friends was nothing else but cast a vote of protest and they deliberately voted for Mr. McNair. It was not the fact that they were friends of Mr. McNair or that he was a better individual; it was not the fact that he was popular, ladies and gentleman, it was only due to the fact that Mr. Coyne dominated politics in the city of Pittsburgh, in Allegheny county, and the better citizenry of the city protested on that account.

Now let me convey to you some of the things that the Mayor has done particularly to your humble servant. Immediately after the primaries it was circulated throughout the city that Mr. Frank J. Zappala was going to present a ripper bill. I have heard it even from the newspapers reporters. I denied this. I was invited a short time later to be at the Henry George Club. That meeting was covered by some of these eminent men such as Mr. Townley of the Press, Mr. Dressler of the Post, Mr. Shields and Mr. McFarland of the Press. That meeting was called for one purpose and that was to put the Democrats on the spot as to how we stood on the ripper legislation. I then said and I quote you from the letter which you had placed upon your desks by the director of Public Safety, Mr. Dunn. If you have it I wish you would get it out members of the House. It says that Frank J. Zappala has been accused by some of the men around the Mayor's office as being the sponsor of the ripper bill. I deny that and I told that to the Mayor's splendid secretary, Mr. Morris, but get this, members of the House, Mr. Morris was the private secretary of the Mayor at that time, and when I said this "splendid secretary" I said it with all the sarcasm that was in me on account of his conduct and because of his cohorts and nitwits surrounding the mayor's office. I cautioned the mayor then not to pay any attention to his cohorts and nitwits, but rather to divorce himself from those people and to give the people of Pittsburgh that elected him a real administration, instead of ridiculing and embarassing our citizenry to the State of Pennsylvania. His reply to me was: "Why, I will do anything to get into the newspapers." He said, "I won't do away with my friends, I need them. I want to get into the limelight." I want to say of record here that I was not then favoring any ripper legislation. What happened after that? As we got close to the election, the fall election he put out a man in the field against me, another one of his cohorts, a gentleman by the name of Eigenrauch, he was to pre-empt a new party and he pre-empted it. After he gave him his support, and he called in his political riders, and this statement is from the Sun Telegraph by Mr. Mark Shields,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I believe the discussion before the House is on House Bill No. 752, and not how the honorable gentleman from Allegheny was elected to office during the recent election.

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes the position that it took sometime ago, that the Chair is willing to allow reasonable latitude in debate. The Chair, however, requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Zappala, to confine himself a little more closely to the bill that is now before the House, and the reasons why he opposes it.

Mr. ZAPPALA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

This candidate of the Free Trade Party endorsed by the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh received seventy-one votes, I received thirteen thousand ninety-six votes and my opponent on the republican ticket received ten thousand votes.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to the same point of order for the very same reason.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already given his decision and the Chair again requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Zappala, to confine himself a little more closely to the bill and the reason for his opposition. The Chair wishes to be liberal in interpreting the rules, but the members must respect the liberality granted by the Chair.

Mr. ZAPPALA. In order, gentlemen, to appreciate the position in which we find ourselves in the City of Pittsburgh, I will bring you into the city of Pittsburgh, Allegheny, county, in order to have you know how our people feel about Mr. McNair.

For instance, I was threatened by one of the cohorts of the Mayor, Joe Lavery, as he is known, and threatened that I will get mine. My home has been molested and my office. He went further, gentlemen, and he arbitrarily—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is still not talking on the bill before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman should be permitted to state his reasons for supporting or opposing the bill. The Chair, however, feels that the gentleman has taken wider latitude than necessary in so doing. The Chair again requests the gentleman to proceed but to confine himself to narrower limits in discussing the bill before the House.

Mr. ZAPPALA. Mr. Speaker, we of the city of Pittsburgh do not feel that we have made a mistake in electing a mayor which was as I said a protest agaist "Coyneism." At the time we anticipated that the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh would so conduct himself that the people of the City of Pittsburgh would be proud of him. Instead of that he has permitted gambling, bootlegging to run rampant, he has permitted every underworld character to go into the Mayor's office, he has permitted and used the whip against some of finest people of our city. He has been clowning. Just the other day he dismissed a man who has been in the service for seventeen years, because he was doing his duty, and because he didn't believe in taking order from anybody.

He dismissed one of the finest characters that we have in the city, a man by the name of Papale, a man who helped to elect him to that office. He has caused us every embarrassment and humiliation. I don't find words, ladies and gentlemen to impress you, and I will have to confine myself to the bill.

I would like you at least to look at the circular that was placed upon your desks by the newspapers. It has been suggested by my good friend that we have a remedy in court, but it does not apply in this particular case and the people are asking for a remedy and that is the reason we are here because we ask all of you to go to work and relieve us of a situation which is absolutely serious to us. I appeal to you again and remember at least we have a serious problem on our hands and we need your support.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, after quite a bit of waiting we find that the Ripper Bill is now with us.

We must oppose this bill, because it is a vicious piece of special, partisan legislation designed for the express purpose of ripping from office a public official elected by the people and placing in his stead a rubber stamp to be appointed by the Governor. We should be opposed to this bill for the following reasons:

1. Such a procedure is in direct conflict with the constitution. It is a violation of Section 7, Article III, which reads in part that the General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law regulating the affairs of the cities.

Allow me again to cite from that famous dissent of 1901, rendered in a four to three decision:

"If this act were not clearly in conflict with the fundamental law, or if the consequences to which the judgment may lead, were not deplorable, or if it effected only the immediate parties to it, and would not serve as a precedent for future cases, I would not feel myself called upon to dissent of record. But all these reasons exist, and it is not without regret that I feel constrained to express a decided dissent from the judgment.

"We have now before us an act which, it is true, does not take one man's land and give it to another, but it does take from one set of men the offices given to them by the people, hands them over to the governor, that he may confer them on others—Here we should call a halt upon such unconstitutional usurpation of power. What the next step in this direction will be we can only conjecture; factional politics and partisan politics are not troubled by scruples; under the principle of this decision there is nothing to hinder a hostile partisan majority in the legislature from ousting the party in power in Philadelphia, a city of the first class, and placing its government in possession of the minority."

The dissent finally ends up thus:

"I fear the time is not far distant when the pernicious results of our decision will either bring about a constitutional enactment to remedy the mischief, or move us to overrule it." That was in 1901.

2. Such procedure is contrary to the very principles of democratic government. Our government is still a government of, for and by the people—in theory at least. Let us endeavor to keep it one in fact. Ripper legislation is a usurpation of the people's right of self-government.

3. Ripper legislation, as has been mentioned on this floor not so long back, does weaken the political party or faction sponsoring it.

I can also cite the famous ripper era of 1901 whereby numerous public officials in the cities of Pittsburgh, Scranton and Allegheny were ousted from office. Back in 1901 Diehl happened to be the mayor of the city of Pittsburgh. He, too, was honest; he, too, would not play politics, and so they ripped him from office. As a result that political party in the city of Pittsburgh was swept from office by an uprising of the citizens of that city and for sixty hard, cold years that party starved to death. Such a thing is bound to happen if this party, or if this faction, which is sponsoring this ripper bill or this piece of vicious ripper legislation, will force its passage through this House.

4. There is, my friends, a proper method of procedure in this case: that is impeachment by the courts. If a public official has been guilty of a crime he should be indicted criminally through the courts, not the legislature. Again, if a public official is of unsound mind and is thus incapacitated from performing the duties of his office that, too, is a matter for the courts to decide and not the legislature.

5. Within the last few weeks there has been a poll taken in the city of Pittsburgh by two newspapers. One newspaper stands opposed to the policies of the mayor; that is, it is for the ripper. That is the "Sun-Telegraph." The other paper has not taken any sides in the matter. That is the "Post-Gazette." As a result of this polling conducted by these newspapers who are not favorable to the mayor, here are the results.

This is the latest result in the "Sun-Telegraph" of March 5th: "McNair boosts lead in poll on ripper." Allow me again to quote:

More than two-thirds of the registered voters participating in the Sun-Telegraph poll on the matter of removing Mayor McNair today expressed the wish that the Mayor would be retained: This ratio reflected in 1,047 votes tabulated today, came as the House of Representatives was set, for what politicians say, is the passage of the ripper bill.

Today 711 voters indorsed the Mayor as against 336 who demand his ouster.

In the accumulated totals, the Mayor has 5,804 votes for remaining in office as compared to 3,328 opponents, to give him 63.5 per cent of all votes cast in the poll. This is almost 7 per cent higher than his percentage in his contest with Mayor John S. Herron, in 1933.

Allow me to quote from this morning's "Post-Gazette": "Central City 24 to one against 'ripping' McNair." In the "Post-Gazette" the percentage is rather higher. For the ripper 4,182 votes; against the ripper 10,369 votes. So, you see, my friends, the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh have responded to this ripper legislation on this floor and have informed you how they stand. They want Mayor William N. McNair to remain in office as their mayor, and they are the people that have the right to decide as to what is good for their welfare. We have in the city of Pittsburgh a population of over six hundred thousand people. During the last election they elected their mayor; today they have proven to you that they are satisfied with their selection. We have in the lower house of the Legislature two hundred eight members elected from the various parts of the state. We have in this house a ripper bill to oust Mayor McNair. In other words, two hundred and eight members today will decide what over a half million people have decided on several occasions. We are going further than that. As a matter of fact, if we pass this ripper bill we are going to inform the citizens of Pittsburgh that they are not capable of governing themselves and that we will govern them much better by taking away their mayor and putting in a rubber stamp appointed by the Governor.

Last but not least we should oppose this legislation because we are pledged to the people of Pennsylvania that we would come here if elected to help sponsor progressive and social legislation. I am sure that ripper legislation is not, my friends, in keeping with that pledge.

I want to add in closing—

Mr. WELLIVER. Mr. Speaker, what is the use of wasting our time here. This is not a matter for us, let the courts of Pittsburgh decide it.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I wish to add that this bill is worse than dynamite. I want to assure the members of this Assembly that if this piece of ripper legislation goes through this House it will cause more turmoil than a carload of TNT. It will reflect on us; it will harm us; it will do much more damage than that piece of ripper legislation passed in 1901. I want to plead especially with the Democratic bloc in this House, especially to the ones that did take a pledge prior to the regular election pledging themselves to be opposed to all ripper legislation. I want to ask you, I want to plead with you, to consider this measure and to do the thing you should do with it, kill it right here and now before this piece of legislation kills all of us.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny tell the members whether or not our public officials should uphold the laws that we pass in this legislature?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, our public officials should at least make an attempt to uphold the laws passed by this body.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny tell the members of this House whether the laws of this state have been enforced in the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. TRONZO. To my knowledge, Mr. Speaker, they have.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny tell the members of this House where he was employed prior to his election?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, prior to my coming to the House I was employed in the Mayor's office.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under ordinary conditions I myself would be opposed to ripping out of office the mayor of Pittsburgh.

The gentleman has stated that in a poll conducted by the newspapers of the city of Pittsburgh five thousand people have voted to retain the mayor in office. Considering that he received over one hundred thousand votes I do not believe that the majority of the people are interested in keeping him.

The gentleman also says that impeachment proceedings should be carried out in order that we should keep this away from the Legislature. In a decision handed down by the Superme Court they have ruled that impeachment proceedings under the charter of the city of Pittsburgh are in conflict with Section3, Article VI of the Constitution. In order to have impeachment proceedings it will be necessary for us to bring this matter before the Senate and have two-thirds of that body act on that question.

I merely want to refer to a few other things. The gentleman from Allegheny says that he has knowledge that the laws of this Commonwealth and the ordinances of the city have been upheld. In Article I, section 1 of the Charter of the city of Pittsburgh it says: "It shall be the duty of the mayor: to cause the ordinances of the city and the laws of the state to be executed and enforced."

On May 14, 1934, District Attorney Andrew T. Park, stated that he would take action because the mayor of the city of Pittsburgh had interfered with the enforcement of the liquor control act; that he had dismissed several liquor law violations, refusing even to hear testimony.

On August 19, 1934, "Mayor upsets entire system of Morals Court, resulting in protest from social and welfare workers throughout city."

He ordered police to quit liquor raids. On October 15, 1934, the Mayor announced that he had ordered the police to stop arresting state liquor violators. He also stated that he had told police magistrates not to hear any cases involving liquor law violations.

On January 18, 1934, the Civic organizations and numerous people about the city were going to call on the state department to correct unsanitary conditions where Mayor McNair has prevented plumbing inspectors from enforcing the law.

I ask you members whether or not he has tried even in a very little way to uphold the state laws or the ordinances of our city.

I quote from the Pittsburgh Press, a paper that supported him:

"We don't know what is the matter. We don't know whether the Mayor's antics have been deliberate or the result of some strange mental process, but whatever the cause the record is established and there is no reason to hope for improvement. Instead of getting better, conditions at City Hall have grown steadily worse. Therefore, the first job is to meet an emergency and to meet it promptly, even though the task is an unpleasant one."

I say to the members of this House that if this were a mere political scheme in a city the size of Pittsburgh there would be a number of civic organizations that would protest this ripper bill. I would for one, and I don't believe that the gentleman who opposes this bill can name any civic organizations in the City of Pitsburgh that have opposed this measure. I urge the members of this House to help the citizens of Pittsburgh—since we have made a mistake,—to give us an opportunity to rectify that mistake, and give the citizens of Pittsburgh a government that will be clean, a government to which they are entitled.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. RUFFENNACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "no" and file my reasons.

In voting "No" on the question before the House which question is whether or not the previous question be moved on House Bill No. 752, I vote "No" for the reason that the members of the House desire to further discuss the merits of House Bill 752.

I do not believe in shutting off debate unless the majority of members so desire and for that reason I vote "No."

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the gentleman from Allegheny about three days prior to the regular election did or did not stand opposed to any sort of ripper legislation before a meeting of the Henry George Club in Pittsburgh.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question, if the gentleman from Allegheny will allow me to explain my statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, agree to the conditions under which the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, agrees to answer the question?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I would desire a yes or no.

Mr. O'Keefe. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to answer the question under those conditions.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman refuses to answer the question.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. O'Keefe. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, a while back the gentleman stated that no civic organization in Pittsburgh has opposed this piece of ripper legislation, right after I got through reading excerpts from the present Pittsburgh papers, informing us that the citizens of that city are opposed to it.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I believe under the interrogation of the gentleman it would be in order to name those civic organizations.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, permit himself to be interrogated by naming the organizations?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I believe he misunderstood the question. I desire to know the names of the civic organizations sponsoring or behind this ripper movement.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I believe the interrogation is out of order. In my statement before the House I did not say that civic organizations were behind this ripper. I said that civic organizations were not opposed to this ripper.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I just want to inform the members of this House that there is no civic organization larger than the public itself, and the public itself has put itself on record as opposed to any piece of ripper legislation.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HARMUTH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny is not interrogating on the bill. Therefore, I believe he is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, was interrogating the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, there was no discussion.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the Sun Telegraph polls taken in the past have proven better than ninety per cent perfect . They have taken out of the regularly registered voters in the County every seventh name and that is how that record has been coming in. I don't know how the Post Gazette has been tallying its polls, but I believe it has been along the same lines, so you must not judge from the fact that only five or ten thousand peoples' votes have come in opposed to ripper legislation, because it is a cross section of the community and in total probably does mean the vote of hundreds of thousands of people within the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. ZAPPALA. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ZAPPALA. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have any knowledge of the fact that people connected with the City Hall that have used the switchboard there for the purpose of asking voters when ballots are received to vote against the ripper bill.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I have not.

Mr. ZAPPALA. Mr. Speaker, do you know that the city hall telephone booths were used by four hundred people to communicate with every voter in the City of Pittsburgh to vote against the ripper bill? Answer the question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman answer the question?

Mr. TRONZO. I don't know what answer he would demand for such a question. I don't know anything about that and if such be the case surely there can be no harm in the Mayor's friends trying to protect him from such a vicious piece of social legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I am voting "aye" and desire to file the following reasons for so doing:

Having no other interest in this bill except the interest of the people of Pittsburgh, and feeling that the opinions of the majority of the Allegheny delegation in the House of Representatives is sufficient reason for me, an outsider, living in a bordering county to cast my vote with the full trust in the judgment of this majority of the Allegheny members whom the people of Pittsburgh have sent to this House as their representatives and who will bear the full credit or blame for this Act.

I therefore cast my vote in the affirmative.

Mr. HABERLEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to vote "aye" and file my reasons for so doing:

My reasons for supporting House Bill 752:—

Not being directly interested in the matter, I was governed by the suggestions of the Allegheny Representatives who represent the people of that District.

Mr. RUFFENNACH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and file my reasons:

I desire to vote in favor of House Bill Number 752 but am desirous of filing my reasons therefor.

Being a resident of the Borough of Brentwood my community is not directly concerned or interested in House Bill Number 752, but the Twelfth Legislative District of Allegheny County of which I am a Representative takes in certain wards and parts of wards of the City of Pittsburgh of which city Mr. McNair is now Mayor.

Being familiar with Mr. McNair's actions since he has served as Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh and also having conducted a non-partisan canvass to ascertain the desires of the people with reference to my vote on House Bill No. 752 I believe from the standpoint of fairness and honesty of purpose that Mr. McNair should be removed from the office of Mayor.

By my vote I do wish to be looked upon as one who is in favor of ripper legislation, but I feel there is really no better way out for Mr. McNair since this will not cast any serious reflection on him and his family, whereas an impeachment proceeding in my opinon would cause him untold embarrassment.

I believe that the Mayor of Pittsburgh is incompetent to hold the office which he now holds; that he is guilty of queer acts and deeds which he cares not to explain and no person seems to understand; that his constant firing and hiring of City department heads for unexplained reasons and no reason at all in many instances, has caused irreparable harm and damage to the City administration; that his flirtation with and association with cheap racketeers and men of unsound principles has proven that he has no respect for the office he holds; that his flippant attitude on the problem of relief for the unfortunate unemployed, his general anti-labor union bias and his individual efforts at strike breaking and scab-herding together with the mismanagement he is guilty of in city administration matters compels or rather obliges me to vote for legislation which will remove him from office.

In casting my vote I cast the same feeling that I am truly representing the wishes of the people of the district which I represent and by my vote I do not wish to be one who thinks Mr. McNair dishonest or unfair but rather as one who feels in his heart that the man if not incepable, incompetent and unqualified is somewhat mentally unbalanced.

I do not charge Mr. McNair with bad government but rather with being responsible for no government at all. I believe that the head of any government should be economical, trustworthy, efficient, consistent and one who commands the respect of those over whom he is head.

I therefore as representative cast my vote in favor of House Bill No. 752.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye" and would like to be permitted to file my reasons for so doing.

My reasons for supporting House Bill 752 are:

Not being directly interested in the matter, I was governed by the suggestions of the Allegheny Representatives, who represent the people of that District.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye" and desire to file my reasons.

Reasons for voting "aye" for H. B. 752 Printers No. 161.

I do not favor ripper legislation under ordinary circumstances as being unAmerican—but in this instance I do favor this bill because of the antics of the Mayor in hiring and firing men of unquestionable integrity of the City of Pittsburgh. His conduct has been such for the past year—that a lack of confidence has been placed in the administration of the government of that City. Such characters as "Hunky Joe" Lewandowski, convicted numbers baron, and Father Tkach have been hired by Mayor McNair. Men not qualified to handle public office—have been hired by the Mayor. Characters like McCready declared a weak minded by the Court, was offered a responsible position.

Men of intimate friendship of many years with the Mayor have been fired because they would not carry out his dictates.

Being a resident of Glassport and not in the Mayor's district, I permitted my vote to be influenced by the express wishes of the Representatives of the City of Pittsburg, who are the real representatives of those people in our law making body and who with few exceptions favor this legislation.

In addition all the Pittsburgh newspapers have favored the removal of the Mayor from office either by Ripper legislation or City Manager Plan and I am guided also by their expressed sentiment. I will favor City Manager Plan if it comes before this House.

For these reasons I desire to be recorded as voting "aye".

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 480, entitled:

An Act authorizing receivers and collectors to demand from tenants payment of delinquent taxes due on real estate and enabling tenants to defalcate taxes so paid against rent due or becoming due; and making tenants liable for such taxes where rent is paid and payment of taxes demanded not made.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to call the attention of the House to this bill because to me it doesn't appear to be sound in principle. It provides that where there is a delinquent tax on a property that the tax collector shall be empowered to go to the tenant and make arrangements for the tenant to pay the tax to the tax collector. It seems to me that this bringing in of a third party in private transactions of this nature is wrong in principle, and it seems to me that there ought to be a recourse through the courts for the tax collector to settle a debt of this kind. Before having the members of the House vote on this measure, I would like to have the sponsor of the bill make an explanation and state the object of the present bill.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is on the statute books of Pennsylvania and has been for some time a law which allows the tax collector of the counties to levy on a tenant's furniture for delinquent taxes of the landlord. When that levy is made, there are costs incurred. There may be a sale, as he is entitled to sell the tenant's furniture.

In the City of New Castle about a year ago they notified all tenants in properties where the taxes were delinquent that they were going to sell their personal property. This bill is a result of the turmoil and distress which was caused to those tenants. All that the tax collector wants to get is the taxes, and all that the tenant should have to pay to that tax collector is the rent. This bill provides that on a written notice of the tax collector, which entails no costs to the tenant, the tenant shall pay the rent as it falls due to the tax collector. That payment relieves the tenant of any obligation for that rent to the landlord. So, I am simply trying to protect the tenant from what I think has been a very unfair procedure in Pennsylvania. It hurts none because under the present law the tax collector can levy on the personal property on those premises. These seems to be some objection that where the tenant refuses to pay the rent to the tax collector that he will be held liabe for the tax for all of the personal property that is on the premises, and I had to put something in this bill so that the tenant could not refuse to pay the rent to the tax collector and continue to pay it to the landlord. That was the reason for that provision. It has been a very difficult bill to draw and do what I was trying to do. But, on the whole, I think it is a very good bill, and I think that most of the objections to this bill rise from landlords who are delinquent in their taxes. I am sorry for these landlords. But I am also sorry for the tenants. Why should they be liable for these taxes except to the extent of the rent? So, I think it is a very fair bill, Mr. Speaker and members of the House. However, it is up to your judgment to say whether you think it is a good bill or whether it is not. I thank you.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Lawrence.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lawrence whether or not this bill will not take the tenants liable for rent in excess of the amount of furniture in their houses in case they do pay rent to the landlord and do not pay it to the tax collector. Will not this measure possibly make the tenant liable for rent in excess of the value of his furniture in cases where he should happen to pay to the landlord after notice from the tax collector?

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is true.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lawrence whether it is not entirely probable that in cases where the tax collector demands the rent and the landlord also demands the rent, and upon failure to pay it to the landlord, the landlord will proceed to dispossess the tenant.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, that might also be true.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not it would not be well to amend this bill by definitely forbidding the landlord to proceed with the eviction of a tenant who is paying the rent to the tax collector.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is right.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would, therefore, like to suggest to the sponsor of the bill that he have it postponed and amended.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1025, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three (P. L. 119), entitled "An act for the promotion of medical science by the distribution and use of unclaimed human bodies for scientific purposes through a board created for that purpose and to prevent unauthorized uses and traffic in human bodies," as amended, by providing that the coroner instead of the county commissioners shall be notified as to unclaimed bodies unfit for anatomical purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Flanagan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what is the purpose of transferring the duty which is implied in this bill from the County Commissioners to the Coroner.

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, the County Commissioners of Philadelphia are rather slow in moving these bodies, while the Coroner of Philadelphia has other duties pertaining to deaths from accidents, and he feels that he should have the duty of burying unclaimed bodies, bodies that are unfit for anatomical purposes.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, if this bill prevails, may I ask the gentleman how many counties in the State of Pennsylvania it would affect?

Mr. FLANAGANN. Just Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know who handled this work in Philadelphia prior to 1932?

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know what it cost the County of Philadelphia per body to bury their pauper dead prior to 1932?

Mr. FLANAGAN. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know what it costs the County of Philadelphia now to bury their pauper dead per body?

Mr. FLANAGAN. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that since 1932 all of the pauper dead of Philadelphia have been buried in a perfectly satisfactory manner to the citizens of Philadelphia, at a minimum cost?

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and the members of the House, it seems to me that the sponsor of this bill is not very familiar with the workings of the offices of Coroner and County Commissioners in Philadelphia.

Prior to 1932 the Coroner had to do with all the distribution and burial of such dead in the City of Philadelphia. We who come from Philadelphia know what a scandal came up there in 1932, with subsequent effect that one of the deputy coroners in Philadelphia was so involved that he committed suicide.

We know that it costs the County of Philadelphia today a minimum, while this bill provides that thirty-five dollars shall be paid to bury the dead. Prior to that time it cost the County of Philadelphia the maximum mentioned in this bill of fifty dollars.

There has been no charge of laxity on the part of the County Commissioners by any citizens to the knowledge of the citizenry of the County. We know that we have an honorable body of County Commissioners, headed by that venerable man John Dugan, who was formerly a welfare worker and who headed the welfare department of the County of Philadelphia, and by Jimmie Clarke and by Mr. O'Donnell. We know very well that a Board of three elected representatives, chosen from all the citizens of Philadelphia can do the work better than it could be done by putting the work in the hands of one man. There is a great,—I would say, there is a great temptation when you put it in the hands of one man. It might that it might revert to the place where it was prior to 1932. The County of Philadelphia, or the County Commissioners, had to go into Court and get a Court decision to take it away from the Coroner, to bring it out of the mess that it was in. I am only speaking in the interest of good, clean government, and I am sure that everybody here will agree with me that by letting it stay in the hands of the people, it will be administered fairly and squarely and above board, as it has been since the year 1932, and that it will be administered in the same manner in the future. It affects all of the counties in the State of Pennsylvania. I am surprised that my friend on the other side of the House would introduce a bill which he knows so little about. Why would he offer a bill which was not for the best interests of all the citizens, instead of only for a few whom he is trying to help probably. I submit to the members here that when you back to your various localities you will want to tell your people that we are all here for their best interests, and, therefore, I ask you to vote this bill down. Let this stay in the hands of the County Commissioners who are always in number two or three. Why put it into the hands of the Coroner?

The gentleman from Philadelphia made the statement that the Coroner had to do with accident cases. I submit that in the Coroner's office these cases very seldom go to the potter's field. These are cases in indigent homes. These are cases of unidentified people who died in hospitals and whose bodies are not fit for use by the anatomical board. Therefore, the office of the Coroner is not involved at all. The County Commissioners are given the duty to do this work, and they perform this duty of burial at a fair rate. If we go back to the Coroner, we will go back to paying higher prices and be in the same mess of political treachery that we were in before.

I ask the members of the House to vote this bill down in the interests of fair play and good government.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Pihladelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us how many counties have other than a Coroner to take care of the burial of bodies?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, according to the bill here it says: "In case of the death of any person whose body is required to be buried at the public expense, and the duly authorized officer or agent of the Board deems such body unfit for anatomical purposes, he shall notify in writing the poor directors, overseers or in counties in which there are no poor directors or overseers, then the County Commissioners"—

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, that answer is not responsive. I again ask the gentleman what counties other than Philadelphia County have other than a coroner to take care of the provisions provided in this bill.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, it only affects those counties where the County Commissioners have to do with the burial of the bodies. According to Mr. Flanagan, it only affects Philadelphia.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I again say that the answer is not responsive. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us how many counties other than Philadelphia make provisions for some one other than a Coroner?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, it affects all of the counties where the County Commissioners have to do with the burial of the bodies.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell this House what business he is in?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I am an undertaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for seventy-six members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and seventeen members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely wish to state the fact that this bill is backed by the very efficient Coroner of the City of Philadelphia and it is also backed for the purpose not to increase the cost to the county of burying the dead,—it contemplates no such procedure.

I also wish to state that the fact that these burials were handled by the Coroner's office was not the cause of the malpractice in that office, but the fact that the gentleman who then worked in that office did not carry out his job properly. You may be assured that under the present

Coroner of Philadelphia the dead will be buried both efficiently and economically.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for that information, but perhaps I expected too much. The other gentleman asked the question how mnay counties were affected. The handling of it in a scandalous way has not come to my knowledge from any other county than Philadelphia. If you want fair play and honest government, do not vote for this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Long.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia state whether or not if this bill should be enacted into law it is his opinion that the Republican undertakers in Philadelphia will buy another body?

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer the gentleman by stating that I expect the Republican undertakers will receive much more business under Coroner Hirsch than the Democratic undertakers did under the previous Republican Coroners.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 864, entitled :

An Act imposing an annual license tax for the privilege of operating, maintaining or controlling within this Commonwealth a store or stores, as herein defined for the sale of tangible personal property; prescribing the method and manner of collecting such tax and its disposition, and providing penalties.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to speak in behalf of this bill, and I want to say that my humble efforts here to-day will be dedicated to those little country merchants who helped to carry their neighbors and friends part way through the depression and have fallen by the wayside because they couldn't close their doors and say to the man to whom they used to extend credit, "we will do so no longer."

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, next to the last time that I went back to my county I stopped when I came in on the morning bus to get some meat at the local grocery store. I found snow had drifted into the doorway and that man's business was through.

I attended the public hearings on this bill. I have heard of the great burden which it is going to place upon those stores that come in the category of chain stores. I know the burden which has been placed on the little merchant who has tried to carry on through this depression in the traditional manner, who has extended credit to his friends, who has rendered delivery service, who has extended the use of his telephone and everything else to his neighbors, who has no NRA's or anything else to protect him from working early and late, and who has survived the ruinous competition to which he has been subjected. This little merchant had no option of saying that he yas going to close his store in my town and rent another store in some other town. He had to lose the only store which he had. That is what happened to him by reason of the fact that he was a taxpayer, a business man, whose employes were friends and neighbors of his, and who tried to carry on in the traditional manner.

Members of the House, who in the communities in Pennsylvania has founded our banks, who has built our churches, who has subsidized our Y.M.C.A's? It has been invariably the local merchant. You have heard of the great burden which is going to be placed on the chain store, we have heard that the chain stores will close down and that it would throw people out of work if this bill became a law. They have such a law in twenty-one states approximately. They have such a law in West Virginia. How many stores have actually closed in those states where this law was in effect? I have heard of no concrete case of how much food prices have gone up to the consumer in those states that have chain store taxes similar to those provided for in this bill. I do not believe that a tax of approximately eighty cents a day per store in the highest bracket can successfully be distributed over approximately a thousand sales a day in such a way that it would increase the cost of the food to the consumer. I heard that argument. Gentlemen, it is not reasonable, it does not make sense. You cannot divide eighty cents a day into a thousand parts so as to pass that tax on to the consumer. Suppose though that these stores do close. Does that mean necessarily that there would be less stores if these particular people cannot shoulder that part of the burden by reason of the fact that they extend no credit. What happens to the store? If that store should be vacated, I submit to you that there is a pretty good chance that one or perhaps two of the merchants who reside in your town will take up immediately where they leave off. I submit to you that these people are actually wholesalers, retailers and everything else, all under one roof. I don't think it places an insufferable burden as far as they are concerned. They enjoy a great advantage over the small man. They have mass financing. A great deal of the financing was obtained from the public itself. They enjoy mass buying. They are able to club down the producer. I ask you what has been the market for the farm products of our local farmers? How many of you have found a chain store buying potatoes, for instance, from your local farmers and distributing them? Practically none of them. I ask you who has been actually shouldering the burden and carrying our farmers from one season to another, when they could obtain no bank credit. It has been your local merchants, nine out of ten times. It has been your local merchant who has had to carry his neighbors over from one season to another when their factories have closed down, perhaps temporarily or perhaps permanently. The highways of Pennsylvania are strewn with the wreckage of the little merchants who were forced out of business by the ruinous competition of the cash and carry chain store system in this Commonwealth.

Members of the House, I have taken a good deal of your time here. This is a tax burden, it is true, but it is being placed on people who can well bear it. It fixes a scale, which if too high, can be amended.

I call your attention to another fact here, and I speak now particularly to my colleagues on the Republican side of the House. There has been some talk that this is an administration tax measure. Members of the House, this has been a tax measure in many states long before the present administration or any member of it ever considered running for their present offices. It is a measure that I campaigned on long before this administration adopted it. It is a measure that is doing good work in many states. This in a sense is my measure, and if it has been endorsed by the administration, by the Governor of Pennsylvania, I thank him for that endorsement.

I want to ask the Republicans in this House not to think of what side may have sponsored this bill, but to bear in mind that it is one of the best tax measures that is on the entire program. Taxes will have to be raised and somebody is going to have to put through some tax measures before we adjourn and leave this city. I think this is the best tax bill in the entire program, and I want to ask every Republican member to vote for this measure, and I hope that the Democratic majority will see to it that this bill becomes a law and that it is passed by this House tonight.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support this bill from an entirely different angle from what I have heard expressed so far.

We have, on the one hand, the chain store. All types of chain stores are monopolistic organizations,—chain food stores, chain utilities, chain newspapers. I hold no brief for them, nor do I have any particular reason to hate them. On the other hand, we have the lowly bed bug, and I hold no brief for it, nor do I have any particular reason for hating the bed bug, but I just don't like the way they make their living. If we continue in the monopolistic system of the chain systems, any student of economics or any student of conditions will say that they are the harbingers of low wages, engaging in disgusting competitive practices.

Anyone who has lived in a small community and has tried at any time in any civic movement to organize a little sort of an athletic team of some kind, or any sort of a movement to buy shoes for somebody that needs them, or anything like that, he finds that the chain stores can't be touched, and that the local merchants can. The angle on which I arise in support of this measure is this, that this is only the opening wedge which was brought out in the public hearing, and I am heartily in favor of a wedge that will tend in some way to break down their control of our wheat fields, corn fields, our canning industry, our manufacturing plants, and to assist the laboring man who is interested in food, the low price of food. The reason that the chain stores are putting up such a yell is because they cannot pass this tax on to the consumer. Regardless of how they try, they cannot do it.

I ask the members of this House to vote as nearly unanimously in favor of this bill as their consciences will allow.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on behalf of the administration and on my own behalf, I desire to thank the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, for his fair and honest opinion and expression in favor of what I believe is an equitable tax measure.

On the question recurring,

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I ask to be recorded as voting in the negative on House Bill No. 864 because it violates Article 9, Sec. 1, of the Constitution which reads, that "all taxes must be equal on the same class of subjects."

$2.00 tax on a large city Department Store and $250.00 on a little grocery is not equal taxation and must eventually be paid by those least able to pay it, the poor people.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, having voted no I wish to file my reason for so doing.

I voted "no" on this bill for the reason that I think it will work a hardship on the poor consumers of my district of which a large number have so expressed themselves to me.

PRAYER

The Reverend George W. Welsh, D.D., Pastor of Mt. Zion Reformed Church, Spring Grove, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Oh thou great and glorious Ruler of the Universe, who holdeth the destines of the nations in thy hand and setteth up and taketh down the rulers thereof, who hath guided the wisdom of our lawmakers in the years that have passed, so that today in this great nation we live in this the greatest of all states, hear us as we pray.

In this State thou hast packed the earth with vast stores of wealth, the fields yield their golden sheaves and the orchards blush with the beauty and groan with the weight of their crops. The rivers turn the wheels that drive the mills and teem with the shoals of fish.

All these and other gifts thou hast placed in our hands as servants to keep whilst thou art away. May we be true to our trust so that when thou returnest thou shalt receive thine own with interest and be moved to say to us, "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

May the poor and the aged, the halt and the blind, the widow and the orphan, the sick and the needy, be our special trust so that it may be said of us, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my children, ye have done it unto me." May a sober and law abiding citizenry be our boast. May our daughters be as jewels about our necks and our sons as pillars of beauty and strength. As the keystone bindeth the arch to security so may our Keystone State bind our Union.

Bless the Governor of this Commonwealth and all associated with him in this serious work of governing. Bless this house of lawmakers and may their wise plannings be the subject of admiration for years to come. May justice equity and sincerity be the ruling note of all their actions and may the greater realization of the brotherhood of man be the uppermost thought.

We pray especially this morning, our Father, for the chaplain of this House, Brother Ruth, may he recover and come again in strength and health. We pray also that Thou mayst remember the Speaker of this House this morning in the recognition of this great day in his life.

All this we pray with a repeated wish that Thou wilt bless us all the days of our life and at last receive us into everlasting bliss with all who have gone this way before. Amen.

The SPEAKER. It is not a privileged resolution.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

RESOLUTION NO. 36

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 36, Printer's No. 214.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1935.

Whereas, It is apparent that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must not only continue its support of the State's educational system as in past years, but, as a result of existing economic conditions, will be compelled to assume even greater financial responsibilities in connection with education, and

Whereas, There are authenticated reports concerning economies that have already been effected in various school districts within the Commonwealth through the elimination of wasteful methods and unwise and unnecessary expenditures, which has resulted in the improvement of the school system while at the same time actually reducing its cost to the taxpayers, and

Whereas, Various private agencies have for more than three years been making a study of the State's school administrative system, paying particular attention to the practices in the various school districts in cities, boroughs and townships, and

Whereas, It is believed that the Legislature should have the information obtained at its disposal, and

Whereas, The various private research agencies are willing, under proper agencies, to place the results of their research activities at the disposal of the Legislature without cost; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint five members of the House of Representatives who shall constitute a special committee of the House whose duty it shall be to secure all readily available information as to the present cost and functioning of the school system in this Commonwealth and which shall report the information so obtained, together with recommendations based upon the findings of fact, said findings to be presented to the House of Representatives in a preliminary report not later than May 1, 1935, a final report to be filed at the first session of the Legislature to be convened after the pending session; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary; such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth; each member of the committee, moreover, shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; any person who shall neglect or refuse to testify before said committee and to produce any books, papers, records or documents subpoenaed by the committee shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. Turner asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I realize that you are anxious to complete your program this morning and to get away as quickly as possible, but I have a few remarks that I would like to make and in order that I may expedite them and say them as briefly as possible, I have put them into written form. I am going to ask you to indulge me while I read them to you.

This Legislature has now been in session for a period of over two months and has been organized for business for almost two months.

During that time nothing of major importance has been accomplished and it would appear that unless there is some change that we will be here until the middle of the summer.

Inasmuch as we have a Democratic Governor and majority in the House, and a Republican majority in the Senate, it must be apparent to all that there can be no hope for a successful and constructive program of legislation without the co-operation of all of the parties concerned.

Bills covering the party platform pledges of both parties have been submitted and a tax program has been proposed by the Governor. But no complete program has been formulated.

It has been repeatedly said by business men, and widely endorsed by the press, that what business needs is confidence; that if business is given a breathing-space and if business men know what legislation will be passed regulating or affecting their operation, and what taxes they may have to pay, they will have confidence to go ahead.

There is, at present, in the Legislature, a great mass of bills which impose further burdens upon business,—either by restriction, or regulation; or affecting business by the regulation of employment, or imposing further obligations, by reason of certain so-called "social legislation."

All of these measures will cast further burdens upon business. None of them is to promote business.

Wide consideration is being given to relief of the poor and distressed, and to the care of the unemployed. Many of these problems might be solved if industry were to take an up-swing and employment be increased. Why not help business and increase employment?

All the efforts of the Federal Government, except the Public Works program, have, so far, failed to increase employment. It is being predicted at the present time that many businesses are at a point where their activities may be curtailed. Therefore, many of the obligations which it is now proposed to place upon business, may, in the near future, cause those who are now employed, and who form the present purchasing power, to lose their employment and be thrust upon the relief rolls.

When imposing restrictions and obligations upon business, it would be well to bear in mind that the vast funds available, aside from the borrowings, are coming from the money produced by industry and the people who are employed. Why not give them some consideration?

If a new Constitution is adopted much of the legislation of this session may be out of line with such a Constitution.

In addition, much legislation that would be enacted will have to conform to Federal Acts. Congress has been in session since the first of January, and, although suggestions have been made, and bills introduced, no legislation which would guide us, has, as yet, emerged and passed. If our Acts are to conform we will have to wait,—perhaps three or four more months—until we know what Congress will do. The N. R. A., which has set up codes regulating hours of labor and minimum wages, and which aims at many evils of employment, is also in an uncertain stage and no one can tell at the present time what its form will be a few months hence.

Therefore, legislation on some of these subjects might be contrary to codes which would be later promulgated, causing caos in the industries of Pennsylvania, unemployment, and great hardships on the employed of the State.

It would, therefore, seem to be common sense that the only necessities of the present Session, (except, of course, minor legislation, affecting municipalities, staying sheriff and tax sales, etc.) and raising of sufficient revenue and the appropriation thereof.

To appropriate for a two-year period, with the possibility of the adoption of a new Constitution, which would have to be followed by a Special Session of the Legislature, does not seem logical, for the new Constitution might make changes in the State Government that would alter such appropriations.

In addition, it does not seem logical to appropriate for unemployment relief for a period of two years. Who can prophesy how much will be needed for unemployment relief in 1937?

Therefore, I propose:

First:—That the appropriations for the State Government and for unemployment relief, be made for a period of one year, ending May 31, 1936.

Second:—That such taxes as it may be necessary to levy shall only be in effect until June 1, 1936 (unless, of course, it be necessary to extend it beyond that period, by reason of the time for returns and collections).

Third:—That the following joint committees of the House and Senate be appointed and that such committees be given an adequate appropriation to properly perform their functions:—

(a) Committee on State Finance, to study the financial needs and requirements and the reduction of the cost of government;

(b) Committee on State Taxes, to study the available sources of taxation and the equitable distribution of the burden thereof;

(c) Committee on Social Legislation, to study the Federal programs and the necessary co-ordinating legislation;

(d) Committee on Unemployment and Unemployment Relief.

In the event a Constitutional Conventon be held each of the foregoing committes should submit to the Convention such recommendations as it believes will guide the delegates in framing the necessary provisions and report to the next Special Session of the Legislature, all their findings and recommendations.

By following these suggestions, business will have confidence, the time of the Legislature will be conserved, and the citizens will be assured of intelligent legislation.

If, by reason of the aforesaid circumstances, we cannot now formulate an intelligent legislative and biennial fiscal program, then why attempt it?

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. SUMNEY

Mr. SUMNEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I heartily endorse what the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has said. I have sat here patiently. I have listened to proposed legislation some of which has had merit and some of which has had none. I can not see why we should clutter up the business of this House with a lot of stuff of that kind when if we get right down to business, pass the legislation proposed by the Governor and wait until we have a new Constitution, if we are going to get one—if it has been passed it may have to be changed under a new Constitution. We don't know where we are. I heartily endorse what Mr. Turner has said.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

CONGRATULATING HON. SAMUEL B. HART.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 7, 1935.

Inasmuch as we celebrate today, the birthday of our Speaker, and

Whereas, Eleven years before that date, while the "hearts" of the country throbbed over the rebellion and many were stilled, the "hearts" of one family were made glad by the coming to their union an extra Hart in the birth of Samuel, their son, and

Whereas, He has taken a prominent part in life, both as soldier and statesman, having served his district and this House through many a session, always remembering his race and constituents,

Therefore, be it

Resolved, that the House offers its congratulations and best wishes to Samuel Hart on this birthday and wish him God speed and that he will enjoy many more.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hart. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hart.

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia is very grateful to this House and all of its members for the congratulation.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the remarks made by the gentleman from Delaware so closely parallel the suggestions that I have made and with which I am in agreement, that I hope it will be possible to work out a program along the lines that he has presented and outlined to this House.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. BURKE

Mr. BURKE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is one thing which the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has said with which I am not in exact accord.

For several weeks in this Legislature we have experienced the attitude taken by the other branch of the Legislature on the vote that was passed at the last general election. I think it is a fair inference to draw that the vote cast at the last general election is a mandate from the electors of this Commonwealth that the Constitution should be changed. Nevertheless the upper House of this General Assembly has refused to accept that mandate and has held up its approval of the constitutional bill. If there is any soundness to that view, how can we sustain the idea that we must have a special session of the Legislature. I think that you are talking about a probability and trying to make a certainty of it. There is absolutely no certainty that we will have a special session of the Legislature. We will be subject to the criticism of every person in this Commonwealth if we appropriate for only one year and the Constitutional Convention were defeated by a vote of the people of this State.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. McCREARY

Mr. McCREARY asked and obtained consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, like Mr. Andrews from Cambria I want to echo a fervent and old fashioned Methodist Amen. I would also like to make a request of the gentleman from Delaware that I may have a copy of his resolution or address, so that I may carry it up to Erie County and then I think I will be safe.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as House Bill 212, calls for an appropriation and having conferred with the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee, I move that this House Bill No. 212, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has been before the Committee on State Government for a matter of six weeks and carefully considered and endorsed by that committee as indicated by its report to this House.

I do not feel that it is at all necessary that it be referred back to the Committee on Appropriations. It will have plenty of opportunity to be considered when it gets over to the other side. It is a measure which is of great importance to the municipalities throughout this Commonwealth.

I think I am permitted to say that it sets up a State Surety Insurance Fund, that is what the bill does, to insure, to give bonds on public officials, which are almost impossible to obtain from surety companies today. Naturally the surety companies oppose it. The bill has been carefully considered in committee. It is definitely endorsed by municipalities through the State, and I think we should consider it on its merits here.

It is to be noted that the motion to refer it back is not made by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and in view of the approaches that have been made to me since it was reported out yesterday morning, I am quite certain it comes from the opposition of certain interests to this bill, and I ask that it be kept on the floor. Let us pass on its merits and the matter of the appropriation can be well considered hereafter.

Mr. Speaker I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOPES and Mrs. WILSON and were as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities for a public hearing, the time and place to be set later.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SHUGART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in fairness to the Committee and all concerned, I wish to state on this motion that I have received enough applications for a public hearing to justify a public hearing. Also I have received a number of protests to this bill worded similar to several I now have before me. One of them reading:

"I object to the rapidity by which House Bill No. 207 was rushed through the Committee."

The press has been complaining about the members of this Legislature dilly-dallying in matters of legislation, and in fairness to this Committee I wish to state that this bill was introduced on January 22nd, and was reported out of Committee just the day before yesterday.

Therefore, I do not feel that the members of the Public Utilities Committee should be censored for the action taken on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amend will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2, page 5, line 7, by inserting after the word "week" at the end of the line the following:

except from August fifteenth to October fifteenth of any year during which period there shall be no restriction of hours

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Amendment?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill No. 371 has been before the House for the last thirty days. We have all studied the bill and we have had a public hearing on it, and I feel that the amendment offered by Mr. Flinchbaugh should be voted down. I have consulted with Mr. Phillips of the State Federation of Labor and other heads, and they are against the further amendments to this bill. We have added three amendments since the bill has been recommitted, and the committee and the sub-committee have studied this bill very thoroughly, and with the amendments offered in the last meeting, I feel that the bill should go through on second reading as it is.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ever since there have been restrictions as to hours for female employes in Pennsylvania, the employes of the farms have been exempt, and legislators in the past realizing that the canning industry was so closely allied to the farming industry, that industry has also been exempt. This industry, ladies and gentlemen, is a comparatively new industry in the State of Pennsylvania, and it is peculiar in that it is found only in certain sections of the State of Pennsylvania. It is primarily, or was primarily a Maryland industry, and the canning industry today is found along the border states of the Mason-Dixon Line, in the county of Chester, the county of Lancaster, the county of York, Adams and Franklin, and also in the northwestern part of the state, in the county of Erie. These industries are peculiarly situated along bordering states. The State of Maryland has no restrictions whatsoever as to the hours of employment in canning factories, and the State of New York, which is considered a progressive state, a state that is advanced in labor legislation, has similar provisions to the provisions designated in this amendment.

The canning industry is an industry which has grown rapidly, and today every family practically, especially the families of meager incomes depend upon canned foods, because they are unable to buy the expensive fresh vegetables in the open market. We have no control over the ripening of the crops and when the crops ripen it is imperative that they be placed in the cans as rapidly as possible. The pea canning season, for instance, lasts only about ten days, and in those ten days millions of cans of peas are canned in the State of Pennsylvania, and twelve or twenty-four hours delay in the plucking and the canning is a decided disadvantage in the quality of the goods. The same is true of corn. You realize how different corn on the cob tastes when it is fresh plucked and one that has been on the market for a few days. We are aiming as an industry to get the best products to the people at the minimum cost.

The canning of tomatoes, for instance, is a great industry in Pennsylvania. Millions of cans of tomatoes are packed in this State, and they ripen very quickly, and I have seen thousands of bushels of tomatoes go to waste because in spite of all the efforts that the canners could put forth, they couldn't catch up to the crops as they came into the canning factories. There may be a season of wet weather, for instance, during the beginning of the week, and then the sun comes out. The tomatoes ripen rapidly and they come into the factory in such quantities that it is almost a physical impossibility to can them before they deteriorate. We have no control over the ripening of the crops, as I said a moment ago, and it is imperative that we get this product into the cans as quickly as possible. The prosperity, the happiness, the health and the well being of the people, especially those in the cities, depend upon an adequate supply of wholesome food supplied at a reasonable price, and for that reason, because of the fact that the canners operate in small communities, in little hamlets, out even on the farm, where it is difficult to get help, the suggestion has been made: "Why don't you get additional help?" We never know when the rush season will be on. We may be expecting very little fruit, and will be deluged with fruit, and we cannot go out into the open market, the labor market, and get a large quantity of labor in a short time, as it is a physical impossibility and we ask that this amendment be included in this bill, that you vote for this amendment in order that we can take care of these rapidly ripening crops. This is an industry which is bringing thousands of dollars to the farmers in these localities or communities where canneries are located. In those counties in which canning factories are located, we have had an exceptionally prosperous group, and in those groups very few, if any, of the farms have been placed on sale for taxes, because of the canneries located in those communities. In fact, a banker told me that usually they have very little trouble with the farmers who raise crops for the canning factories, because it is a cash product, it is a cash crop, out of which they can pay their mortgage interest and pay their taxes, and pay all their necessary expenses, and if you should curtail this industry, you would be striking a direct blow at one of the great industries of the State.

Gentlemen,I ask you to support this amendment and save a great industry and place us in a position where we can compete with our neighboring States who have more liberal legislation than is proposed in this bill in its present form.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state to the House what his occupation is?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I am a canner, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was originally introduced with no exceptions therein. At the present time I note that we have excepted from the provisions of this bill telephone operators, domestic help, all female help in the canning industry, executives, nurses, learned professions and court stenographers. Now, if we are going to permit additional exceptions to this bill, then I would say we may as well kill the bill entirely, because it would not be effective.

The gentleman from York has asked us to make certain exceptions in the canning industry between certain periods. I say that the amendment should be defeated, because if that amendment is included in the bill, then we may as well include all female help in service and lt the bill be ineffective entirely. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to vote down the amendments.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, those of you who have paid attention to the reading of this amendment will note that it specifically provides that for two months, from August 15th to October 15th there will be no limitation of the hours. In other words, as far as the law in this state will be concerned, if that amendment is put into the bill and the bill passes, then you can work women 18 hours a day if you can get them to work that long. Absolutely no restrictions whatever as to what the canning industry asks, and a lot of other industries that are asking the same thing. If I have read correctly the platforms, both the major political parties are pledged to a measure providing for a shorter working day and week for women. You are not doing that by putting an amendment like that into this measure. You will be lengthening them rather than shortening them. I hope that you will vote the amendment down.

I see that we have provided for the canners in this bill in a special section, providing that female employes in the canning of perishable fruits and vegetables shall not be permitted to work for any longer than ten hours in any one day, including any overtime as specified in sub-section (a) in lieu of the two hours a day. How much more do they want? Apparently they would like it unlimited. In fact that is what they are asking for.

As has been well said, if you are going to start amending this measure for every industry that thinks it should not come within its provisions, or thinks it will be inconvenienced thereby, or put to a slightly additional expense, why then, there is no use pretending to regulate the hours of women. You had better stop in the beginning. Let us either pass a real bill, or not pass any at all. The canning industry asks for special favors. They say that they employ almost entirely local labor. That may be true today. I certainly know that it has been the practice in the very recent past for them to import labor from the large cities and work entire families long hours at very low wages. I hope that you are not going to endorse that sort of tactics by putting this amendment into the bill. It was before the Committee on Labor for a matter of three weeks, and a sub-committee very craefully considered some thirty amendments that were proposed to it, and I repeat, if you are going to start chiseling a little off here, and a little there, when you get through, it won't be a women's forty hour a week bill. It will be a bill that will be of no use whatever. I, therefore, ask you to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. SPEAKER, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as has already been told you, this bill has been before the Committee on Labor for almost two months. It has been in sub-committee for three or four weeks. That committee has made a study of it. There was a public hearing held in this House to give everybody a chance to express their opinion, and we feel that with the public hearing that was held here that the bill as it is now, as amended, is a bill that should be put through this House and give to the workers of this State something that the major political party has promised to do. They have right in the platform that they were going to reduce the hours of women in industry, and now along come these amendments from the canners, not asking for restricted time, but for a period of two months, asking that an amendment be put through, not restricting the working hours of women—even twenty-four hours if they want to, with many, many hundreds of women walking the streets, idle, looking for work. The purpose of all legislation shortening the hours of labor is to put men and women to work, and not to work them fourteen and fifteen hours. I submit to you that the bill already provides that the canning industry can work their help two hours a day extra in peak periods, and I think that ten hours a day is plenty enough work for any woman in any industry, be it for a week or ten days, and I ask the members of the House to vote down the amendment.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I only want a minute, but I wish to say, Mr. Speaker, that I was the manager, a stockholder and president of a canning company for six years, and, therefore, I am not talking through my hat; I know what I have to tell you, and I know this, members of the House, that nearly every word that the gentleman from York has told you here is true. There are a few peculiar things about this canning industry that the gentlemen that are so seriously anxious about overtime of women do not understand. We work and pay the canners by the piece, and whatever extra time they put in, they get paid for it and paid well. It is also a very fluctuating business. Most of the vegetables are picked about twice a week, and on certain days the canning factory is flooded with those perishable vegetables needing attention, maybe the following day there is only a small pick or there isn't any, so that there is an interval between these forty hours almost every day. We pay good wages and we get good help, willing help, willing to put in all the hours we ask them to put in, and it isn't to be compared with these shops that work from Monday morning to Saturday evening. It is out in the country—every canning factory that I ever saw —and their employes are usually the men and women, girls and boys who come from the surrounding farming country, and I will tell you they are all used to putting in from ten to sixteen hours a day, and do not think anything of it. I want to corroborate everything that the gentleman from York has said, and he knows, because he operates a canning factory and, members of the House, when you get the words of the manager of a canning factory, he knows what he is talking about, and they should have more weight with you than simply those of politicians.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I fail to understand why the canning industry should have any special favors. We submitted to the canning industry and to the other members of the committee the proposition that women might work longer during the Christmas holiday rush in stores, and they said, "No; if they can't work at Christmas in stores, why then should they work in August and September and October all day long in canning factories. We asked the Committee to amend the bill so that women might work longer, for two weeks during the early part of the year to take an inventory. The canners did not approve of that. Now, I submit that is less laborious work than canning, and I ask you to vote "no" on this amendment.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREARY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what business the gentleman is in at the present time?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I am a farmer and hot-house man. I mean by that that I produce hot-house vegetables in the winter time—tomatoes and cucumbers.

I have got cucumbers that high now, (indicating) but we don't can them.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Erie a stockholder in any canning factories, or is he the owner of a canning factory?

Mr. McCREARY. Not now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Does the gentleman own any property which is in any way connected with a cannery?

Mr. McCREARY. Not a dollar's worth, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation has proceeded to a point where I think it is improper.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. MORAN. This bill, House Bill No. 371, has been in the hands of the Committee on Labor, I believe, for approximately two months. In that time we had a public hearing. We also had this bill in a sub-committee. We have had telegrams and letters from all sides. We have tried to be fair on this proposition, and now the canning industry wants a special privilege. So do all the other big manufacturers want special privileges, and if we were to grant them, instead of our working forty hours a week, they would have us working forty-eight hours a day. They forget about humanity. Big industry today has forgotten about humanity. It is a matter of dollars and cents with them, and they have no regard for human beings. I would say to the ladies and gentleman of the House to vote down these amendments if you want to help the common people, vote "no" on these amendments, and let us support this bill as it is. It is a liberal bill. If I had my way I would not let anybody work over thirty hours a week, but as this is the best we can do at the present time, I would say let us take what we have got, and later on try to get something better.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Caputo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAPUTO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Caputo, what effect this bill would have upon the hours of work, and how the hours of work would be determined in the case of a person such as my cook, who resides in my home and takes care of the baby?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to call attention to the fact that the amendments only are under discussion at the present time. The gentleman will confine himself to the amendments instead of the bill itself.

Mr. KANE. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker, is this the canners' amendment?

The SPEAKER. This is the canners' amendment.

Mr. KANE. I asked the wrong question, and I beg the Speaker's pardon. I also apologize to the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, in speaking on this amendment, this amendment dealing with employes in canneries.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Caputo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAPUTO. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Caputo, whether or not he is familiar with the fact that during the harvest season the farmers of Pennsylvania work from dawn to dusk, in order to get their crops harvested and ready to go to the canneries and to other persons who are going to put them in shape for the market? Are you familiar with that fact?

Mr. CAPUTO. I am from hearsay, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver whether or not he believes that preventing excess work, if you choose to call it that, on the part of the cannery employes during this rush season might not prevent the farmer from selling a large part of the crop which he has slaved so hard to produce; do you know that.

Mr. CAPUTO. I am not familiar with the fact, Mr. Speaker, and therefore I cannot answer the question.

Mr. KANE. Several times on this floor I have heard questions asked of persons as to their occupations, in a slighting manner, as if it might impeach their integrity. I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Speaker, whether or not in view of his answers he does not believe that the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, knows a great deal more about the conditions in the canning industry and what is good for the employes in that industry than the gentleman from Beaver does?

Mr. CAPUTO. I believe he does, Mr. Speaker. I haven't questioned that.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not a canner, nor do I own any stock in a canning factory. However, I feel that it is my duty to arise and defend the amendment which is now before us on behalf of the farmers in my own district. York County, as you all know, is one of the outstanding farming sections of the State of Pennsylvania. During the past fifteen years York County has become one of the leading farming sections, producing crops for canneries, and during that period of time I have seen hundreds of farmers dependent almost entirely upon the canning crop for their income. That has been especially true during the years of the depression. Practically one-fourth of the farm land in our section is devoted to some form of canning crop or other, and during the years of depression the farmers have received their return for their tomato crops, their bean crops, their sweet corn crops and their pea crops, while farmers engaged in other lines of farming have not been so fortunate. This business has grown up due to the fact that we have canning facilities in our county that will take care of the products that the farmer produces. All over the country we have tried to cut down the production in various fields of farm crops in order to help the farmer. Here we have a field where the farmer has been protected, where he has received a good return. If this bill does not permit the canners to take care of the crops that the farmer produces in the future, as they have done in the past, we will be retarding recovery by throwing the farmers in our section into other lines of the farming business, where they may not be so fortunate. I have seen thousands of bushels of tomatoes stacked up on the canning platforms, waiting for the canners to take them away and can them, if you please, and I have seen under present conditions under the Code bushels and bushels and bushels of tomatoes that have spoiled on the platform, because under present conditions they were unable to put them in the can, and the farmer was the man who lost, it was not the canner. If we cut the hours of labor in the canning factories still further, it will mean that there will be more bushels of tomatoes that will remain on the platform, and there is only one thing that the canner can do, and that is to ask the farmer to cut down his acreage or else keep some of that crop on the field.

I defy anyone in this room to give us a specific case of where there has been any question in our territory as to the hours of labor in which the women are employed. No one has said anything about the hours of labor. When they are employed for a longer period of time, it may be for a day or two. If you are going to restrict them to ten hours a day, it will simply mean that you are going to cut down the production in our territory, and I want to appeal to you, members of the House, not in the name of the canners, but in the name of the farmers in one of the most beautiful and most prosperous districts of the State of Pennsylvania that you support this amendment, which does not harm labor in any way. I went up and down my district and campaigned one hundred percent for labor, and I am just as much interested in labor as any member of this House, and if you think I want to ruin twenty-five percent of the business in my district, how could you expect me to support a proposition of this kind. I am speaking now of the bill—pardon me. I could not take any action in this House that would ruin a beautiful farming section. To substantiate what I have said, two years ago when farmers were being sold out left and right throughout the State of Pennsylvania, the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore made this statement, that York County was the only county in the State of Pennsylvania where there were no farms being taken by the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, and they also said at that time that they thought it was entirely due to the canning industry that had grown up and protected the farmer. I appeal to you to support us in York County and give us this amendment, which isn't going to hurt your labor bill in any way, shape or form.

I might add that we had another bill which affected the youth, and we put in an amendment which exempted newspapermen from the provisions of the bill to a certain extent, and there you had protests, and here you have none coming from our district. I see no reason why the members who come from districts that are not affected in any way should vote down this amendment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York what will prohibit under this Act the canners from working more than one shift.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, the thing that will prohibit the canners from working more than one shift is the fact that many of the canneries are located in sparsely settled communities; in fact in little hamlets, and all their available help is taken during the rush season, and it is practically impossible to work more than two shifts, because these peak periods don't occur more than ten days during the entire season, and it is very obvious that you could not go to the large cities and get help out there for a day or two at a time, because of the fact that you never know when help will be needed.

Answering the objection raised by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, the fact is that we formerly brought our help from the large cities. We are trying to get those employes from our own people, and not import help from Baltimore during the entire season.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, the help that they hire down in York, may I ask whether it is from this state, or whether it is from across the border?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, they are practically all from this state at the present. As I said a moment ago, formerly we got a lot of Polish help from Baltimore, but very few of the canners today have this help. And that is not only true of the industry in York county, but it is also true in Adams county, where I know the help is almost exclusively local help.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that any girl can stand back of one of those machines and work efficiently for longer than ten hours a day?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. They do, Mr. Speaker, and often times—I do not want to make any apologies for being in this business, because I think it is a legitimate and honorable business—any work is honorable—I have often said to the girls in my district, for instance, "We have worked long enough, and I presume you are tired. I will close for the day," and they have voluntarily said, "We want to work and clean up the goods we have on hand." We haven't had any labor trouble, I have never heard of any labor trouble in the entire canning industry. and we have today in the canning industry workers that are asking that they should be given this permission.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, if the proposed amendment of the gentleman does not have unrestricted hours, would it mean fifteen or eighteen hours per day, or did the gentleman have in mind any specified time in the amendment.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I had no specified time per day. It is very unusual to work over fifteen hours a day, and that probably only occurs one in six days during the entire season. I would be agreeable, if the sponsor of the bill is willing, to have the bill amended from unrestricted hours per day to restricting it to fifty-four hours per week, the same as domestic help.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, in fairness to Mr. Flinchbaugh and the other members of the House who are interested in this bill, I move that we postpone the second reading of this bill until Monday.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for and one hundred and nine members or more than a majority having voted in the majority the motion was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Cumberland County is operating under the special act of 1839, whereby the set-up of county offices is different from all other sixth class counties. In other sixth class counties we have combinations of Registers of Wills and Recorders of Deeds. This facilitates the process of using photo-static equipment in county offices.

I am asking that you support this bill so that Cumberland County may be placed in the same category as other sixth class counties in the use of this efficient set-up.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, life's pathway is winding and intricate, with many intersections which tend to confuse the traveler. That we be not led astray from the road leading to final consummation of our noblest desire, we need a Guide to help us in every time of perplexity to hear Thee say unto us "I will guide thee with mine eye."

Be Thou, O God, in every truth our Guide to lead us in the right way. Be Thou our defense to protect us from assailing enemies. Make us brave enough to face the dangers that may threaten as we journey on toward our ultimate destination and trustful enough to hold Thy hand when we are confused. At the end of our pilgrimage, may our hearts be cheered to hear falling from Thy lips this verdict: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful once in few things, I will make thee ruler over many things."

This we ask in behalf of this Senate to the honor of thy name. Amen.

RESOLUTION AMENDING SENATE RULE NO. 42

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of resolution amending Senate Rule No. 42, relative to discharging committees, reported from Committee on March 4th and postponed for the present.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 4, 1935.

Resolved, That Rule No. 42 of the Rules of the Senate of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Rule 42—No Committee shall be discharged from the consideration of a bill within five days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate."

be and the same is hereby repealed and the following adopted in its place:

"Rule 42—No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within 10 calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such 10 day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I again rise to object to the passage of this resolution. I think if we all refer to our Legislative Journal we will find it was charged on the floor of this Senate a week ago, by none other than our good friend and colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, that the passage of this resolution was a deliberate intent to make it impossible to bring the bill in connection with Constitutional Revision to the floor of this Senate. I take that suggestion from Mr. Woodward.

The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, is a member of the Committee on Constitutional Changes, and he certainly knows more about what is going on in that Committee, and what the attitude of the Committee is with respect to this bill, than most of the rest of us in this Senate.

Mr. President, this resolution is decidedly unfair to the Democratic members of the Senate. Let me rehearse, as I spoke on the floor of this Senate one week ago, that a similar rule was in effect in the lower House of the Legislature up until the Democrats organized that House this year. It required, under the old rules of the House of Representatives, a majority of the members of that House to bring a bill out of committee. In fairness to the Republican members of the lower House the Democratic majority in the lower House this year reduced the number required to bring a bill out of committee to a number within which the Republican members of the House, without any assistance from Democrats at all, might bring a bill out of committee on to the floor of that House.

Our good colleagues of this body did not see fit to reciprocate to that extent with us here, we still are laboring under the disability of having to have a majority of those present in order to bring a bill on to the floor of this Senate. Why should two-fifths of the membership of the Pennsylvania State Senate be deprived of the right to call up legislation for action? Not only this constitutional legislation but any other legislation that affects the welfare of the people of this State should come before this body and be voted on. Why should I fear to cast my ballot in favor of or against any matter that affects the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth? And the other members of this Senate should not hesitate to do the same thing.

Mr. President, there is no reason why a resolution of this kind, requiring a change in the rules of the Senate, should come before this body. We, as Democratic members of this Senate, should at least exercise some of the privileges that are exercised by our colleagues on the right; we should have some of the privileges, at least of a parliamentary nature, which they exercise; and I can see, Mr. President, that this rule is deliberately calculated to effect the stagnation of legislation in this State Senate. It is unfair, decidedly unfair, to two-fifths of the members of this State Senate. It is unfair to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a whole, because it is only calculated to prevent the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from knowing what a large part of the membership of this State Senate feel upon important legislation.

This change in the rules, that is proposed here tonight, or was proposed last week, and, by majority vote of this State Senate, was laid over, was deferred, was postponed, —this change of the rules may have been directed, as the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, said, to keep this Constitutional Changes Bill in committee, to keep the bill with reference to Constitutional Revision in committee; but there is other important legislation, besides the bill to revise the Constitution, that should be the subject of action on the part of this State Senate, and this amended rule not only, in all probability, will defeat the action on this bill for Constitutional Revision but will likewise defeat the consideration by this body of many other important phases of legislation.

Mr. President, I feel, with other members of this State Senate, that this bill is not fair to us; that it is not fair to the people of this State; and that its passage would certainly mark this body, the Senate of Pennsylvania, as a definitely reactionary body that does not want to act on legislation placed before them.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of information.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, most attorneys that are members of this body know that there is a constitutional inhibition against the passage of ex post facto law by this General Assembly. I would like to inquire from the sponsor of this resolution whether this resolution is intended to affect the bills that are already in the hands of committees, and whether this rule will apply to these bills.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I will state to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that it applies to all bills, and it is not intended to hamper the passage of any bills. Bills are considered in committee very thoroughly, and this resolution can do no harm to the minority. Unless they have twenty-six votes, to pass a bill, they cannot get it out of committee; and it will do them no good to get it out unless they have the twenty-six votes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the answer given to me is like the song which was popular some time ago, "Yes, we have no bananas!" The answer does not yet answer the question as to whether or not this resolution, like an ex post facto law, is intended to apply to bills already introduced in this Senate and now in the hands of committees. I would like a specific answer from the proponent of this resolution.

Mr. HOMSHER. It is not ex post facto, because the bills in committee are not laws—have not been acted upon.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I take it, then, from the answer of the proponent of this amendment to our rules that this amendment—this new rule—is intended to cover all bills that have already been introduced in this Senate and are now in the hands of committees; and, that being the fact, it is the most vicious, the most corrupt move made by any group of Senators or Representatives in any General Assembly in the United States of America. It is vicious and corrupt in its intent.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—29

Aron,	Gelder,	McClure,	Shapiro,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Norton,	Staudenmeier,
Bennett,	Harris,	Owlett,	Thompson,
Buckman,	Harvey,	Pierson,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Homsher,	Prince,	Trainer,
Clark,	Howell,	Reed,	Woodward,
Coyne,	Hunsicker,	(Dauphin)	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Mallery,	Salus,

Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Reed,	Rupp,
Frey,	McGinnis,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Kahle,	Miller,	Rice,	(Centre)
Lanius,	Pytko,	Roberts,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The PRESIDENT. The Resolution is therefore adopted, and the rule provided therein will become, under the law, one of the rules of the Senate.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. THOMPSON (Westmoreland) offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 11, 1935.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 18, 1935, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, March 18, 1935, at nine o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The Government of the United States is making preparation to carry on a Public Works Program throughout the different states of the United States, and

Whereas, there is now under consideration the location of the various projects to comprise such Public Works Program,

Now therefore be it Resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania that our public authorities, both national and state, administering the said program of Public Works, be requested by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to allocate as large a proportion as possible of the said Public Works Program, both with respect to the number of individual projects and with respect to the amount involved, among the different municipal subdivisions of the Commonwealth.

And be it further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be sent to Major Philip B. Fleming, Deputy Administrator of Public Works, Washington, D. C., Major William H. Gravell, State Engineer, Harrisburg, Pa., the Governor of the Commonwealth and the members of the State Planning Commission.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate considration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 141, as follows:

An Act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years assessed against any real estate shall be abated by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided and if the taxes due on such real estate for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five are paid at the time prescribed by law for the payment of taxes

In order to receive the benefits of this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and the final twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine

If any taxpayer availing himself of the provisions of this act shall fail to pay any instalment of taxes as hereinbefore provided for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years as hereinbefore provided then the penalties and interest due on such unpaid instalment or instalments shall not be abated

Any taxpayer may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and previous years and receive the benefit of this act.

This act shall be construed to apply to all taxes whether or not liens for such taxes have been returned for non payment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county

The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any grantee transferee mortgagee or other party in interest in the real estate against which the above mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 53, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act, approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 483), entitled "An act relating to practice in the courts of common pleas in actions of assumpsit and trespass, except actions for libel and slander; prescribing the pleadings and procedure to be observed therein; and giving the courts power to enforce its provisions," as amended, further regulating pleadings where a party to an action requires proof of the opposite party of facts which are under the exclusive control of the opposite party or the truth of which cannot be ascertained after reasonable investigation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 100, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the seventeenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 507), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities coextensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property, providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes," providing for taxation for county and city and county purposes of shares of stock of any bank, corporation, association, company or limited partnership which does not employ a substantial portion of its property in this Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill has to do with the four mills tax on personal property, and this is another attempt to get a little more money. There are certain foreign corporations that by establishing an office in Pennsylvania, and, by setting up some office furniture and paying a capital stock tax of a few dollars, release all the holders of their securities from paying the four mills tax on their personal holdings. This bill provides that a substantial portion of the property of such corporations shall be located in Pennsylvania, so that no longer shall the officers of these corporations enable their shareholders to escape this four mills tax.

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. REED (Dauphin) Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 198, on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the payment of certain moral claims of the Commonwealth.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met  That the sum of fourteen thousand and sixty-two dollars  is hereby specifically appropriated out of the Motor License Fund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of paying the claim or claims of any person or persons for expenditures made by such person or persons  on account of an accident to any person or persons caused by the negligence of employes of the Department of Highways ***."

I take it, from the reading of the bill, that the purpose of the bill is to appropriate this sum of money to take care of someone who has suffered an injury through the negligence of an employe of the Department of Highways. I question very much whether a bill of this kind is constitutional and I feel that it should have consideration of one of the Judiciary Committees of the Senate.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, this bill passed the Senate two sessions ago, I believe it was, and the House likewise. Photostatic copies of all the documents in the case are now in the possession of the Committee on Appropriations. It is a perfectly valid claim, arising out of gross negligence on the part of the Department of Highways. I wonder if the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, would be willing to place this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I have no objection. I will withdraw my motion, if it is possible to do so.

The President. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, withdraws his motion. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, withdraw his seconding of the motion?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I move that the further consideration of Senate Bill No. 198, on third reading, be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

PRAYER

The Reverend C. Harry Lefever, Pastor of McClay Street Church of God offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, we glorify Thee tonight because Thou doth hear the petitions of Thy people; because Thou hath heard in days gone by, when men called upon Thee and invoked Thy blessings upon their deliberations, so our God, we come to Thee tonight, Thou who understandeth all men, Thou who understandeth all nations and Thou who doth care for all people. We come to Thee to invoke Thy blessing upon this body, in whose hands are placed, in a physical sense, the destinies of Thy people. We would ask of Thee that wisdom from on high be given unto them, as they do begin the sessions of this night. Grant, our Father, that we might be willing as Thy people to submit to the rule of our God, for Thou didst give into the hands of one of old the laws of morality, by which Thy people are to be governed, and upon whose laws we bank our destiny, and from those laws men have received morals, to protect us from the evils of society, and to keep us safe.

Bless, we pray Thee tonight, especially this group; bless the Governor of this Commonwealth; bless the Speaker of this House; give him wisdom from on high. Bless those into whose hands have been given certain duties. Guide them by Thy great spirit and help Thy people in this Commonwealth to submit to the rule and authority that is handed down from this General Assembly. Bless, we pray Thee, all assembled here tonight, with whatever motive in mind. If there be those who have come in with sinister motives, grant, our Father, that Thy spirit of conviction may arrest them in their intentions, that goodness and righteousness and harmony might prevail. Bless all those that it may be to the glory of Thy name, and the salvation, temporal and spiritual, of Thy people.

These blessings, we ask in the name of Jesus, the Saviour of the world, and in His name we pray. Amen.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9:30 having arrived the Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1386 (Senate Bill No. 448), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill now before you, together with the four subsequent bills on special order of business tonight, represent the carrying into effect of a resolution that was passed last Monday night by this House and by the Senate in response to the Governor's address made before the General Assembly.

The purpose of these bills is to cause to be enacted into law that which you unanimously agreed you would do last Monday night under a resolution, if you will pardon my saying so,—introduced by myself and unanimously passed by this House.

I, therefore, ask the membership of this House to vote in favor of this bill as well as the other bills that follow in order that we can validate what we said we would validate last week.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
